

ANNOUNCEMENT!

Dancing at the Pavilion every Tuesday and Friday evenings. Ladies and Spectators Free—Dance Tickets 25c. Dancing from 8 to 11:15—Half hour car service. Arrange to have your picnic or dinner parties at the Pavilion, chairs, tables and stoves for your special use free of charge. Open every day during the summer season. Take the children for an outing, they will enjoy it.

Grand Rapids Street Railroad Co.

AUCTION!

—Having decided to enter into the raising of pure bred cattle exclusively, have decided to sell all my grade stock at public auction on Wednesday June 21, at 1 o'clock, at the Ingleswood farm three and one-half miles from Grand Rapids on the County road to Vesper. The cattle includes 13 head high grade Holstein and Guernsey, some fifteen-sixteenths and better, all bred to my pure bred herd bull Peter Colantha Peterhouse; three registered bull calves, a ready for service. If wet the sale will be held under cover. Cash or bankable notes for 4 months at 7 per cent. Col. Haniel, Auctioneer; Claus Johnson, Clerk.

Wm. Crossland, Prop.

Atty John Roberts was in Stevens Point on Sunday where he sang two solos at the Presbyterian church, at a sacred concert which was arranged by Mrs. Guy Nash.

BANKERS AT THE POINT

Among the bankers of this city who went to Stevens Point last Thursday to attend the meeting of the Ninth Councillor district session were V. M. Pease, A. G. Miller, F. J. Wood, W. G. Fisher, and E. B. Redford. Sessions were held during the day and a banquet was the order of exercises in the evening. Several of the visitors from here returned during the evening, and as a heavy rain was falling all the time, the trip was anything but pleasant, although nobody got wet.

CLEANED UP MOSINEE

The local ball players went to Mosinee on Sunday where they handed in river invoices a package to the extent of 5 to 9. There was no time when the Mosinee bunch had a look in, and it was all one sided from start to finish.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office

RURAL EXERCISES WILL BE HELD HERE

The following circular from County Superintendent Geo. A. Varney tells of the change in the Rural School exercises, which will be held in this city this year instead of partly at Marshfield as was at first intended. The matter should be read by everybody who has anything to do with the rural school graduation and is as follows:

Circumstances have arisen which make it necessary for us to change all arrangements previously made and announced for the Common School Diploma graduation exercises to be held in Wood County, Wisconsin, this year. Those exercises will be held in Grand Rapids at the Wood County Normal on Wednesday, June 14th, for the entire county. We sincerely hope that every boy and girl that has been awarded a diploma will be present at those exercises together with your parents and friends. Grand Rapids will take care of you all that day and get you safely back to your homes in the evening.

The graduates will assemble at the Wood County Normal at 11 o'clock to be registered, to receive their Wood County buttons and badges. Those who live in the north end of the county may come either on the Soo train that leaves Marshfield at 7:25 A. M., or on the Northwestern train that leaves Marshfield at 12:30 P. M. Boys and girls will be met at both trains with automobiles and taken to the Wood County Normal building. The graduates who come on the noon train will immediately report to the County Superintendent and receive their Wood County buttons and badges before the exercises begin.

The exercises proper will start at 1:30 P. M. and will consist of plenty of time for graduates to make the 3:55 train on the Soo Line. Transportation will be furnished the young people from the Training School to the depot.

Let everybody come that can and remember that this will be made a happy day for you. Of course, if any graduate cannot attend these exercises, his or her diploma will be forwarded by mail together with the Wood County button, but we hope there will be very few absent graduates, as parents should remember that this is one of the happiest days that the children will ever see and that it will pay them to make a little sacrifice in order to allow the children to attend these exercises.

Our motto this year is "Value Received" and this means, boys and girls, that you are going to give back to the world just a little more than you receive from it. A life of useful service is one great proof that you are a worthy graduate of Wood County schools.

The graduation exercises will take place during the Institute, and every teacher in Wood County will be present.

The program is as follows: 1-15 Picture taking. Music, "America." Music, by Wood County Normal girls. Address by Supt. Geo. W. Davies of Sauk County. Song, "Keep in the Sunny Side," by graduates. Presentation of Diplomas, by Supt. Geo. A. Varney. "Wood County Song," by teachers and graduates. Announcement of the winners of the different contests.

There will be an exhibit of all entries in the different contests announced in the April and May Bulletin, and the prize winners in these contests will be announced at the close of the program. Teachers are requested to bring the exhibits for the contests with them to the Institute. Once more, urging all the graduates and their parents and friends and all others interested in the schools of Wood County to attend these exercises, I am

Yours truly,
Geo. A. Varney,
County Superintendent

SUBSCRIBERS TAKE NOTICE

A great many subscribers of newspapers and periodicals do not seem to understand the law governing subscriptions. Below are printed the decisions of the supreme court on the subject:

1. If subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.

2. If subscribers offer a discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all dues are paid.

3. If subscribers continue to take their periodicals from the post office or postman as directed to his address he is responsible until he has settled the bill and ordered his paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to another place without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, the subscriber is held responsible.

5. The courts have held that refusing to take periodicals from the postoffice, postman, or removing and leaving them uncollected for is prima facie evidence of intention to discontinue.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the term if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be held responsible until express notice with payment of all arrears is sent to the publisher.

FIRST MORAVIAN CHURCH OF KELLER

Next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock Rev. C. A. Mellick will give an illustrated lecture on Labrador. The slides used were prepared by Dr. Hutton, F. R. G. S., himself and are especially fine. Everybody welcome.

Next Sunday preaching service will begin at 2:30 o'clock instead of 3:00 P. M.

SKAT TOURNAMENT.

The first tournament of the Central Wisconsin Skat League will be held at Marshfield, near Sunday. There will be an afternoon and evening session, each of eight hands. The entrance fee is $2.00 and the first prize will be $100, with 21 prizes in all.

FIRST MORAVIAN CHURCH

Next Sunday morning Sunday school begins at 9:15 and the regular preaching service at 10:00 o'clock.

Wesley Eberhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhardt, now has a good position with the Jeffrey Auto Co. in their plant at Kenosha.

LAKE BIRON CLUB HOUSE ON LAKE BIRON

Next Saturday afternoon at the Lake Biron Club there will be a picnic by automobilists and Boat Club members, and those of our citizens who are interested in an outing of this sort should make it a point to be on hand.

Messrs. T. A. Taylor and Chas. W. Rood are the chief instigators of the affair, and in consequence of this fact it should be a howling success. It will be a basket picnic, and those who want to attend should bring their food with them, also a cup and what eating utensils they need, and coffee and ice cream will be served free of charge by those having charge of the affair.

Mr. Taylor has fixed himself up a nice summer home on the island, and right along side of him Mr. Rood has taken up a piece of property and intends to make some improvements so that he can occupy the place during the summer months, or a part of them. The island at this point has been cleared of underbrush, and a tennis court is in the course of construction, a swing erected and other attractions are close at hand, and it is for the purpose of showing those who might be interested in such an outing place that the picnic is being given.

This long island is more than three hundred acres in extent, and there is no danger of people being crowded thereon at the present time. The entire island, or a large portion of it is high and dry even during the highest water we have in the river, and it is an ideal spot for a cottage or tent in which to spend a few days or longer during the outing season.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a large number of boats in attendance so that people who wish to attend will have no trouble in getting onto the island. The only request that is made is that the children be left home on this occasion, as it will not be possible to take care of the little ones.

People who have visited the island since Mr. Taylor made his start there are enthusiastic concerning the possibilities of the place and are of the opinion that the people of Grand Rapids will also see the natural beauties of the place and the possibilities when once they have a chance to look them over.

Supper will be served as near 5 o'clock on Saturday as possible, and people who go over are requested to be on hand a little before that time, and can come as long before as they care to.

ROAD GRADING APPLIED TO COUNTRY ROADS.

(By L. Amundson—C. H. C.) As my experience in road building has all been during modern traffic and what is called the motor age, it should not surprise anyone when I say that I have never been in favor of macadam roads, and have from the first continually recommended grading, drainage and permanent culverts.

When I say drain the roads, I don't just mean the side ditches, because a thoroughly drained road must first have good side ditches, second, and just as important to a good road as the first, is to keep the water going off of the road into these ditches by keeping the road crowned with the greatest road draining machine ever invented for a graded road called the ROAD DRAG.

The road drag should be started as soon as the road is graded after the first rain before the road gets too dry and from one to three trips should be made over the road after every rain. The third stage in draining a road is practiced least of all, probably on account of not thoroughly understanding and that it is a special road problem but not necessarily complicated nor hard to take care of and is the doctoring of these springs or heaving spots which are nearly always found in cuts, sand hills, and even on top of ridges and hills, but never found on a fill in the road.

The power is not given us of seeing the under-ground formation, the direction and the depth of water seepage (unless to those who know how to use the witch hazel) and when the water seeps thru the soil under our roads and our roads having less protection from freezing, freeze to a greater depth and seal up these little water veins, and while seepage continues till the road heaving starts and continues until water and cold can raise the road no more. When warm weather comes, the under-ground cake of ice will melt on top first. The outlet is probably the last thing to thaw out and consequently, we have a layer of earth laying on the top of the water, forming a very spongy road surface and continued getting worse until the warm weather or allows nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these bad places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safer and cheaper to let the freezing weather develop these places and afterwards proceed to drain them by digging a trench down the center thru these springy places about eighteen inches wide and not less than three and one-half feet deep to an outlet or side ditch and fill the same within a foot of the top with small stones. (Drain tile may also be used, where stones are scarce.)

Nothing but deep drainage or filling these springy places with field rock of a thickness sufficient to support the traffic will be found adequate.

The draining and grading up of our roads in clay soil should serve several purposes.

FIRST—It gives the road bed a chance to settle and deep weak spots which cannot be detected on a new or changed road.

SECOND—By grading, more mileage can be built, more people served within a short time with a good earth road.

THIRD—We can be developing practical knowledge from the surfaced roads now being built, good, bad and indifferent, though the intention is to build them right.

FOURTH—As nearly everybody in Wood County knows we have tried all the different kinds of turn-pike grades from the under-water and mud, corduroy, field rock, and in the middle of the road to the perfectly drained and graded road and even such as the road in Wood County known as the Trunk Line, extending from Grand Rapids to Marshfield via Pittsville, so we feel that when it comes to grading and using the pike, we have tried them all and know how to build them.

(To be continued)

AT HIS OLD TRICKS

H. A. Kolls and Prof. F. L. Bliss went out to Lake Peshigo Saturday to do some work on the former's cottage. They worked a while, but the fishing temptation got the best of the professor and he took his pole and line and sat down on the dock. He had just been there a few minutes when something grabbed his bait. For a while Mr. Bliss thought he had a whale.

He made an attempt to land the fish and had him right up to the dock. The monster on the end of the line was a big pickerel and Mr. Bliss found he was unable to land him with the light line he had and called for Mr. Kolls' assistance. Harry came running with the gaff hook and the excellent started.

Every time he made a jab with the hook the pickerel would send a spray of water over the fishermen. Mr. Kolls would wipe out his eyes and nose. They worked a while, but he made another attempt to spear the fish. After about half an hour he managed to drive the hook into it and it was brought to shore.

The fish has been on exhibit in the Model Clothing House window and yesterday many people stopped to see it.—Merrill Herald.

TWO YEAR SENTENCE

Wm. Plummer, who was arrested at Marshfield for passing a worthless express order, at the request of the Portage County authorities, was subsequently sentenced to serve two years in the state prison for his misdemeanor.

Plummer is also the man who is alleged to have stolen the horse and buggy from the Chambers livery stable in this city.

STAHL-SCHMELING.

Miss Mollie Stahl of this city and Mr. Frank Schmeling of Wausau were married Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the parsonage of St. Peter and Paul church, Rev. Father Rodig officiating. The ceremony was attended by Miss Stella Schmeling, sister of the groom and Mr. Theodore Wilke.

After the ceremony the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties were served a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's father and the young people left on the noon train for Milwaukee and Chicago where they will spend their honeymoon, after which they will go to Wausau to make their home.

Both of the contracting parties are well and favorably known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Frank Stahl, and has lived in this city practically all her life, and is a young lady who is highly respected by all and who has a host of friends here. The groom formerly resided here, but for a number of years past has been located at Wausau and is a young man of good habits and of industrious disposition. The Tribune unites with their many friends in extending the heartiest of congratulations and wishing them a long life of happiness.

Among the out-of-town guests in attendance at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Morse of Stevens Point, Miss Leola Schmeling, Miss Stella Schmeling and Edward Schmeling of Wausau, Mr. and Mrs. Solie of Wausau and Laurie Morse of Chicago.

WON THE MONEY.

A. E. Weatherwax won the $25.00 offered by the Abel-Mullen Company for a slogan which would be suitable and appropriate for their business. The slogan submitted by Mr. Weatherwax was "Get to Know."

DOES GRAND RAPIDS WANT DIXIE ROAD

It does. Anyway, we might as well take it, and then decide afterward whether we want it or not. Highways are all the go just now, and it seems that the Dixie Highway is one that has been talked of to a considerable extent, but which as yet is in the embryo state. It is to start at Miami, Florida, and run in a northerly direction and ends somewhere in Canada, and the indications at the present time are that it will run thru Wisconsin from end to end.

E. P. Arpin recently received a letter from a Chicago real estate man of considerable prominence who wanted to know if the people of Grand Rapids wanted this highway to run thru their city, and if they did that it would be a good thing to get busy and do a little boosting for the proposition.

There is no question but what Grand Rapids people will do anything in reason to help the matter along, and it is also evident to everybody that we have the best natural roads to offer for a course of this sort, and not only this, the county is rapidly developing the road between this city and Marshfield, which when completed will be more than thirty miles that will be passable at all times of the year. While this will be only a small portion of the way, it is undoubtedly a longer stretch than can be found in most counties that a road will pass thru. The following letter will give some idea of what it is proposed to do in building this highway:

Chicago, May 8, 1916.

To the Editor of the Post.

Sir:—Do the automobile clubs, does the United States, or the world at large, know what is in store for them in what we call the Quebec Forest Road in Canada, and the Superior National Forest Reserve in Minnesota. Minnesota has reserved about 1,500,000 acres of the northern part of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, and the Province of Ontario in the Dominion of Canada has set apart 2,500,000 acres. These reservations join each other on either side of the St. Lawrence River and east of the Lake of the Woods, creating probably the largest body of land in this country for future parks. Hence we have the name of Four Million Acres Park, to be made out of the Quebec Provincial Park in Canada and the Superior National Forest Reserve in Minnesota. Probably the largest in the world.

It is now alive with fish and game. A veritable paradise for sportsmen and out-door camping parties. About 100 miles north of Superior-Duluth and will be reached very soon by the Dixie Highway. Said Highway will go via Milwaukee and Madison to Superior-Duluth; then over the Mesabi Range, with its trillions of tons of iron ore, to these incomparable camping grounds. A cement highway ought to be built as soon as possible thru the state of Wisconsin for the benefit of automobilists, who will soon be flocking there. Large stretches of natural roads are now fairly good in certain seasons and cement ought to supply the intervening spaces.

Chicago cannot forget she was once in the state of terror in Wisconsin (see enabling act of 1818) and fondly hopes that the Badger state will hurry up this road as a continuation of the Dixie Highway, which come from Miami, Fla., via Danville Ill.

Nelson Thomason,

(Letter in Chicago Economist on May 6)

Monthly Stock Fair

—The next monthly stock fair will be held on the West Side Market Square, Tuesday, June 13th. There is a good demand for small pigs and milk cows; bring in what you have.

There is a good demand for a number of horses at reasonable prices and the Reiland Packing Company will buy anything fit to kill in the line of meat. Inquiries are being made for chickens and anyone having any for sale would do well to bring them in.

Johnson & Hill Co. will give a dress to the lady bringing in the most eggs.

The F. MacKinnon Company will have some of their famous wagons on condition that they are shipping to California.

Don't forget your supplies for the Grand Rapids Brewing Co. The Brewery will give a keg of beer to the farmer bringing in the most empties. Farmers having cattle, horses or furniture to sell should call on John Bell, Sr., who will furnish a competent auctioneer reasonable.

City people are also invited to bring goods onto the market to offer at auction.

John Bell, Mgr.

"THRIFT TALK" APPEARS IN NEW COVER

"Thrift Talk" for June, the little monthly magazine published by the First National Bank of this city, and carrying each month its lesson of thrift to hundreds of readers, appears in a new cover dress of green and gold. Within the pages will be found many short articles of more than passing interest. "Luxury and Extravagance" presents some interesting figures and conveys information of unusual character. "You and Your Bank Account" is educational and gives the reader a better view of his relationship to his banker.

A story of particular interest is that of two men, the "good fellow" and the "wise fellow." The picture is true to life—we all know them. "What Do You Want With Your Copper Junk?" gives the "Foundation of Dimes" shows the wonderful success attained by those who cater to the five and ten-cent trade.

"Thrift Talk" is worth reading and copies may be obtained free by calling at the bank.

Scandinavian Moravian Church

The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday, June 8th, at the home of Mrs. Matt Olson on Elm St. Miss Mathilde Sundet will be the hostess to the Willing Workers on Thursday evening. Services next Sunday morning will be held in the Scandinavian language.

Aylward Schnabel is visiting with his grand parents at Neenah.

FOR THIS WEEK

We have tuned up the whole store to meet the demands of men and young men who insist on getting the most their money can buy.

We're looking for the fellow who is supercritical, who knows good clothes when he sees them and refuses to purchase anything anywhere that isn't guaranteed to satisfy him absolutely.

To carry out this program we offer clothing from a house with a nation-wide reputation for superiority. Superiority of style, fabric, tailoring, fit and finish, second to none.

Kuppenheimer Clothes

$20, $25, $30 and $35

Fine Suits at $15

There are, we know, a host of men and young men who do not care to spend more than $15 for their suits. To them we offer the finest suits at $15 ever show in Grand Rapids. We do not claim them to be $18 or $20 values. We don't sell them on a bargain basis.

We just ask you to see them and compare them with the usual run of clothes at this price to convince yourself that a "Kruger & Turbin Fifteen" is some suit for the money.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

Men's Shirts

Summer Shirts all of madras woven mercerized fabrics and other splendid shirting materials in an extraordinary variety of new designs and colors which will appeal in a gratifying way to men of discrimination, and the way every shirt is cut and made, the way it is finish in every detail places emphasis upon this as a notable occasion in the selling of Men's shirts.

With soft and starched cuffs, all sizes

from 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 to $3.50

The weather man says warmer, so we say

Straw Hats

The assortment of styles is so exceptional that no pen can do justice to them. There are soft straws, splits, senitis, China braids and Porto Ricans. You never saw such values, a snap for every man and young man.

Prices.....50c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 to $5.00

Men's Night Shirts

With or without collar.....50c to $1.00
Men's Pajamas.....$1.00 to $2.50

Men's Hose

Men's cotton hose, black and tan.....10c to 15c
Men's fiber silk hose, black, white, tan, navy blue and gray
Price per pair.....25c
Men's full fashioned silk hose, black, white, tan, navy blue and gray, pair.....50c

Summer Underwear

Men's Union Suits, all sizes from 34 to 50

A new feature that you'll like

Yes a new feature, but not a freak—the most sensible improvement ever.

A strip of fine elastic fabric over the knee. Keeps trousers off the bare knees and keeps trousers clean and free from perspiration. We know you'll like this new Lewis Union Suit and want you to come in and look it over.

Prices $1.00 and $1.50

You can buy a knitted Lewis in no sleeves knee length, quarter sleeves three-quarter inseam, quarter sleeves ankle length and regular long sleeves ankle length, prices $1.00, $1.50, $2.00

B. V. D. Union Suits.....$1.00
Cut out undershirts knee length drawers, each.....50c
Porsknit, no sleeve knee length, short sleeve ankle length, price.....$1.00

Mens Balbrigan Shirts and Drawers.....25c and 50c

For the little fellows we have the same style and same good material and careful finish as the grown up men wear

Athletic Suits.....50c

Porsknit Union Suits.....50c

Lewis Knit Union Suits.....50c and 75c

Men's Silk Neckwear

A rich quality, full assortment open end, four-in-hands of the highest type, made from beautiful neckwear silks. Call and look them over. Price.....25c, 50c and $1.00

No matter what it is we have the correct thing and take much care selling you so that you'll be absolutely satisfied.

KRUGER &amp; TURBIN CO.

"The Home of Better Clothes"

ANNOUNCEMENT!

Dancing at the Pavilion every Tuesday and Friday evenings. Ladies and Spectators Free—Dance Tickets 25c. Dancing from 8 to 11:15—Half hour car service. Arrange to have your picnic or dinner parties at the Pavilion, chairs, tables and stoves for your special use free of charge. Open every day during the summer season. Take the children for an outing, they will enjoy it.

Grand Rapids Street Railroad Co.

AUCTION!

Having decided to enter into the raising of pure bred cattle exclusively, I have decided to sell all my grade stock at public auction on Wednesday June 21, at 1 o'clock, at the Ingleswood farm three and one-half miles from Grand Rapids on the County road to Vesper. The cattle includes 13 head high grade Holstein and Guernseys, some fifteen-sixteenths and better, all bred by my Pure Bred herd bull Peter Colantha Peterbous; three registered bull calves, 1 ready for service. If wet the sale will be held under cover. Cash or bankable notes for 4 months at 7 per cent. Col. Daniel, Auctioneer; Claus Johnson, Clerk.

Wm. Crossland, Prop.

Atty. John Roberts was in Stevens Point on Sunday where he sang two solos at the Presbyterian church, at a sacred concert which was arranged by Mrs. Guy Nash.

BANKERS AT THE POINT

Among the bankers of this city who went to Stevens Point last Thursday to attend the meeting of the Ninth Council district session were E. M. Pease, A. G. Miller, P. J. Wood, W. G. Fisher, and E. B. Redford. Sessions were held during the day and a banquet was the order of exercises in the evening. Several of the visitors from here returned during the evening, and as a heavy rain was falling all the time, the trip was anything but pleasant, although nobody got wet.

CLEANED UP MOSINEE

The local ball players went to Mosinee on Sunday where they handled 10 up-river invincibles a package to the extent of 5 to 0. There was no time when the Mosinee bunch had a lookin, and it was all one sided from start to finish.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office

RURAL EXERCISES WILL BE HELD HERE

The following circular from County Superintendent Geo. A. Varney tells of the change in the Rural School exercises, which will be held in this city this year instead of partly at Marshfield as was at first intended. The matter should be read by everybody who has anything to do with the rural school graduation and is as follows:

Circumstances have arisen which make it necessary for us to change all arrangements previously made and announced for the Common School Diploma graduation exercises to be held in Wood County, Wisconsin, this year. These exercises will be held in Grand Rapids at the Wood County Normal, on Wednesday, June 14th, for the entire county. We sincerely hope that every boy and girl that has been awarded a diploma will be present at these exercises together with your parents and friends. Grand Rapids will take care of you all that day and get you safely back to your train in the evening.

The graduates will assemble at the Wood County Normal at 11:00 o'clock to be registered, to receive their Wood County buttons and badges. Those who live in the north end of the county may come either on the Soo train that leaves Marshfield at 7:25 A. M., or on the Northwestern train that leaves Marshfield at 12:00 M. Boys and girls will be met at both trains with automobiles and taken to the Wood County Normal building. The graduates who come on the noon train will immediately report to the County Superintendent and receive their Wood County buttons and badges before the exercises begin.

The exercises proper will start at 1:30 P. M. and close in plenty of time for graduates to make the 3:55 train on the Soo line. Transporta tion will be furnished the young people from the Training School to the depot.

Let everybody come that can and remember that this will be made a happy day for you. Of course, the graduates cannot attend these exercises, his or her diploma will be forwarded by mail together with the Wood County button, but we hope there will be very few absent graduates. As parents should remember that this is one of the happiest days that the children will ever see and that it will pay them to make a little sacrifice in order to allow the children to attend these exercises.

Our motto this year is "Value Received" and this means, boys and girls, that you are going to give back to the world just a little more than you receive from it. A life of useful service is one great proof that you are a worthy graduate of Wood County schools.

The graduation exercises will take place during the Institute, and every teacher in Wood County will be present.

The program is as follows: 1:15 Picture taking. 1:30 Music, by Wood County Normal girls. Address, by Supt. Geo. W. Davies of Sauk County.

Song, "Keep in the Sunny Side," by graduates.

Presentation of Diplomas, by Supt. Geo. A. Varney.

"Wood County Song," by teachers and graduates.

Announcement of the winners of the different contests.

There will be an exhibit of all entries in the different contests announced in the April and May Bulletin and the prize winners in these contests will be announced at the close of the program. Teachers are requested to bring the exhibits for the contests with them to the Institute.

Once more, urging all the graduates and their parents and friends and all others interested in the schools of Wood County to attend these exercises. I am

Yours truly,
Geo. A. Varney,
County Superintendent

SUBSCRIBERS TAKE NOTICE

A great many subscribers of newspapers and periodicals do not seem to understand the law governing subscriptions. Below are printed the decisions of the supreme court on the subject:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice of cancellation are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.

2. If subscribers offer a discontinuance of their periodicals, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers continue to take the periodical from the post office or postman as directed to his address he is responsible until he has settled the bill and ordered his paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to another place without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, the subscriber is held responsible.

5. Courts have held that refusing to take periodicals from the postoffice, postman, or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intention to discontinue.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be held responsible until express notice with payment of all arrears is sent to the publisher.

First Moravian Church of Kellner

Next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock Rev. C. A. Meilcke will give an illustrated lecture on Labrador.

The slides used were prepared by Dr. Hutton, F. R. G. S., himself and are especially fine. Everybody welcome.

Next Sunday preaching service will begin at 2:30 o'clock instead of 3:00 P. M.

SKAT TOURNAMENT.

The first tournament of the Central Wisconsin Skat League will be held at Marshfield next Sunday.

There will be an afternoon and evening session, each of eight hands. The entrance fee is $2.00 and the first prize will be $100, with 21 prizes in all.

FIRST MORAVIAN CHURCH

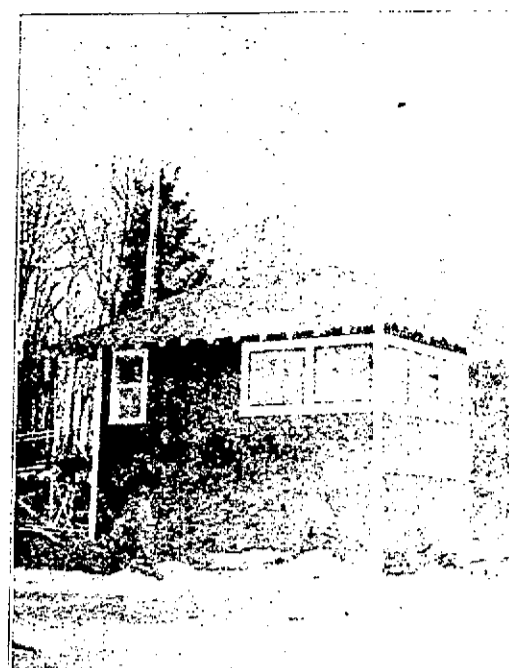

Next Sunday morning Sunday school begins at 9:15 and the regular preaching service at 10:00 o'clock.

Wesley Eberhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Eberhardt, now has a good position with the Jeffrey Auto Co. in their plant at Kenosha.

Wm. Plummer, who was arrested at Marshfield for passing a worthless express order, at the request of the Portage County authorities, was subsequently sentenced to serve two years in the state prison for his misdemeanor.

Plummer is also the man who is alleged to have stolen the horse and buggy from the Chambers livery stable in this city.

A. E. Weatherwax won the $25.00 offered by the Abel-Mullen Company for a slogan which would be suitable and appropriate for their business. The slogan submitted by Mr. Weatherwax was "Get to Know".

LAKE BIRON CLUB HOUSE ON LAKE BIRON

Next Saturday afternoon at the Lake Biron Club there will be a picnic by automobilists and Boat Club members, and those of our citizens who are interested in an outing of this sort should make it a point to be on hand.

Messrs. T. A. Taylor and Chas. W. Hood are the chief instigators of the affair, and in consequence of this fact it should be a howling success. It will be a basket picnic, and those who want to attend should bring their food with them, also a cup and what eating utensils they need, and coffee and ice cream will be served free of charge by those having charge of the affair.

Mr. Taylor has fixed himself up a nice summer home on the island, and right along side of him Mr. Hood has taken up a piece of property and intends to make some improvements so that he can occupy the place during the summer months, or a part of them.

The island at this point has been cleared of underbrush, and a tennis court is in the course of construction, a swing erected and other amusements are close at hand, and it is for the purpose of showing those who might be interested in such an outing place that the picnic is being given.

Such a day will be served as near 5 o'clock on Saturday as possible, and people who go over are requested to be on hand a little before that time, and can come as late before as they care to.

People who have visited the island since Mr. Taylor made his start there are enthusiastic concerning the possibilities of the place, and any of the opinion that the people of Grand Rapids will also see the natural beauties of the place and the possibilities when once they have a chance to look them over.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

The number of these had places are regulated by shallow or deep freezing of road bed, so it is safe and cheaper to let the freezing weather allow nature to take care of this underground water seepage.

DOES GRAND RAPIDS
WANT DIXIE ROAD

It does. Anyway, we might as well take it, and then decide afterward whether we want it or not.

Highways are all the go just now, and it seems that the Dixie Highway is one that has been talked of to a considerable extent, but which as yet is in the embryonic state. It is to start at Miami, Florida, and run in a northwesterly direction and end somewhere in Canada, and the point is that it will run through Wisconsin from end to end.

E. P. Arner recently received a letter from a Chicago real estate man of considerable prominence who stated to know of the people of Grand Rapids wanted this highway to run through their city, and if they did that it would be a good thing to get busy and do a little hustling for the proposition.

There is no question but what Grand Rapids people will do anything in reason to help the matter along, and it is also evident to everybody that we have the best natural roads to offer for a course of this sort, and not only this, the county is rapidly developing the road between this city and Marshfield, which when completed will be more than thirty miles that will be passable at all times of the year. While this is only a small portion of the way, it is undoubtedly a longer stretch than can be found in most counties that the road will pass thru. The following letter will give some idea of what it is proposed to do in building this highway:

Chicago, May 8, 1916.
To the Editor of the Post.

Sir: Do the automobile clubs, the United States, or the world at large know what I am going for when I call the Quebec Forest Reserve in Canada, and the Superior National Forest Reserve in Minnesota, Minnesota has received about 1,000,000 acres of the north end of St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties, and the Province of Ontario in the Dominion of Canada has set apart 2,500,000 acres. These reservations join each other on either side of the Raiting River and the Superior National Forest Reserve in Minnesota, making probably the largest body of land in this country for future parks. Hence we have the name of Four Million Acres Park, to be made out of the Quebec Provincial Park in Canada and the Superior National Forest Reserve in Minnesota. Probably the largest in the world.

It is now alive with fish and game. A veritable paradise for sportsmen and outdoor enthusiasts. About 100 miles north of Superior Duluth and will be reached very soon by the Dixie Highway. Said Highway will go via Milwaukee and Madison to Superior Duluth, then over the Wisconsin River, with its millions of acres of iron ore, to these incomparable camping grounds. A cement highway ought to be built as soon as possible thru the state of Wisconsin for the benefit of automobilists, who will soon be flocking to these stretches of natural roads are now fairly good in certain seasons and cement ought to supply the intervening spaces.

Chicago cannot forget she was once in the state of North Dakota, cousin (see enabling act of 1818) and fondly hopes that the Badger state will hurry up this road as a continuation of the Dixie Highway, which came from Miami, Fla., via Danville Ill.

Nelson Thompsonson.
(Letter in Chicago Economist on May 6.)

Monthly Stock Fair

The next monthly stock fair will be held on the West Side Market Square, Tuesday, June 12th. There is a good demand for small pigs and milk cows; bring in what you have.

There is a good demand for a number of horses at reasonable prices, and the old-time Packing Company will buy anything fit to kill in the line of meat. Inquiries are being made for chickens and anyone having any for sale would do well to bring them in.

Johnson & Hill Co. will give a dress to the lady bringing in the most eggs.

The F. MacKinnon Company will have some of their famous wagons on exhibition that they are shipping to California.

Don't forget your supplies for the Grand Rapids Brewing Co. The Brewery will give a keg of beer to the farmer bringing in the most empties.

Farmers having cattle, horses or furniture to sell, call on John Bell, Sr., who will furnish a competent auctioneer reasonable.

City people are also invited to bring goods onto the market to offer at auction.

John Bell, Mgr.

"THRIFT TALK" AP-PEARS IN NEW COVER

"Thrifty Talk" for June, the little monthly magazine published by the First National Bank, of this city, and carrying each month its lesson of thrift to hundreds of readers, appears in a new cover dress of green and gold. Within the pages will be found many short articles of more than passing interest. "Luxury and Extravagance" presents some interesting figures and conveys information of unusual character. "You and Your Bank Account" is educational and gives the reader a better view of his relationship to his banker.

A story of particular interest is that of two men, the "good fellow" and the "wise fellow." The picture is true to life—we all know them. "What To Do With Your Copper Junk" gives the penny an increased value while a "Foundation of Dimes" shows the wonderful success attained by those who enter to the five and ten-cent trade.

"Thrifty Talk" is worth reading and copies may be obtained free by calling on the bank.

Scandinavian Moravian Church

The Ladies Aid Society will meet on Thursday, June 8th, at the home of Mrs. Matt Oleson on Elm St. Miss Mathilda Sundel will be the hostess to the Willing Workers on Thursday evening. Services next Sunday morning will be held in the Scandinavian language.

Aylward Schnabel is visiting with his grand parents at Neenah.

FOR THIS WEEK

We have tuned up the whole store to meet the demands of men and young men who insist on getting the most their money can buy.

We're looking for the fellow who is supercritical, who knows good clothes when he sees them and refuses to purchase anything anywhere that isn't guaranteed to satisfy him absolutely.

To carry out this program we offer clothing from a house with a nation-wide reputation for superiority. Superiority of style, fabric, tailoring, fit and finish, second to none.

Kuppenheimer Clothes

$20, $25, $30 and $35

Fine Suits at $15

There are, we know, a host of men and young men who do not care to spend more than $15 for their suits. To them we offer the finest suits at $15 ever show in Grand Rapids. We do not claim them to be $18 or $20 values. We don't sell them on a bargain basis.

We just ask you to see them and compare them with the usual run of clothes at this price to convince yourself that a "Kruger & Turbin Fifteen" is some suit for the money.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS

Men's Shirts

Summer Shirts all of madras woven mercerized fabrics and other splendid skirting materials in an extraordinary variety of new designs and colors which will appeal in a gratifying way to men of discrimination, and the way every shirt is cut and made, the way it is finished in every detail places emphasis upon this as a notable occasion in the selling of Men's shirts.

With soft and starched cuffs, all sizes

from 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 to $3.50

The weather man says warmer, so we say

Straw Hats

The assortment of styles is so exceptional that no pen can do justice to them. There are soft straws, splits, sunnits, China brids and Porto Ricans. You never saw such values, a shop for every man and young man.

Prices.....50c, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00 to $5.00

Men's Night Shirts

With or without collar.....50c to $1.00
Men's Pajamas.....$1.00 to $2.50

Men's Hose

Men's cotton hose, black and tan.....10c to 15c
Men's finer silk hose, black, white, tan, navy blue and gray
Price per pair.....25c
Men's full fashioned silk hose, black, white, tan, navy blue and gray, pair.....50c

Summer Underwear

Men's Union Suits, all sizes from 34 to 50

A new feature that you'll like

Yes a new feature, but not a freak—the most sensible improvement ever. A strip of fine elastic fabric over the knee. Keeps rough trousers off the bare knees and keeps trousers clean and free from perspiration. We know you'll like this new Lewis Union Suit and want you to come in and look it over.

Prices $1.00 and $1.50

You can buy a knitted Lewis in no sleeves knee length, quarter length three-quarter inseam, quarter sleeves ankle length and regular long sleeves ankle length, prices $1.00, $1.50, $2.00

B. V. D. Union Suits.....$1.00
Coat cut undershirts knee length drawers, each.....50c
Porknit, no sleeve knee length, short sleeve ankle length, price.....$1.00
Mens Balbrigan Shirts and Drawers.....25c and 50c

For the little fellows we have the same style and same good material and careful finish as the grown up men wear

Athletic Suits.....50c
Porknit Union Suits.....50c
Lewis Knit Union Suits.....50c and 75c

Men's Silk Neckwear

A rich quality, full assortment open end, four-in-hands of the highest type, made from beautiful neckwear silks. Call and look them over. Price.....25c, 50c and $1.00

No matter what it is we have the correct thing and take much care selling you so that you'll be absolutely satisfied.

KRUGER &amp; TURBIN CO.

"The Home of Better Clothes"

WILSON URGES PEACE

OUTLINES CREED TO BRING AN END TO WORLD WARS IN AD-DRESS AT WASHINGTON.

HINTS OFFER OF MEDIATION

President Will Demand Freedom of the Seas as One of Principal Peace
Terms and Will Insist Upon Sovereignty of Small States.

Washington, May 30.—President Wilson, in an address on Saturday be- fore the League to Enforce Peace, indicated in a guarded way that he is seriously considering the offering of his services as mediator in the European war and outlined to some extent the basis upon which he thinks the warring nations should make their agreement.

His statement was taken by many of those who heard him to mean that Mr. Wilson may in due time offer his services as a peacemaker on his own initiative instead of waiting until the has received a formal request to do so from one or more of the belligerents, a point by which he has guided his attitude regarding mediation in the past.

There were two sentences in the ad- dress which were taken to indicate the president's intention. They fol- lowed:

"The desire of the whole world now turns eagerly toward the hope of peace and there is just reason why we should take our part in the council upon this great theme. It is right that I, as spokesman of our government, should attempt to give expression to what I believe to be the thought and purpose of the people of the United States in this vital matter."

Our own rights as a nation, the privileges and property of our own people have been profoundly affected. We are not more disconnected look- ers-on. The longer the war lasts the more deeply do we become concerned that it should be brought to an end and the world permitted to resume its normal life and course again.

Mr. Wilson laid down a broad prin- ciple of right upon which he would seek to have the world guided.

He first stated that "every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live."

He asserted that the small states have the right to enjoy the same re- spect for their sovereignty and ter- ritorial integrity as the larger, and said that the world has the right to be free from every disturbance that has its origin in aggression.

Applying this to Europe, his hear- ers gathered that Mr. Wilson favors the restoration of Belgium, the in- dependence of Poland, and permission for the little states to select their own form of government.

The president's suggestions regard- ing the method of avoiding war in the future may be summed up thus:

The settlement by arbitration or other means, except force, which may be agreed upon by the nations party to a quarrel.

Universal association of the nations of the world to guarantee to all the free use of the seas.

Agreement by the world league of nations to prevent any war in vio- lation of treaty pledges or begun with- out submission of the causes to the judgment of the world.

President Wilson was introduced by former President William H. Taft, who is head of the League to Enforce Peace, and many of the nation's most notable men heard him speak.

JURY FINDS DR. WAITE GUILTY

Rejects Theory That Murderer Was Insane and He Must Die for the Crime.

New York, May 30.—Dr. Arthur Waite was found guilty on Saturday of the murder of his mil- lionaire father-in-law, John E. Peck, of Grand Rapids, Mich. The jury was out one hour and twenty-five minutes. The jury rejected the theory that Waite was insane when he planned the crime which he had confessed.

Waite must die in the electric chair for his crime. He will be sentenced on June 1.

JAMES J. HILL PASSES AWAY

Noted Railway Builder Dies at His
St. Paul Home Following an Operation for Abscess.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—James J. Hill died at his home here Monday morning. He failed to rally from the effects of an operation performed Sat- urday by the Mayo Brothers. The operation was for abscess, the in- fection from which had spread throughout his body. All the mem- bers of the family were at the bedside when the noted railroad builder passed away.

Rescuer Loses His Life.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 1.—Her- man Smith, an American, lost his life while trying to rescue a child from drown- ing. They were canoeing on Grand river when they lost their pad- die.

Horse Hurts Four at Parade.

Chicago, June 1.—Four persons were injured and the Memorial day parade was delayed ten minutes when the horse of Captain McNeill dashed into a crowd of spectators lining the march.

Arkansas Mob Hangs Negro.

Little Rock, Ark., May 30.—As Sher- iff Sam Munro of Nevada county was hurrying Felix Gilmore, colored, from Prescott to Arkadelphia, a mob forced him to surrender the prisoner. The mob then hanged Gilmore.

Will Number Meet Tickets.

London, May 30.—The commune of Griedenau, near Berlin, has decided to number all meat tickets as a measure to check rioting outside butcher shops, according to an Amsterdam dispatch which quotes the Berlin Tageblatt.

To Smash Turk and Bulgar.

Rome, May 29.—A terrific smash within a few weeks, aimed at elim- inating the Turks and Bulgars from the war, will be the allies' first great stroke for peace. This is a report in general circulation here.

Thaw Shoots Down Fokker.

Paris, May 29.—Lieut. William Thaw, an American member of the French air corps, shot down a Fokker machine, it was announced by the war office. He was wounded in the arm by a bullet.

KNIFE HURLED AT T.R.

WEAPON THROWN IN COLONEL'S
DIRECTION IN MEMORIAL DAY
PARADE AT KANSAS CITY.

SPEAKS TO NORTH AND SOUTH

Former President Urges Universal
Military Training and Hits at "False
Prophecy"—Greeted by Vast Crowds
—Veterans Hear Address.

Kansas City, Mo., June 1.—An open pocket knife was thrown apparently at Col. Theodore Roosevelt here on Tues- day as his motor car turned into Twen- ty-third street in the Memorial day pa- rade. The knife struck the rear of the automobile and was found later in the street. Colonel Roosevelt was not told of the occurrence and the police had no report on the matter. No arrests are expected.

A man who tried to force his way into the colonel's suite at the Muehl- bach hotel was placed under arrest. Kansas City Rev. Colonel Roosevelt, a real westerner, before noon had delivered two short addresses—one to a group of children who greet- ed him in the lobby of his hotel and the other from the hotel balcony to hundreds grouped in the streets. In both talks the colonel continued to preach of preparedness and to warn his listeners to be ready to protect the country by arms, if necessary.

A great crowd greeted the former president in the Union station plaza. One hundred automobiles were in line in the parade to Colonel Roosevelt's hotel.

Universal training based upon uni- versal service was urged upon the youth of the nation by Roosevelt in a Memorial day address delivered as "a message to all Americans" before Civil war veterans of the North and the conference.

Colonel Roosevelt said his address was directed with equal emphasis "to the soul qualities of the men who fol- lowed Grant and of the men who fol- lowed Lee," but that he made no ap- peal "to the memory of the copperhead pacifists who put peace above duty."

The colonel urged the nation to "be ware of the false prophets"—"pro- fessional pacifists who, he declared, do not serve high ideals."

RESTA WINS BIG AUTO RACE

Le Gain Seriously Hurt in Contest at Indianapolis—Victor's Time
Was 3:36:10.82.

Indianapolis, June 1.—Two ac- cidents, one of which will prove fatal to Jack Le Gain, marred the 300-mile race at the Indianapolis speedway on Tuesday, which was won by Dario Resta in a Peugeot car in 3:36:10.82, averaging 83.26 miles an hour. Le Gain has a fractured skull, a deep cut in the back, and is suffering internal hemor- rhages.

Rooney in the No. 27 Premier hit the inner rail of the south turn, threw the mechanism over the rail, and the car rolled down the track.

Rooney, however, is not badly hurt. The winners, in their order, together with their cars, the elapsed time and their speed per hour, follow:

Driver and car.	Time.	M.P.H.
Resta, Peugeot.	3:36:10.82	83.26
D'Alessi, Daimler-Benz.	3:40:08.00	80.54
McLure, Peugeot.	3:40:45.00	80.00
Christiansen, Sunbeam.	3:43:34.10	78.15
McLure, Peugeot.	3:45:00.00	76.47
Richenbacher, Maxwell.	3:45:58.00	75.23
Anderson, Premier.	3:50:19.10	70.17
Hale, Chevrolet.	4:03:04.00	64.00
Johnson, Crawford.	4:03:32.10	72.31
Alley, Owen.	4:04:37.10	72.53

WILSON SAYS PUT U. S. FIRST

Tells Foreign Born U. S. Demands Undivided Allegiance—Address
Made at Arlington.

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson, speaking at the Memorial day services in Arlington cemetery on Tuesday, "summoned solemnly" all men in the United States to set their purposes in accord with the spirit of America and gave warning that men from other lands who do not think of America first "must be cast out of our tolerance."

The president said that America will not submit to aggression either from within or without.

"We are not ready to co-operate, at least not ready to fight against aggression," declared the president. "We are ready to fight for our rights when our rights are coincident with the rights of mankind."

Col. John S. Mosby Is Dead.

Washington, June 1.—Col. John S. Mosby, the most famous Confederate raider of the Civil war, died here on Tuesday after a long illness. He was a native of Virginia and was eighty-two years old. Colonel Mosby's death, his physicians said, was due solely to old age.

Three Die in Storm at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., June 1.—Three persons were killed, 53 injured and property amounting to thousands of dollars destroyed by a tornado which passed over a territory covering 100 miles about Memphis.

Head of Rebels Sentenced.

Dublin (via London), June 1.—Prof. John MacNeill, president of the Sinn Fein volunteers, convicted of com- plicity in the Irish revolt, has been sentenced to life imprisonment and the sentence has been confirmed.

Nat Goodwin's Wife Ill.

New York, May 29.—Margaret More- land, fifth wife of Nat Goodwin, is seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's hos- pital where she underwent an opera- tion. Miss Moreland was formerly an actress in Mr. Goodwin's company.

Dr. Timothy Dwight Dead.

New Haven, Conn., May 29.—Rev. Dr. Timothy Dwight, former president of Yale university, died here on Fri- day in his eighty-sixth year. Doctor Dwight was born in Norwich, Conn., in 1828.

Wins a Sea and Air Battle.

Rome, Italy, May 27.—An Austrian aeroplane and an Austrian gunboat have been destroyed in a battle with an Italian gunboat in the upper Adri- atic. The crew of the Austrian craft were taken prisoner.

Wheat Surplus in Germany.

Berlin, May 27.—Herr Michaelis, un- dersecretary of the interior, said that an examination of the stocks of wheat proved that the new harvest year will be entered upon with a surplus of 102, 000 tons.

WILL MARCH IN SUFFRAGE PARADE

One hundred pair of the trimmest marching feet in the country will trip blithely along Michigan Boulevard on June 7 and do their small best to make the national suffrage parade at Chicago a huge success. The feet in question belong to the Junior Auxiliary of the Chicago Political Equality league and they will march in abody.

ASKS WILSON TO ACT MUST RELEASE MAIL

SENATOR LEWIS OF ILLINOIS IN-TRODUCES PEACE RESOLUTION.

U. S. Will Not Plead Cause of Any Single Belligerent, but Serve
Interests of All.

Washington, May 27.—A resolution requesting the president, unless in- compatible with the public interest, to suggest to warring nations of Eu- rope that the United States undertake mediation was introduced into the senate on Thursday by Senator Lewis of Illinois, to lie on the table for discus- sion later.

The resolution would authorize the president to propose that the bellig- erents declare a truce and that each of them select a neutral country as its representative on a board of ar- bitration thus created.

Each selected neutral would name one member of the board, except when the president or his representative would preside as referee. Under the plan each belligerent would present its demands or claims to the board, which would be authorized to arrive at an equitable adjustment.

The resolution recites that it is sug- gested as an expression of the desire for world peace and not of favoritism for any of the belligerents.

President Wilson told callers that the intervention of a neutral in be- half of peace in Europe could rest only on a mutual understanding by the belligerents that terms to be arranged are to conserve the interests of all, and of the world at large, rather than those of a particular nation or group of nations among the warring powers.

Mr. Wilson gave the impression that he would make peace suggestions only when the conditions he outlined were likely of fulfillment.

BOSTON HAS DEFENSE PARADE

Thousands From All Walks of Life
Pass Reviewing Stands—Congressmen in Lead.

Boston, May 29.—Recruited and moved by a simple impulse—a desire for adequate national defense—be- tween 90,000 and 100,000 men and women marched through the streets of Boston in the most gigantic and stirring patriotic demonstration ever held in New England.

It was distinctly a civilian proces- sion, mustered and guided by military experts. The parade was American, heart, head and heels. It was non- partisan, nonsectarian and without hy- phens. Every department of endeavor in New England was represented in line.

NEW FORD PEACE VOYAGE

Close Friends Say He May Start for Europe on June 15.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Henry Ford may return to Europe to renew his efforts to bring about peace among the warring nations. This possibility was made public by Theodore De Lavigne, who is in close touch with Mr. Ford. He said Mr. Ford would leave for Stockholm about June 15.

WINS POINT IN BIG SUIT

Court Refuses to Dismiss Action Against Guggenheim's
Brothers.

New York, May 29.—William Gug- genheim won the first round in his legal fight to recover $10,000,000 from his brothers, Isaac, Daniel, Murray, Solomon and Simon, when Justice Benedict of the supreme court denied a motion to dismiss the case.

Mexican Bandit Is Buried.

Columbus, N. M., May 30.—The bod- ies of the bandits, Candelario Cer- vantes and Juan Beaume, were buried in the crowded Panteon, or burial ground, on a black mesa over- looking the town of Namiagua.

Chicago Wins Home Rule.

Chicago, May 30.—In an opinion handed down by Judge Taylor, Jr., in the circuit court the right of the state public utilities commission to issue orders to the street railways of Chi- cago was held invalid.

Mexican Shot by Rancher.

El Paso, Tex., May 29.—Residents of Dona Ana county, New Mexico, along the border, are taking extra pre- cautions against trouble following the shooting of a Mexican by C. D. Casad, a rancher.

Greek Cabinet Resigns.

Athens, May 29.—The Greek cabinet has resigned. The resignation of the ministry was brought about by growing political unrest over condi- tions imposed upon Greece by the war.

Refuse to Lift Ban.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 27.—By a vote of 434 to 360, the Methodist Episcopal general conference on Thursday refused to lift the ban on amusements. A minority report was bitterly attacked.

Children See Flyer Killed.

Pensacola, Fla., May 27.—Lieut. James Vincent Rockwell, who was in training as an aviator here, was killed when a naval aeroplane he was pilot- ing dived into the Gulf. His three children saw him fall.

W. N. G. STRENGTH TO BE 10,800 MEN

REORGANIZATION BILL AS PASSED BY CONGRESS INCREASES STATE MILITIA.

PRESENT NUMBER IS 3,600

Wisconsin Guard Will Be About
Trebled Under New Law and Annual Cost Will Be Pro-
portionately Increased.

Madison—Under the new army re- organization law, the Hay-Chamberlain bill as passed by congress, the Wisconsin National Guard will be in- creased from 3,600 men, the present strength, to approximately 10,800 men and the annual cost will be propor- tionately greater, reaching well above $500,000.

Such was the view expressed by Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway of the Wisconsin National guard, but he said no definite statement could be made un- til the president has given directions for the organization of the militia un- der the new law. How many organi- zations will be added depends alto- gether upon the action taken by the federal authorities and that can not be foretold.

Under the law passed by the last legislature there are appropriated $200, 000 for the support of the militia and under it the various organizations have been greatly strengthened, so that now when the boys go into camp next August there will be 3,600 men gathered at Camp Douglas.

ANTI-SALOON BODY MEETS

Board of Trustees Chose Officers and Committeemen at Annual Convention in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee—At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Wiscon- sin Anti-Saloon League, held at the Y. M. C. A. building, the following officers and committeemen were chosen: Pres. Rev. W. O. Carrier, Waukesha; vice presidents—Father J. C. Hogan, Oshkosh; Prof. A. W. Burr, Beloit; Rev. H. B. Kildah, Milwaukee; Rev. E. A. Cutler, Milwaukee; secretary and treasurer, Rev. Henry Colman, Milwaukee; state superintendent, Rev. J. S. Lean, Milwaukee. Headquarters committee—Revs. W. O. Carrier, Henry Colman, C. W. Schluter, F. Swenson, C. Huppert, F. A. Hayward, H. D. Davies. Legislative committee—Revs. E. G. Updike, L. Gilmore, L. H. Keller and Hon. John P. Baker, all of Madison; Rev. J. S. Lean, Milwaukee. National committee—Revs. W. O. Car- rier, J. S. Lean, David Bogie; alterna- tive, Rev. S. J. Krifmeyer.

OBSERVE STATE'S BIRTHDAY

Gov. Philipp, President Van Hise and Mayor Hoan Deliver Addresses
at Sheboygan Celebration.

Sheboygan—Six hundred members of the Sheboygan Association of Com- merce and their guests from all over the state, including Gov. Philipp, President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin and Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, celebrated the sixty-sixth birthday of the state of Wisconsin with a banquet in the Eagles hall.

This was the second anniversary of Wisconsin day, which was originated by the Sheboygan association, and in accordance with his promise given at the banquet a year ago, Gov. Philipp read a proclamation to the people of the state suggesting the observance of Wisconsin day hereafter through- out the state and especially in the schools, but not as a holiday.

Immediately following the dinner, telegrams of congratulation to Gov. Philipp and the state from governors of other states and a message from President Wilson were read to the banqueters.

Lightning Kills Farmer.

Eau Claire—Edgar Moore, farmer, living twenty miles east of here, was killed by lightning while going home to dinner from the field. His body was found in the field, with every bit of clothing burned off. His wife, who gave birth to a baby three days ago, is in a serious condition as a result of the shock over the husband's death.

Planting Fish Fry.

Birchwood—Many cans of fish fry were received here for the purpose of restocking the lakes of this vicinity. A supply of trout is to be shipped later.

Brother Killed at Verdun.

Stevens Point—Mrs. Max Wirth of this city has received news of the death of her brother, Julius Kann, killed at Verdun.

Road to Build Extension.

Madison—According to an amend- ment filed with the secretary of state, the Chicago and North-Western rail- road will build a nine-mile extension through Oconto and Langlade coun- ties.

Boils Kills Young Girl.

Marshfield—A daughter, 8 years old, of Fred Schaffke, was instantly killed by lightning during a hail storm here. Her mother also was struck and was unconscious for two hours.

Will Entertain Bands.

Mayville—The Mayville Military band will be host to the Northwestern Band association June 25. This con- vention, which has been meeting an- nually since 1893, is expected to bring 400 musicians to Mayville.

Summer Resort Hotel Burns.

West Bend—Thomas's summer re- sort, the longest on Little Cedar lake, five miles south of this city, was visited by a very disastrous fire, when the large hotel on the property burned.

Asleep at the Switch; Robbed.

Oshkosh—Peter Klimek was sen- tenced to a year in the Industrial school upon pleading guilty to larceny. He was charged with stealing $120 from a companion at Menasha on May 7, while the latter was asleep on a railway track.

Military Parade at Oshkosh.

Oshkosh—Oshkosh celebrated Mem- orial day with a parade of military organizations and a program at Riv- er-side cemetery.

IS VICTIM OF "CRAB" ACT

Kenosha Man Pays $10 Fine and Costs
Because He Snared Craw-
fish Out of Season.

Kenosha—The humble crab has come into its own and it is now of- ficially recognized as "game" on the records of the courts of Kenosha county. There always has to be a first of- fendant for the enforcement of any law and the distinction of being the first defendant in a case where catch- ing crawfish out of season was charged fell to the lot of William Boehnke. He was arrested by Deputy Game Warden Emil Fox. The humorous crime of which Boehnke was charged was com- mitted out on the banks of Dam creek. The defendant admitted that he caught crawfish and declared his ignorance of the law protecting them from being caught in certain seasons of the year. The law provided a minimum fine of $10 and the costs, and it was paid by Boehnke. He volunteered his opinion that all the craw dabs in Kenosha county were not worth the amount of the fine, to say nothing of the costs.

WOMAN THREATENS PASTOR

Mother of Seven Confesses She Wrote
Black Hand Letters to the Rev.
R. S. Ingram.

Fond du Lac—Fond du Lac police announced that they have the written confession of Mrs. Julia Rueckert that she wrote two black hand letters re- ceived by the Rev. R. S. Ingram, dis- trict superintendent of the Fond du Lac District of the Methodist church, millionaire pastor, noted for his char- ities.

The first letter was mailed on Feb. 16, was signed "Gun Handlers", and demanded $1,500, according to the con- fession. The letter demanded that the money in ten and twenty dollar bills be planted by Dr. Ingram in the street car station at Lakeside park, the police say. In the second letter $200 was asked. According to the police the mystery was solved by a detective agency using a decoy.

FORMER ASSEMBLYMAN DIES

Charles F. Ploeger, Bank President
and Head of Fair Association,
Victim of Pneumonia.

Seymour—Former Assemblyman Charles F. Ploeger died here, follow- ing an illness of about ten days. He had been ill with pneumonia and his condition was known to be serious. It was thought up to the last that he would survive.

Mr. Ploeger, who had just served his first term in the legislature, was one of the leading men in this part of Wisconsin. He was president of the Seymour State bank, president of the Seymour Fair association and presi- dent of the Farmers' Insurance com- pany. He was 46 years old and is survived by a wife and two children.

Druggists Will Meet at Wausau.

Wausau—Druggists of Wisconsin will meet in Wausau from July 15 to 21, inclusive. The program consists of about equal parts of business and entertainment, and it was predicted that from the time the special train pulls into Wausau until the members leave, the city will wear an aspect of anything but gloom.

Minister Pinned Under Automobile.

Sheboygan—The Rev. Ezra Vorn- holtz, in charge of the German Re- formed Theological college at Frank- lin, and five other persons were pin- ned beneath an automobile when it upset. Mr. Vornholtz, who was at the wheel, is in St. Nicholas' hospital in a serious condition.

Prizes Are Awarded.

Madison—Max Roamen, sophomore in letters and science at the uni- versity, has won a prize of $100, given an- nually by the Wisconsin Menorah so- ciety. The first prize of $40 in the Steensland contest was awarded to Roy J. Herig, senior. The second prize of $20 went to Marshall W. Sergeant.

Brother Held for Assault.

Wausau—August Zastrow has been held for trial in circuit court on a charge of having assaulted his brother, Roman Zastrow, with intent to do great bodily harm. The two men be- came involved in a fight as their moth- er lay dying at her home. Mrs. Zas- trow died the same night.

Signing Pickle Contracts.

Washburn—The H. J. Heinz Pickle company has decided to operate their pickle salting station in this city again the coming summer and contracts with the farmers are now being signed. The company expects to increase the acreage largely before the next two weeks, when planting will begin.

Shop Athletics Incorporated.

Beloit—The Fairbanks-Morse Ath- letic association of Beloit, has been incorporated at Madison. The incor- poration is for the promotion of ath- letic games, and the building of a gymna- sium.

Will Inspect Roads.

Washburn—Practically all details have been arranged for the inspection trip of the county board of Bayfield on June 6 to inspect the 278 miles of county highways. Thirty-two mem- bers of the board will make the trip by automobile.

Win Plea for Re-Election.

Sparta—The city of Sparta won an appeal to the State Tax commission for a re-evaluation of taxes for the year 1915.

The Fourth at Wausau.

Wausau—The various societies affil- iated as the German-American alliance are to arrange a public Fourth of July celebration. There will be two ad- dresses, one in English and one in German.

Johnson Out For Re-Election.

Madison—State Treasurer Henry Johnson has made formal announce- ment that he is to be a candidate for re-election as the Republican candi- date for that office.

Proceedings Barred.

Manawa—Following the injunction on technicalities against the proceed- ings of the high school board, another meeting has

WILSON URGES PEACE

OUTLINES CREED TO BRING AN END TO WORLD WARS IN AD-DRESS AT WASHINGTON.

HINTS OFFER OF MEDIATION

President Will Demand Freedom of
the Seas as One of Principal Peace
Terms and Will Insist Upon Sovereignty of Small States.

Washington, May 30.—President Wilson, in an address on Saturday before the League to Enforce Peace, indicated in a guarded way that he is seriously considering the offering of his services as mediator in the European war and outlined to some extent the basis upon which he thinks the warring nations should make their agreement.

His statement was taken by many of those who heard him to mean that Mr. Wilson may in due time offer his services as a peacemaker on his own initiative instead of waiting until he has received a formal request to do so from one or more of the belligerents, a point by which he has guided his attitude regarding mediation in the past.

There were two sentences in the address which were taken to indicate the president's intention. They follow:

"The desire of the whole world now turns eagerly toward the hope of peace and there is just reason why we should take our part in the council upon this great theme. It is right that I, as spokesman of the belligerents, should attempt to give expression to what I believe to be the thought and purpose of the people of the United States in this vital matter."

Our own rights as a nation, the privileges and property of our own people have been profoundly affected. We are not mere disconnected lookers-on. The longer the war lasts the more deeply do we become concerned that it should be brought to an end and the world permitted to resume its normal life and course again."

Mr. Wilson laid down a broad principle of right upon which he would seek to have the world guided.

He first stated that "every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live."

He asserted that the small states have the right to enjoy the same respect for their sovereignty and territorial integrity as the larger, and said that the world has the right to be free from every disturbance that has its origin in aggression.

Applying this to Europe, his hearers gathered that Mr. Wilson favors the restoration of Belgium, the independence of Poland, and permission for the little states to select their own form of government.

The president's suggestions regarding the method of avoiding war in the future may be summed up thus:

The settlement by arbitration or other means, except force, which may be agreed upon by the nations party to a quarrel.

Universal association of the nations of the world to guarantee to all the free use of the seas.

Agreement by the world league of nations to prevent any war in violation of treaty pledges or begun without submission of the causes to the judgment of the world.

President Wilson was introduced by former President William H. Taft, who is head of the League to Enforce Peace, and many of the nation's most notable men heard him speak.

JURY FINDS DR. WAITE GUILTY

Rejects Theory That Murderer Was Insane and He Must Die for
the Crime.

New York, May 30.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was found guilty on Saturday of the murder of his millionaire father-in-law, John E. Peck of Grand Rapids, Mich. The jury was out one hour and twenty-five minutes.

The jury rejected the theory that Waite was insane when he planned the crime which he had confessed.

Waite must die in the electric chair for his crime. He will be sentenced on June 1.

JAMES J. HILL PASSES AWAY

Noted Railway Builder Dies at His
St. Paul Home Following an Operation for Abscess.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—James J. Hill died at his home here Monday morning. He failed to rally from the effects of an operation performed Saturday by the Mayo Brothers. The operation was for abscess, the infection from which had spread throughout his body. All the members of the family were at the bedside when the noted railroad builder passed away.

Rescuer Loses His Life.
Grand Rapids, Mich., June 1.—Herman Smith, nineteen, lost his life while trying to rescue Alton Simpson from drowning. They were canoeing on Grand river when they lost their paddle.

Horse Hurts Four at Parade.
Chicago, June 1.—Four persons were injured and the horse of the parade was delayed ten minutes when the horse of Captain McNeill dashed into a crowd of spectators lining the march.

Arkansas Mob Hanged Negro.
Little Rock, Ark., May 30.—As Sheriff Sam Munn of Nevada county was harrying Felix Gilmore, colored, from Prescott to Arkadelphia, a mob forced him to surrender the prisoner. The mob then hanged Gilmore.

Will Number Meat Tickets.
London, May 30.—The commune of Gredana, near Berlin, has decided to number all meat tickets as a measure to check rioting outside butcher shops, according to an Amsterdam dispatch
which quotes the Berlin Tageblatt.

To Smash Turk and Bulgar.
Rome, May 29.—A terrific smash within a few weeks, aimed at eliminating the Turks and Bulgars from the war, will be the allies' first great stroke for peace. This is a report in general circulation here.

Thaw Shoots Down Fokker.
Paris, May 29.—Lieut. William
Thaw, an American member of the French air corps, shot down a Fokker machine. It was announced by the war office. He was wounded in the arm
by a bullet.

KNIFE HURLED AT T.R.

WEAPON THROWN IN COLONEL'S
DIRECTION IN MEMORIAL DAY
PARADE AT KANSAS CITY.

SPEAKS TO NORTH AND SOUTH

Former President Urges Universal
Military Training and Hits at "False
Prophecy"—Greeted by Vast Crowds
—Veterans Hear Address.

Kansas City, Mo., June 1.—An open pocket knife was thrown apparently at
Col. Theodore Roosevelt here on Tuesday as his motor car turned into Tuen-day street in the Memorial day parade. The knife struck the rear of the automobile and was found later in the street. Colonel Roosevelt was not told of the occurrence and the police had no report on the matter. No arrests are expected.

A man who tried to force his way into the colonel's suite at the Muehl-bach hotel was placed under arrest.

Kansas City gave Colonel Roosevelt a real western reception. Before noon
he had delivered two short addresses
—one to a group of children who greeted him in the lobby of his hotel and the other from the hotel balcony to hundreds grouped in the streets. In both talks the colonel continued to preach of preparedness and to warn his listeners to be ready to protect the country by arms, if necessary.

A great crowd greeted the former president in the Union station plaza.
One hundred automobiles were in line in the parade to Colonel Roosevelt's hotel.

Universal training based upon universal service was urged upon the youth of the nation by Roosevelt in a Memorial day address delivered as "a message to all Americans" before Civil War veterans of the North and
the confederacy.

Colonel Roosevelt said his address was directed with equal emphasis "to
the soul qualities of the men who followed Grant and of the men who followed Lee," but he made no appeal "to the memory of the copperhead pacifists who put peace above duty."

The colonel urged the nation to "be wary of the false prophets"—professional pacifists who, he declared, do not serve high ideals.

RESTA WINS BIG AUTO RACE

Le Cain Seriously Hurt in Contest at Indianapolis—Victor's Time
Was 3:30:10.82.

Indianapolis, June 1.—Two accidents, one of which will prove fatal to Jack Le Cain, marred the 300-mile race at the Indianapolis speedway on Tuesday, which was won by Dario
Resta in a Peugeot car in 3:30:10.82, Le Cain, who was driving a Buick, was struck by a tractor and his car was flipped over, and he is suffering internal hemorrhages.

Rooney in the No. 27 Premier hit
the inner rail of the south turn, threw the mechanism over the rail, and the car rolled down the track.

Rooney, however, is not badly hurt.
The winners, in their order, together with their cars, the elapsed time, and
their speed per hour, follow:

Driver and car	Time	M.P.H.
Resta, Peugeot	3:30:10.82	82.26
D'Almeida, Duesenberg	3:33:04.06	82.54
Mulford, Peugeot	3:39:45.06	81.91
Christians, Duesenberg	3:43:13.19	79.35
Oldfield, Delage	3:49:29.39	78.55
Chapman, Buick	3:54:29.39	76.17
Anderson, Premier	3:58:10.81	74.92
Habbe, Caterham	4:03:10.81	72.92
Johnson, Chrysler	4:07:10.81	71.92
Alley, Ogren	4:08:10.81	71.92

WILSON SAYS PUT U. S. FIRST

Tells Foreign Born U. S. Demands Un-
divided Allegiance—Address
Made at Arlington.

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson, speaking at the Memorial day services in Arlington cemetery on Tuesday, "summoned solemnly" all men in the United States to set their purposes in accord with the spirit of America and gave warning that men from other lands who do not think of America first "must be cast out of our tolerance."

The president said that America will not submit to aggression either from within or without.

"We are not only ready to co-operate, but we are ready to fight against aggression," declared the president.
"We are ready to fight for our rights when our rights are coincident with the rights of mankind."

Col. John S. Mosby Is Dead.
Washington, June 1.—Col. John S.
Mosby, the most famous Confederate raider of the Civil war, died here on Tuesday after a long illness. He was a native of Virginia and was eleven years old when the war broke out. His physicians said, was due solely to old age.

Three Die in Storm at Memphis.
Memphis, Tenn., June 1.—Three persons were killed, 53 injured and property amounting to thousands of dollars destroyed by a tornado which passed over a territory covering 100 miles about Memphis.

Head of Rebels Sentenced.
Dublin, June 1.—Prof. John MacNeill, president of the Irish volunteers, convicted of complicity in the Irish revolt, has been sentenced to life imprisonment and the sentence has been confirmed.

Nat Goodwin's Wife Ill.
New York, May 29.—Margaret Moreland, fifth wife of Nat Goodwin, is seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's hospital where she underwent an operation. Miss Moreland was formerly an actress in Mr. Goodwin's company.

Dr. Timothy Dwight Dead.
New Haven, Conn., May 29.—Rev.
Dr. Timothy Dwight, former president of Yale university, died here on Friday in his eighty-sixth year. Doctor Dwight was born in Norwich, Conn.,
in 1828.

Wins a Sea and Air Battle.
Rome, Italy, May 27.—An Austrian
aeroplane and an Austrian gunboat have been destroyed in a battle with an Italian gunboat in the upper Adriatic. The crew of the Austrian craft were taken prisoner.

Wheat Surplus in Germany.
Berlin, May 27.—Herr Michaels, undersecretary of the interior, said that an examination of the stocks of wheat proved that the new harvest year will be entered upon with a surplus of 192,
000 tons.

WILL MARCH IN SUFFRAGE PARADE

One hundred pair of the trimmest marching feet in the country will trip blithely along Michigan Boulevard on June 7 and do their small best to make the national suffrage parade at Chicago a huge success. The feet in question belong to the Junior Auxiliary of the Chicago Political Equality league and they will march in abody.

ASKS WILSON TO ACT MUST RELEASE MAIL

SENATOR LEWIS OF ILLINOIS IN-TRODUCES PEACE RESOLUTION.

U. S. SENDS NOTE TO BRITAIN
AND FRANCE.

U. S. Will Not Plead Cause of Any Single Belligerent, but Serve
Interests of All.

Washington, May 27.—A resolution requesting the president, unless incompatible with the public interest, to suggest to warring nations of Europe that the United States undertake mediation was introduced into the senate on Thursday by Senator Lewis of Illinois, to lie on the table for discussion later.

The resolution would authorize the president to propose that the belligerents declare a truce and that each of them select a neutral country as its representative on a board of arbitration thus created:

Each selected neutral would name
one member of the board, over which the president or his representative would preside as referee. Under the plan each belligerent would present its demands or claims to the board,
which would be authorized to arrive
at an equitable adjustment.

The resolution recites that it is suggested as an expression of the desire for world peace and not of favoritism
for any of the belligerents.

President Wilson told callers that
the intervention of a neutral in behalf of peace in Europe could rest only on a mutual understanding by the belligerents that terms to be arranged
are to conserve the interests of all,
and of the world at large, rather than those of a particular nation or group
of nations among the warring powers.

Mr. Wilson gave the impression that he would make peace suggestions
only when the conditions he outlined were likely of fulfillment.

BOSTON HAS DEFENSE PARADE

Thousands From All Walks of Life
Pass Reviewing Stands—Congression Men in Lead.

Boston, May 29.—Recruited and moved by a simple impulse—a desire for adequate national defense—between 90,000 and 100,000 men and women marched through the streets of Boston in the most gigantic and stirring patriotic demonstration ever held in New England.

It was distinctly a civilian procession mustered and guided by military experts. The parade was American, heart, head and heels. It was non-partisan, nonsectarian and without hyphenations. Every department of endeavor in New England was represented in line.

NEW FORD PEACE VOYAGE

Close Friends Say He May Start for Europe on June 15.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Henry Ford
may return to Europe to renew his efforts to bring about peace among the warring nations. This possibility was made public by Theodore De Lavigne, who is in close touch with Mr. Ford.
He said Mr. Ford would leave for Stockholm about June 15.

WINS POINT IN BIG SUIT

Court Refuses to Dismiss Action Against Guggenheim's Brothers.

New York, May 29.—William Guggenheim won the first round in his legal fight to recover $10,000,000 from his brothers, Isaac, Daniel, Murry, Solomon and Samson, when Justice
Benedict of the supreme court denied a motion to dismiss the case.

Mexican Bandit Is Buried.
Columbus, N. M., May 30.—The bodies of the bandits, Candelario Cervantes and Juan Beaume, were buried in the crowded Pantano, a barbaric ground, on a black mound overlooking the town of Namiquipa.

Chicago Wins Home Rule.
Chicago, May 30.—In an opinion handed down by Judge Taylor, Jr., in the circuit court the right of the state public utilities commission to issue
orders to the street railways of Chicago was held invalid.

Money Exchange Improving.
Berlin, May 29.—New York exchange has undergone a marked improvement for several weeks. In April a dollar cost 8.48 marks; it now is 8.175, which has been quoted for more than a week.

Eggs Scarce in Berlin.
London, May 30.—Berlin's egg supply is practically exhausted, according to advices received by the Exchange Telegraph company. These state that the price of eggs now averages 14 cents each, or $1.68 a dozen.

Tuskegee Head Installed.
Tuskegee, Ala., May 27.—Maj. Robert T. Moton, a negro of unimpaired blood, was installed here as principal of Tuskegee institute, founded by Booker T. Washington for the uplift of the colored race.

General Gallieni Dies.
Paris, May 27.—General Gallieni, former French minister of war, died at Versailles, following an operation for bladder trouble. He was the defender of Paris, and factor in the battle of the Marne.

W. N. G. STRENGTH
TO BE 10,800 MEN

REORGANIZATION BILL AS PASSED BY CONGRESS INCREASES
STATE MILITIA.

PRESENT NUMBER IS 3,600

Wisconsin Guard Will Be About
Trebled Under New Law and Annual Cost Will Be Pro-
portionately Increased.

Madison.—Under the new army reorganization law, the Hay-Chamberlain bill as passed by congress, the Wisconsin National Guard will be increased from 3,600 men, the present strength, to approximately 10,800 men and the annual cost will be proportionately greater, reaching well above $500,000.

Such was the view expressed by Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway of the Wisconsin National guard, but he said no definite statement could be made until the president has given directions for the organization of the militia under the new law. How many organizations will be added depends altogether upon the action taken by the federal authorities and that can not be foretold.

Under the law passed by the last legislature there is appropriated $200,- 000 for the support of the militia and under it the various organizations have been greatly strengthened, so that now when the boys go into camp
next August there will be 3,600 men gathered at Camp Douglas.

ANTI-SALOON BODY MEETS

Board of Trustees Chooses Officers and Committeemen at Annual Convention in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee.—At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon League, held at the Y. M. C. A. building, the following officers and committeemen were chosen:

President—Rev. W. O. Carrier, Wausau;
vice president—Father J. C. Hogan, Oshkosh; Prof. A. W. Burr, Beloit;
Rev. H. B. Kilduff, Milwaukee; Rev. E.
A. Cutler, Milwaukee; secretary and treasurer, Rev. Henry Colman, Milwaukee; state superintendent, Rev. J.
S. Lean, Milwaukee. Headquarters

committee—Rev. W. O. Carrier, Henry Colman, C. W. Schlueter, F. Swenson, C. Huppert, F. A. Hayward, H.
D. Davies, Legislative committee—
Revs. E. G. Updike, L. Gilmore, L. H.
Keller and Hon. John P. Baker, all of Madison; Rev. J. S. Lean, Milwaukee.
National trustees—Revs. W. O. Carrier, J. S. Lean, David Bogus; alternate, Rev. S. J. Drifmeyer.

Druggists Will Meet at Wausau.
Wausau.—Druggists of Wisconsin will meet in Wausau from July 18 to 21, inclusive. The program consists of about equal parts of business and entertainment, and it was predicted that the time the special train pulls into Wausau until the members leave, the city will wear an aspect of anything but gloom.

Minister Pinned Under Automobile.
Sheboygan.—The Rev. Ezra Vor-holtz, in charge of the German Reformed Theological college at Franklin, and five other persons were pinned beneath an automobile when it upset. Mr. Vorholtz, who was at the wheel, is in St. Nicholas' hospital in a serious condition.

Prizes Are Awarded.
Madison.—Max Rossmen, sophomore in letters and science at the university, has won a prize of $100, given annually by the Wisconsin Menomah society. The prize was awarded to Stevens and was awarded to Roy J. Herig, senior. The second prize of $20 went to Marshall W. Sergeant.

Brother Held for Assault.
Wausau.—August Zastrow has been held for trial in Circuit court on a charge of having assaulted his brother, Ramon Zastrow, with intent to do great bodily harm. The two men became involved in a fight as their mother lay dying at her home. Mrs. Zastrow died the same night.

Signing Pickle Contracts.
Wausau.—The H. J. Heinz Pickle company has decided to operate their pickle salting station in this city again
this summer and contracts with farmers to increase the acreage largely before the next two weeks, when planting will begin.

Shop Athletes Incorporated.
Beloit.—The Fairbanks-Morse Athletic association of Beloit, has been incorporated at Madison. The corporation is for the promotion of athletic games, and the building of a gymnasium.

Will Inspect Roads.
Wausau.—Practically all details have been arranged for the inspection
trip of the county board of Bayfield on June 6 to inspect the 278 miles of county highways. Thirty-two members of the board will make the trip by automobile.

Win Plea for Re-EQUALIZATION.
Sparta.—The city of Sparta, won an appeal to the State Tax commission for a re-equalization of taxes for the year 1915.

The Fourth at Wausau.
Wausau.—The various societies affiliated as the German-American alliance
are to arrange a public Fourth of July celebration. There will be two addresses, one in English and one in German.

Johnson Out For Re-Election.
Madison.—State Treasurer Henry
Johnson has made formal announcement that he is to be a candidate for re-nomination as the Republican candidate for that office.

Proceedings Barred.
Manawa.—Following an injunction
on technicalities against the proceedings of the high school board, another meeting has been called for the town
and village to vote on the question of building and securing a loan of $25,000
for a high school.

McGovern Omits Speaker.
Oshkosh.—Former Gov. F. E. McGovern will deliver the commencement address before the Oshkosh high school graduating class on June 6.

Military Parade at Oshkosh.
Oshkosh.—Oshkosh celebrated Memorial day with a parade of military organizations and a program at Riverside cemetery.

Lightning Kills Farmer.
Eau Claire.—Edgar Moore, farmer, living twenty miles east of here, was killed by lightning while going home to dinner from the field. His body was found in the field, with every bit of clothing burned off. His wife, who gave birth to a baby three days ago,
is in a serious condition as a result of
the shock over the husband's death.

Planting Fish Fry.
Brookwood.—Many cans of fish fry were received here for the purpose of restocking the lakes of this vicinity.
A supply of trout is to be shipped later.

Brother Killed at Verdun.
Stevens Point.—Mrs. Max Wirth of this city has received news of the death of her brother, Julius Kann, killed at Verdun.

Road to Build Extension.
Madison.—According to an amendment filed with the secretary of state, the Chicago and North-Western railroad will build a nine-mile extension through Oconto and Langlade counties.

Boat Kills Young Girl.
Marshfield.—A daughter, 8 years old,
of Fred Schafke, was instantly killed
by lightning during a hail storm here.
Her mother also was struck and was unconscious for two hours.

Will Entertain Bands.
Mayville.—The Mayville Military band will be host to the Northwestern Band association June 25. This convention, which has been meeting annually since 1893, is expected to bring 400 musicians to Mayville.

Summer Resort Hotel Burns.
West Bend.—Thoma's summer resort, the largest on Little Cedar lake, five miles southwest of this city, was visited by a very disastrous fire, when the large hotel on the property burned.

Asleep at the Switch; Robbed.
Oshkosh.—Peter Klimke was sentenced to a year in the Industrial school upon pleading guilty to larceny.
He was charged with stealing $119
from a companion at Menasha on May 7, while the latter was asleep on a railway track.

Military Parade at Oshkosh.
Oshkosh.—Oshkosh celebrated Memorial day with a parade of military organizations and a program at Riverside cemetery.

W. N. G. STRENGTH
TO BE 10,800 MEN

IS VICTIM OF "CRAB" ACT

Kenosha Man Pays $10 Fine and Costs
Because He Snared Craw-
fish Out of Season.

Kenosha.—The humble crab has come into its own and it is now officially recognized as "kame" on the records of the courts of Kenosha county. There always has to be a first defendant for the enforcement of any law and the case where catching crawfish out of season was charged fell to the lot of William Boehnke. He was arrested by Deputy Game Warden
Emil Fox. The heinous crime of which Boehnke was charged was committed out on the banks of Bain creek.
The defendant admitted that he caught crawfish and declared his ignorance of the law protecting them from being caught in certain seasons of the year.
The law provided a maximum fine of $10 and the costs, and it was paid by Boehnke. He volunteered his opinion that all the crab duds in Kenosha county were not worth the amount of the fine, to say nothing of the costs.

WOMAN THREATENS PASTOR

Mother of Seven Confesses She Wrote
Black Hand Letters to the Rev.
R. S. Ingraham.

Fond du Lac.—Fond du Lac police announced that they have the written confession of Mrs. Julia Benedict that she wrote two black hand letters received by the Rev. R. S. Ingraham, district superintendent of the Fond du Lac District of the Methodist church, millionaire pastor, noted for his charities.

The first letter was handed on Feb.
16, was signed "Gun Handled" and demanded $1,500, according to the confession. The letter demanded that the money in ten and twenty dollar bills be placed by Dr. Ingraham in the street car station at Lakeside park,
the police say. In the second letter
$2,000 was asked. According to the police the mystery was solved by a detective agency using a decoy.

Former Assemblyman Dies.
Charles F. Ploeger, Bank President
and Head of Fair Association,
Victim of Pneumonia.

Seymour.—Former Assemblyman
Charles F. Ploeger died here, following an illness of about ten days. He had been ill with pneumonia and while his condition was known to be serious it was thought up to the last that he would survive.

Mr. Ploeger, who had just served his first term in the legislature, was one of the leading men in this part of Wisconsin. He was president of the Seymour State bank, president of the Seymour Fair association and president of the Farmers' Insurance company. He was 46 years old and is survived by a wife and two children.

WILSON URGES PEACE

OUTLINES CREED TO BRING AN END TO WORLD WARS IN AD-DRESS AT WASHINGTON.

HINTS OFFER OF MEDIATION

President Will Demand Freedom of
the Seas as One of Principal Peace
Terms and Will Insist Upon Sovereignty of Small States.

Washington, May 30.—President Wilson, in an address on Saturday before the League to Enforce Peace, indicated in a guarded way that he is seriously considering the offering of his services as mediator in the European war and outlined in some extent the terms upon which he thinks the warring nations should make their agreement.

His statement was taken by many of those who heard him to mean that Mr. Wilson may in due time offer his services as a peacemaker on his own initiative instead of waiting until he has received a formal request to do so from one or more of the belligerents, a point by which he has guided his attitude regarding mediation in the past.

There were two sentences in the address which were taken to indicate the president's intention. They follow:

"The desire of the whole world now turns eagerly toward the hope of peace and there is just reason why we should take our part in the council upon this great theme. It is right that I, as spokesman of our government, should attempt to give expression to what I believe to be the thought and purpose of the people of the United States in this vital matter."

Our own rights as a nation, the principles and precedents of our own people have been profoundly affected. We are not mere disconnected lookers-on. The longer the war lasts the more deeply do we become concerned that it should be brought to an end and the world permitted to resume its normal life and course again.

Mr. Wilson laid down a broad principle of right upon which he would seek to have the world guided.

He first stated that "every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live."

He asserted that the small states have the right to enjoy the same respect for their sovereignty and territorial integrity as the larger, and said that the world has the right to be free from every detraction that has its origin in aggression.

Applying this to Europe, his hearers gathered that Mr. Wilson favors the restoration of Belgium, the independence of Poland, and permission for the little states to select their own form of government.

The president's suggestions regarding the method of avoiding war in the future may be summed up thus:

The settlement by arbitration or other means, except force, which may be agreed upon by the nations party to a quarrel.

Universal association of the nations of the world to guarantee to all the free use of the seas.

Agreement by the world league of nations to prevent any war in violation of treaty pledges or begun without submission of the causes to the judgment of the world.

President Wilson was introduced by former President William H. Taft, who is head of the League to Enforce Peace, and many of the nation's most notable men heard him speak.

JURY FINDS DR. WAITE GUILTY

Rejects Theory That Murderer Was Insane and Must Die for the Crime.

New York, May 30.—Dr. Arthur Warren Waite was found guilty on Saturday of the murder of his millionaire father-in-law, John E. Pack of Grand Rapids, Mich. The jury was out one hour and twenty-five minutes.

The jury rejected the theory that Waite was insane when he planned the crime which he had confessed.

Waite must die in the electric chair for his crime. He will be sentenced on June 1.

JAMES J. HILL PASSES AWAY

Noted Railway Builder Dies at His
St. Paul Home Following an Operation for Abscess.

St. Paul, Minn., May 30.—James J. Hill died at his home here Monday morning. He failed to rally from the effects of an operation performed Sunday by the Mayo Brothers. The operation was for an abscess, the infection from which had spread throughout his body. All the members of the family were at the bedside when the noted railroad builder passed away.

Rescuer Loses His Life

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 1.—Herman Smith, nineteen, lost his life while trying to rescue Alton Simpson from drowning. They were canoeing on Grand river when they lost their paddle.

Horse Hurts Four at Parade

Chicago, June 1.—Four persons were injured and the Memorial day parade was delayed ten minutes when
the horse of Captain McNeill dashed into a crowd of spectators lining the
march.

Arkansas Mob Hanged Negro

Little Rock, Ark., May 30.—A Sheriff of San Juan of Nevada county was hanged by a mob of Klansmen, colored, from Prescott to Arkadelphia, a mob forced him to surrender the prisoner. The mob then hanged Gilmore.

Will Number Meat Tickets

London, May 30.—The commune of Griedenau, near the city of Zurich, has decided to check all meat tickets as a measure against rioting outside butcher shops,
according to an Amsterdam dispatch
which quotes the Berlin Tagblatt.

To Smash Turk and Bulgarian.
Rome, May 29.—A terrible smash within a few weeks, between the Turks and Bulgarians from hating the allies' first great stroke for peace. This is a report in general circulation here.

Thaw Shoots Down Fokker.
Paris, May 29.—Lieut. William
Thaw, an American member of the French air corps, shot down a Fokker
machine. It was announced by the war office. He was wounded in the arm
by a bullet.

KNIFE HURLED AT T. R.

WEAPON THROWN IN COLONEL'S
DIRECTION IN MEMORIAL DAY
PARADE AT KANSAS CITY.

SPEAKS TO NORTH AND SOUTH

Former President Urges Universal
Military Training and Hits at "False
Prophecy"—Greeted by Vast Crowds
—Veterans Hear Address.

Kansas City, Mo., June 1.—An open
pocket knife was thrown apparently at
Col. Theodore Roosevelt here on Tuesday as his motor car turned into Twenty-third street in the Memorial day parade. The knife struck the rear of the automobile and was found later in the street. Colonel Roosevelt was not told
of the occurrence and the police had no report on the matter. No arrests
are expected.

A man who tried to force his way into the colonel's suite at the Muehl-
bach hotel was placed under arrest.
Kansas City gave Colonel Roosevelt a most warm reception. Before noon
he had delivered two short addresses
—one to a group of children who greeted him in the lobby of his hotel and the other from the hotel balcony to hundreds grouped in the streets. In both talks the colonel continued to preach of preparedness and to warn his listeners to be on guard to protect the country by arms if necessary.

A great crowd greeted the former president in the Union station plaza.
One hundred automobiles were in line
in the parade to Colonel Roosevelt's hotel.

Universal training based upon universal service was urged upon the youth of the nation by Roosevelt in his Memorial day address delivered as "a message to all Americans" before Civil war veterans of the North and
the confederacy.

Colonel Roosevelt said his address
was directed with equal emphasis "to
the soul qualities of the men who followed Grant and of the men who followed Lee," but that he must appeal "to the memory of the confederate soldier who put peace above duty."

The colonel urged the nation to "be ware of the false prophets"—professional pacifists who, he declared, do
not serve high ideals.

RESTA WINS BIG AUTO RACE
Le Cain Seriously Hurt in Contest at Indianapolis—Victor's Time
Was 3:36:10.82.

Indianapolis, June 1.—Two accidents, one of which will prove fatal
to Jack Le Cain, marred the 300-mile race at Indianapolis Speedway on Tuesday, which was won by Dario
Resta in a Peugeot car in 3:36:10.82, averaging 83.26 miles an hour. Le Cain has a fractured skull, a deep cut in the back, and is suffering internal hemorrhages.

Rooney in the No. 27 Premier hit
the inner rail of the south turn, threw the motor rolled down the track.
Rooney, however, is not badly hurt.
The winners, in their order, together
with their cars, the elapsed time and
their speed per hour, follow:

Driver and car.	Time, M.P.H.
Resta, Peugeot.	3:36:10.82
Alaine, Duesenberg.	3:38:04.00
Malford, Peugeot.	3:38:45.06
Christensen, Duesenberg.	3:39:10.15
Offield, Delage.	3:40:09.19
Kichenbacher, Maxwell.	3:40:59.39
Austin, Duesenberg.	3:41:02.19
Talbot, Osterling.	3:43:10.51
Johnson, Graham.	3:43:19.10
Alley, Duesenberg.	3:43:47.30

It was distinctly a civilian procession mustered and guided by military experts. The parade was American, head and heels. It was non-partisan, nonsectarian and without hy-phens. Every department of endeavor in New England was represented in
line.

NEW FORD PEACE VOYAGE
Close Friends Say He May Start for Europe on June 15.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Henry Ford
may return to Europe to renew his efforts to bring about peace among the warring nations. This possibility was made public by Theodore De Lariviere,
who is in close touch with Mr. Ford.
He said Mr. Ford would leave for Stockholm about June 15.

WINS POINT IN BIG SUIT
Court Refuses to Dismiss Action Against Guggenheim's
Brothers.

New York, May 29.—William Guggenheim won the first round in his legal fight to recover $10,000,000 from
his brothers, Isaac, Daniel, Murry,
Solomon and Simon, when Justice
Benedict of the supreme court denied a motion to dismiss the case.

Mexican Bandit Is Buried.
Colima, N. M., May 29.—The bodies of the bandits, Candelario Cervantes and Juan Beaumont, were buried in the crowded Panteon, or burial ground, on a black mesa overlooking the town of Namiqualpa.

Chicago Wins Home Rule.
Chicago, May 30.—Bertie's opinion
handed down by Judge Taylor, Jr., in
the circuit court the right of the state
public utilities commission to issue
orders to the street railways of Chicago was held invalid.

Head of Rebels Sentenced.
Dublin (via London), June 1.—Prof.
John MacNeill, president of the Sinn
Fein volunteers, convicted of complicity in the Irish revolt, has been sentenced to life imprisonment and the sentence has been confirmed.

Nat Goodwin's Wife Ill.
New York, May 29.—Margaret Moreland, fifth wife of Nat Goodwin, is seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's hospital where she underwent an operation. Miss Moreland was formerly an actress in Mr. Goodwin's company.

Dr. Timothy Dwight Dead.
New Haven, Conn., May 29.—Rev.
Dr. Timothy Dwight, former president of Yale university, died here on Friday in his eighty-sixth year. Doctor Dwight was born in Norwich, Conn.,
in 1828.

Wins a Sea and Air Battle.
Rome, Italy, May 27.—An Austrian
aeroplane and an Austrian gunboat
have been destroyed in a battle with
an Italian gunboat in the upper Adriatic. The crew of the Austrian craft
were taken prisoner.

Wheat Surplus in Germany.
Berlin, May 27.—H. H. Michaels, undersecretary of the interior, said that
an examination of the stocks of wheat
proved that the new harvest year will be entered upon with a surplus of 102,- 000 tons.

Refuse to Lift Ban.
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 27.—
By a vote of 434 to 380, the Methodist Episcopal general conference on Thursday refused to lift the ban on amusements. A minority report was bitterly attacked.

Children See Flyer Killed.
Pensacola, Fla., May 27.—Lieut.
James Vincent Rockwell, who was in training as an aviator, was killed when a naval airplane he was piloting dived into the gulf. His three children saw him fall.

General Gallieni Dies.
Paris, May 27.—General Gallieni,
former French minister of war, died at Versailles, following an operation for bladder trouble. He was the defender of Paris, and factor in the battle of the Marne.

WILL MARCH IN SUFFRAGE PARADE

One hundred pair of the trimmest marching feet in the country will trip blithely along Michigan Boulevard on June 7 and their small best to make the national suffrage parade at Chicago a huge success. The question belong to the Junior Auxiliary of the Chicago Political Equality league and they will march in abody.

ASKS WILSON TO ACT MUST RELEASE MAIL

SENATOR LEWIS OF ILLINOIS IN-TODUCES PEACE RESOLUTION.

U. S. SENDS NOTE TO BRITAIN
AND FRANCE.

U. S. Will Not Plead Cause of Any Single Belligerent, but Serve
Interests of All.

Washington, May 27.—A resolution requesting the president, unless incompatible with the public interest,
to suggest to warring nations of Europe that the United States undertake mediation was introduced into the senate on Thursday by Senator Lewis of Illinois, to lie on the table for discussion later.

The resolution would authorize the
president to propose that the belligerents declare a truce and that each of them select a neutral country as its representative on a board of arbitration thus created.

Each selected neutral would name
one member of the board, over which the president would preside as referee. Under the plan each belligerent would present
its demands or claims to the board,
which would be authorized to arrive
at an equitable adjustment.

The resolution recites that it is suggested as an expression of the desire for world peace and not of favoritism
for any of the belligerents.

President Wilson told callers that
the intervention of a neutral in behalf of peace in Europe could rest only
on a mutual understanding by the belligerents that terms to be arranged
are to conserve the interests of all,
and of the world at large, rather than
those of a particular nation or group
of nations among the warring powers.

Mr. Wilson gave the impression that he would make peace suggestions
only when the conditions he outlined
were likely of fulfillment.

BOSTON HAS DEFENSE PARADE

Thousands From All Walks of Life
Pass Reviewing Stands—Congressmen in Lead.

Boston, May 29.—Reiterated and moved by a simple impulse—a desire for adequate national defense—between 90,000 and 100,000 men and
women marched through the streets
of Boston in the most gigantic and
stirring patriotic demonstration ever
held in New England.

It was distinctly a civilian procession
mustered and guided by military experts. The parade was American,
head and heels. It was non-partisan, nonsectarian and without hy-
phens. Every department of endeavor in New England was represented in
line.

NEW FORD PEACE VOYAGE
Close Friends Say He May Start for Europe on June 15.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Henry Ford
may return to Europe to renew his efforts to bring about peace among the warring nations. This possibility was made public by Theodore De Lariviere,
who is in close touch with Mr. Ford.
He said Mr. Ford would leave for Stockholm about June 15.

WINS POINT IN BIG SUIT
Court Refuses to Dismiss Action Against Guggenheim's
Brothers.

New York, May 29.—William Guggenheim won the first round in his legal fight to recover $10,000,000 from
his brothers, Isaac, Daniel, Murry,
Solomon and Simon, when Justice
Benedict of the supreme court denied a motion to dismiss the case.

Mexican Bandit Is Buried.
Colima, N. M., May 29.—The bodies of the bandits, Candelario Cervantes and Juan Beaumont, were buried in the crowded Panteon, or
burial ground, on a black mesa overlooking the town of Namiqualpa.

Chicago Wins Home Rule.
Chicago, May 30.—Bertie's opinion
handed down by Judge Taylor, Jr., in
the circuit court the right of the state
public utilities commission to issue
orders to the street railways of Chicago was held invalid.

Head of Rebels Sentenced.
Dublin (via London), June 1.—Prof.
John MacNeill, president of the Sinn
Fein volunteers, convicted of complicity in the Irish revolt, has been sentenced to life imprisonment and the sentence has been confirmed.

Nat Goodwin's Wife Ill.
New York, May 29.—Margaret Moreland, fifth wife of Nat Goodwin, is seriously ill at St. Elizabeth's hospital where she underwent an operation. Miss Moreland was formerly an actress in Mr. Goodwin's company.

Dr. Timothy Dwight Dead.
New Haven, Conn., May 29.—Rev.
Dr. Timothy Dwight, former president of Yale university, died here on Friday in his eighty-sixth year. Doctor Dwight was born in Norwich, Conn.,
in 1828.

Wins a Sea and Air Battle.
Rome, Italy, May 27.—An Austrian
aeroplane and an Austrian gunboat
have been destroyed in a battle with
an Italian gunboat in the upper Adriatic. The crew of the Austrian craft
were taken prisoner.

Wheat Surplus in Germany.
Berlin, May 27.—H. H. Michaels, undersecretary of the interior, said that
an examination of the stocks of wheat
proved that the new harvest year will be entered upon with a surplus of 102,- 000 tons.

Refuse to Lift Ban.
Saratoga Springs, N. Y., May 27.—
By a vote of 434 to 380, the Methodist Episcopal general conference on Thursday refused to lift the ban on amusements. A minority report was bitterly attacked.

Children See Flyer Killed.
Pensacola, Fla., May 27.—Lieut.
James Vincent Rockwell, who was in training as an aviator, was killed when
a naval airplane he was piloting
dived into the gulf. His three children saw him fall.

General Gallieni Dies.
Paris, May 27.—General Gallieni,
former French minister of war, died at Versailles, following an operation for bladder trouble. He was the defender of Paris, and factor in the battle of the Marne.

W. N. G. STRENGTH
TO BE 10,800 MEN

REORGANIZATION BILL AS PASS-ED BY CONGRESS INCREASES
STATE MILITIA.

PRESENT NUMBER IS 3,600

Wisconsin Guard Will Be About
Trebled Under New Law and Annual Cost Will Be Pro-
portionately Increased.

Madison—Under the new army reorganization law, the Hay-Chamberlain bill as passed by congress, the Wisconsin National Guard will be increased from 3,600 men, the present
strength, to approximately 10,800 men, and the annual cost will be proportionately greater, reaching well above $500,000.

Such was the view expressed by Adjt. Gen. Orlando Holway of the Wisconsin National guard, but he said no definite statement could be made until the organization of the militia under the new law. How many organizations will be added depends altogether upon the action taken by the federal authorities and that can not
be foretold.

Under the law passed by the last legislature there is appropriated $200,- 000 for the support of the militia and
under it the various organizations
have been greatly strengthened, so
that now when the boys go into camp
next August there will be 3,600 men
gathered at Camp Douglas.

ANTI-SALOON BODY MEETS
Board of Trustees Choose Officers and Committeemen at Annual Convention in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee—At the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon League, held at the Y. M. C. A. building, the following officers and committeemen were chosen:

Pres. Rev. W. O. Carrier, Waukegan;
vice presidents—Father J. C. Hogan, Oshkosh; Rev. E. W. Burr, Beloit;
Rev. E. B. Kilduff, Milwaukee; Rev. E.
Cutler, Milwaukee; secretary and treasurer, Rev. Henry Colman, Milwaukee; state superintendent, Rev. J.
S. Lean, Milwaukee. Headquarters
committee—Revs. W. O. Carrier, Henry Colman, C. W. Schlusser, F. Swenson, D. Davis, legislative committee—Revs. E. G. Uppdike, L. Gilmore, L. H.
Keller and Hon. John F. Baker, all of Madison; Rev. J. S. Lean, Milwaukee.
National trustees—Revs. W. O. Carrier, J. S. Lean, David Bogue; alternate, Rev. S. J. Erdmeyer.

OBSERVE STATE'S BIRTHDAY
Gov. Philipp, President Van Hise and Mayor Hon. Deliver Addresses
at Sheboygan Celebration.

Sheboygan—Six hundred members of the Sheboygan Association of Commerce and their guests from all over the state, including Gov. Philipp, President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin and Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, celebrated the sixtieth birthday of the state of Wisconsin with a banquet in the Eagles' hall.

This was the second anniversary of Wisconsin day, which was originated by the Sheboygan association, and in accordance with his promise given at the banquet a year ago, Gov. Philipp read a proclamation to the people of the state suggesting the observance of Wisconsin day hereafter throughout the state and especially in the schools, but not as a holiday.

Immediately following the dinner,
telegrams of congratulation to Gov.
Philipp and the state from governors of other states and a message from President Wilson were read to the banqueters.

Lightning Kills Farmer.
Eau Claire—Edgar Moore, farmer,
living twenty miles east of here, was killed by lightning while going home
to dinner from the field. His body was found in the field, with every bit of clothing burned off. His wife, who gave birth to a baby three days ago,
is in a serious condition as a result of
the shock over the husband's death.

Signing Pickle Contracts.
Wausau—The H. J. Heinz Pickle company has decided to operate their pickle salting station in this city again
the coming summer and contracts with the farmers are now being signed.
The company expects to increase the acreage largely before the next two weeks, when planting will begin.

Shop Athletics Incorporated.
Beloit—The Fairbanks-Morse Athletic association of Beloit, has been incorporated at Madison. The corporation is for the promotion of athletic games, and the building of a gymnasium.

Will Inspect Roads.
Washington—Practically all details
have been arranged for the inspection
trip of the county board of Bayfield
on June 1 to inspect the 200 miles of county highways. Thirty-two members of the board will make the trip by automobile.

Win Plea for Re-Egalization.
Sparta—The city of Sparta won an appeal to the State Tax commission for a re-evaluation of taxes for the year 1915.

The Fourth at Wausau.
Wausau—The various societies affiliated as the German-American alliance
are to arrange a public Fourth of July celebration. There will be two addresses, one in English and one in German.

Johnson Out For Re-Election.
Madison—State Treasurer Henry
Johnson has made formal announcement that he is to be a candidate for renomination at the Republican candidate for that office.

Proceedings Barred.
Manawa—Following an injunction
on technicalities against the proceedings of the high school board, another meeting has been called for the town
and village to vote on the question of building and securing a loan of $25,000
for a high school.

McGovern Omro Speaker.
Oshkosh—Former Gov. F. E. McGovern will deliver the commencement address before the Omro High school graduating class on June 6.

Asleep at the Switch: Robbed.
Oshkosh—Peter Klimmek was sentenced to a year in the industrial school upon pleading guilty to larceny.
He was charged with stealing $110
from a companion at Menasha on May 7, while the latter was asleep on a railway track.

Military Parade at Oshkosh.
Oshkosh—Oshkosh celebrated Memorial day with a parade of military organizations and a program at Riveride cemetery.

IS VICTIM OF "GRAB" ACT
Kenosha Man Pays $10 Fine and Costs
Because He Snared Craw-
fish Out of Season.

Kenosha—The humble crab has come into its own and it is now officially recognized as "crab" on the records of the courts of Kenosha county. There always has to be a first defendant for the enforcement of any law and the distinction of being the first defendant in a case where catching crawfish out of season was charged fell to the lot of William Boelke. He was arrested by Deputy Game Warden
Emil Fox. The heinous crime of which Boelke was charged was committed out on the banks of Bain creek.
The defendant admitted that he caught crawfish and declared his ignorance of the law protecting them from being caught in certain seasons of the year.
The law provided a minimum fine of $10 and the costs, and it was paid by Boelke. He volunteered his opinion that all the craw dabs in Kenosha county were not worth the amount of the fine, to say nothing of the costs.

WOMAN THREATENS PASTOR
Mother of Seven Confesses She Wrote
Black Hand Letters to the Rev.
R. S. Ingraham.

Fond du Lac—Fond du Lac police
announced that they have the written confession of Mrs. Julia Tuckert that she wrote two black hand letters received by the Rev. R. S. Ingraham, district superintendent of the Fond du Lac District of the Methodist church, millionaire pastor, noted for his charities.

The first letter was mailed on Feb.
16, was signed "Gun Handlers", and demanded $1,500, according to the confession. The letter demanded that the money in ten and twenty dollar bills
be placed by Dr. Ingraham in the street car station at Lakeside park,
the police say. In the second letter
$2,000 was asked. According to the police the mystery was solved by a detective agency using a decoy.

WILL NOT MOVE SEMINARY

Trustees of the Reformed Church Theological School at Franklin Decide on Location.

LEFT IN A HURRY

BILL NYE TELLS HOW HE SAVED
HIS GOOD NAME.

Shoboygan—The board of trustees of the Reformed Church Theological seminary at Franklin, this county, have practically settled the location of the college for the future, at a meeting held here. Loral opinion was submitted to the trustees that the $75,- 000 jubilee rebuilding fund can not be used to erect buildings elsewhere, and as the donors are scattered all over the United States and much of the gift was in small amounts it is practically impossible to get consent to use the fund for a new location for the school.

The school now has about $100,000 invested in land and buildings at Franklin, which is about eight miles from a railroad. The people of Shoboygan were willing to donate $25,000 for buildings to bring the school here.
It is likely that a new dormitory will be built at once from the jubilee fund.

LETTER CARRIERS ELECT

BEYOND THE FRONTIER

A STORY OF EARLY DAYS

by RANDALL PARRISH

FLICKS HIS CIGAR AT HALF BILLION

AT HALF BILLION

New York Boarding House Lodger Yawns Over Ancient Castles in Wales.

FOR A SMALL HALL

ARTICLE TO TAKE PLACE OF DISCARDED HAT RACK.

CHAPTER I.

At the Home of Hugo Chevet.

It was early autumn for the clusters of grapes above me were already purple, and the forest leaves were tinged with red. And yet the air was soft, and the golden bars of sun flickered down on the work in my lap through the laced branches of the trellis. The work was but a pretense, for I had fled the house to escape the voice of Monsieur Cassion who was still urging my uncle to accompany him on his journey into the wilderness. They sat in the great room before the fireplace, drinking, and I had heard enough already to tell me there was treachery on foot against the Sieur de La Salle. To be sure it was not of such nature, a girl knowing naught of such intrigue, yet I had not forgotten the fact, three years before, when this La Salle, with others of his company, had halted before the Ursuline convent, and the sisters made them welcome. They sat in the great room before the fireplace, drinking, and I had heard enough already to tell me there was treachery on foot against the Sieur de La Salle. To be sure it was not of such nature, a girl knowing naught of such intrigue, yet I had not forgotten the fact, three years before, when this La Salle, with others of his company, had halted before the Ursuline convent, and the sisters made them welcome.

I recalled it all now, as I sat there in the silence, pretending to work, how we watched them embark in their canoes and disappear, the Indian paddlers bending to their task, and Monsieur La Salle, standing, bareheaded as he waved farewell. Beyond him was the dark face of one they called De Tonty, and to the first boat a mere boy lifted his ragged hat. I know not why, but the memory of that lad was clearer than all those others, for he had not been in the hall and we had talked long in the great window or the stater cabin, and took me away. So I remembered him, and his name, Rene d'Artigny. And in all those years I heard no more. Into the black wilderness they swept and were lost to those of us at home in New France.

No doubt there were those who knew—Frontenac, Rigot, those who ruled over us at Quebec—but 'twas not a matter supposed to interest a girl, and so no word came to me. Once I asked my Uncle Chevet, and he replied in anger with only a few sentences, bidding me hold my tongue; yet he said enough so that I knew the Sieur de La Salle lived and had built a fort far away, and was buying furs of the Indians. It was this that brought jealousy and hatred. Once Monsieur Cassion came and stopped with us, and as I waited on him and Uncle Chevet, I caught words which told me that Frontenac was La Salle's friend, and would listen to no charges brought against him. They talked of a new governor; yet I learned but little, for Cassion attempted to kiss me, and I would wait on him no more.

Then Frontenac was recalled to France, and La Barre was governor. How pleased my Uncle Chevet was when the news came, and he rapped the table with his glass and exclaimed: "Ah! but now we will pluck out the claws of this Sieur de La Salle, and send him where he belongs." But he would explain nothing, until a week later. Cassion came out to the river in his canoe with Indian paddlers, and stopped to hold conference. The man treated with much gallantry, so that I questioned him, and he seemed

He Paused an Instant to Gaze About, and Held His Hat in His Hand.

GOT MONARCH TO INTERCEDE

Frenchwoman's Clever Idea to Secure Release of Friend Who Was Prisoner of War.

They tell a very pretty story about the charming Mlle. Mistinguett, a widely and justly celebrated person in Paris. Mlle. Mistinguett had a friend—a very dear friend—who was serving his country like other brave Frenchmen when he was captured and carried off to be a prisoner among the Germans. Months had passed and this important individual was still a prisoner—and months are very long for those who wait at home. Mlle. Mistinguett was almost in despair when she remembered that she had been presented once upon a time to his majesty Alfonso XIII, king of all the Spains.

"Suppose," she said to herself, "I ask the king to intercede, so that they will let him come home?" It was a mad idea, perhaps, but the maddest ideas are sometimes those that accomplish most. Mlle. Mistinguett did actually write to the king of Spain, and in answer to her letter received one from the king's own chamberlain. Therein it was set down that "his majesty was very happy to serve her, and was going to do what he could to hasten the return to France of M. Henri Chevalier." The word of a king is the word of a gentleman. Mlle. Mistinguett is serenely confident that the long months of waiting will happy to answer that La Barre had already dispatched a party under Chevalier de Baugis, of the King's Dragoons, to take command of La Salle's Fort St. Louis in the Illinois country. La Salle had returned, and was already at Quebec, but Cassion grinned as he boasted that the new governor would not even give him audience. Bah! I despised the man, yet I lingered beside him, and thus learned that La Salle's party consisted of but two voyageurs, and the young Sieur d'Artigny. I was glad enough when he went away, though I gave him my hand to kiss, and waved to him bravely at the landing. And now he was back again, bearing a message from La Barre, and seeking volunteers for some western voyage of profit. I was of no interest to me unless my uncle joined in the enterprise, yet I was kind enough, for he brought with him word of the governor's hall at Quebec, and had won the pledge of Chevet to take me there with him. I could be gracious to him for that and it was on my gown I worked, as the two planned and talked in secret. What they did was nothing to me now—all my thought was on the ball. What would you? I was 17.

The grape trellis ran down toward the river landing, and from where I sat in the cool shadow, I could see the broad water gleaming in the sun. Suddenly, as my eyes uplifted, the dark outline of a canoe swept into the vista, and the splashing paddles turned the prow inward toward our landing. I did not move, although I watched with interest, for it was not the time of year for Indian traders, and these were white men. I could see those at the paddles, voyageurs, with gay cloths about their heads, but the one in the stern wore a hat, the brim concealing his face, and a blue coat. I knew not who it could be until the prow touched the bank, and he stepped ashore. Then I knew, and bent low over my sewing, as though I had seen nothing, although my heart beat fast. Through lowered lashes I saw him give brief order to the men, and then advance toward the house alone. Ah! but this was not the slender, laughing-eyed boy of three years before. The wilderness had made of him a man—a soldier. He paused an instant to gaze about, and held his hat in his hand, the sun touching his tanned cheeks, and revealing the long, light-colored hair.

"Mademoiselle," he said gently, "pardon me, but is not this the home of Hugo Chevet, the fur trader?" I looked up into his face and bowed as he swept the earth with his hat, seeing at a glance that he had no remembrance of me. "Yes," I answered. "If you seek him, rap on the door beyond." "It is not so much Chevet I seek," he said, showing no inclination to pass me, "but one whom I understood to be his guest—Monsieur Francois Cassion."

"The man is here," I answered quickly, yet unable to conceal my surprise, "but you will find him no friend to Sieur de La Salle."

"Ah!" he said and stared at me intently. "In the name of the saints, what is the meaning of this? You know me then?" I bowed, yet my eyes remained hidden.

"I knew you once as monsieur's friend," I said, almost regretting my indiscretion, "and have been told you traded in his company."

"You know me once?" he laughed. "Surely that cannot be, for never would I be likely to forget. I challenge you, mademoiselle, to speak my name."

"The Sieur Rene d'Artigny, monsieur."

"By my faith, the witch is right, and yet in all this New France I know scarce a maid. Nay look up; there is naught to fear from me, and I would see if memory be not new born. Saint Gilest surely 'tis true; I have seen those eyes before; why, the name is on my tongue, yet fails me, lost in the wilderness. I pray you mercy, mademoiselle!"

"You have memory of the face you say?"

"Ay! the witchery of it; 'tis like a haunting spirit."

"Which did not haunt long, I warrant. I am Adele la Chesnayne, monsieur."

He stepped back, his eyes on mine, questioning. For an instant I believed the name even brought no familiar sound; then his face brightened and his eyes smiled as his lips echoed the words.

"Adele la Chesnayne! Ah! now I know. Why 'tis no less than a miracle. It was a child I thought of under that name—a slender, brown-eyed girl, as blithe as a bird. No, I had not forgotten; only the magic of three years had passed. And the teller of the story thinks that Mlle. Mistinguett is right."

years has made of you a woman. Again and again he questioned in Montreal and Quebec, but no one seemed to know. At the convent they said your father fell in Indian skirmish."

"Yes; ever since then I have lived here, with my uncle, Hugo Chevet."

"Here!" he looked about, as though the dreadfulness of it was first noticed. "Alone? Is there no other woman?"

I shook my head, but no longer looked at him, for fear he might see the tears in my eyes.

"I am the housekeeper, monsieur. There was nothing else for me. In France, I am told, my father's people were well born, but this is not France, and there was no choice. Besides I was but a child of 14."

"And 17, now, mademoiselle," and he took my hand gallantly. "Pardon if I have asked questions which bring pain. I can understand much, for in Montreal I heard tales of this Hugo Chevet."

"He is rough, a woodsman," I defended, "yet not unkind to me. You will speak him fair?"

He laughed, his eyes sparkling with merriment.

"No fear of my neglecting all courtesy, for I come beseeching a favor. I have learned the lesson of when the soft speech wins more than the iron hand. And this other, the Commissaire Cassion—is he a bird of the same plumage?"

I made a little gesture, and glanced back at the closed door.

"Oh, no, he is the courtier, to stab with words, not deeds. Chevet is rough of speech, and hard of hand, but he fights in the open; Cassion has a double tongue, and one never knows him."

"So 'tis said, and has been chosen by the governor to bear message to De Baugis in the Illinois country. I seek passage in his company."

"You! I thought you were of the party of Sieur de La Salle?"

"I am," he answered honestly, "yet Cassion will need a guide, and there is none save myself in all New France who has ever made that journey."

"Will he ever for him to listen to my plan. And why not? We do not fight the orders of the governor; we obey, and wait. Monsieur de La Salle will tell his story to the king."

"The King? To Louis?"

"Ay, 'twill not be the first time he has had audience, and already he is at sea. We can wait, and laugh at this Cassion over his useless journey."

"But he—he is treacherous, monsieur."

He laughed as though the words amused.

"To one who has lived as I, amid savages, treachery is an old story. The commissaire will not find me asleep. We will serve each other, and let it go at that. Ah! we are to be interrupted."

He straightened up facing the door, and I turned, confronting my uncle as he emerged in advance. He was a burly man, with iron gray hair, and face reddened by out-of-doors; and he stopped in surprise at sight of a stranger, his eyes hardening with suspicion.

"And who is this with whom you converse so privately, Adele?" he questioned brusquely, "a young popinjay new to these parts I venture."

D'Artigny stepped between us, smiling in good humor.

"My call was upon you, Monsieur Chevet, and not the young lady," he said calmly enough, yet with a tone to the voice. "I merely asked her if I had found the right place, and if Monsieur the Commissaire Cassion was still your guest."

"And what, may I ask, might be your business with the Commissaire Cassion?" asked the latter, pressing past Chevet, yet bowing with a semblance of politeness, scarcely in accord with the studied insolence of his words. "I have no remembrance of your face."

"Then, Monsieur Cassion is not observant," returned the younger man pleasantly, "as I accompanied the Sieur de La Salle in his attempt to have audience with the governor."

"Ah!" the word of surprise exploded from the lips. "Sacre! 'tis true! My faith, what difference clothes make. I mistook you for a courier du bois."

"I am the Sieur Rene d'Artigny," "Lieutenant of La Salle's."

"Scarcely that, monsieur, but a comrade; for three years I have been with his party, and was chosen by him for this mission."

against the best of them. Francois Cassion is not likely to be caught asleep, my good Hugo."

CHAPTER II.

The Choice of a Husband.

It was just before dark when Monsieur Cassion left us, and I watched him go gladly enough, hidden behind the shade of my window. He had been talking for an hour with Chevet in the room below; I could hear the rattle of glasses, as though they drank, and the unpleasant arrogance of his voice, although no words reached me clearly. I cared little what he said, although I wondered at his purpose in being there, and what object he might have in this long converse with my uncle. Yet I was not sent for, and no doubt it was some conference over furs, of no great interest. The two were in some scheme I knew to gain advantage over Sieur de La Salle, and were much elated now that La Barre held power; but that was nothing for a girl to understand, so I worked on with busy fingers, my mind not forgetful of the young Sieur d'Artigny.

Chevet did not return to the house after Monsieur Cassion's canoe had disappeared. I saw him walking back and forth along the river bank, smoking, and seemingly thinking out some problem. Nor did he appear until I had the evening meal ready, and called to him down the arbor. He was always gruff and bearish enough when we were alone, seldom speaking, indeed, except to give utterance to some order, but this night he appeared even more morose and silent than his wont, not so much as looking at me as he took seat, and began to eat. No doubt Cassion had brought ill news, or else the appearance of d'Artigny had served to arouse all his old animosity toward La Salle. It was little to me, however, and I had learned to ignore his moods, so I took my own place silently, and paid no heed to the scowl with which he surveyed me across the table. No doubt my very indifference flamed his discontent, but I remained ignorant of it, until he burst out savagely.

"And so you know this young cockerel, do you? You know him, and never told me? Where before did you ever meet this popinjay?"

"At the convent three years ago. La Salle rested there over night, and young d'Artigny was of the party. He was but a boy then."

"He came here today to see you?"

"No, never," I protested. "I doubt if he even had the memory of me until I told him who I was. Surely he explained clearly why he came."

He eyed me fiercely, his face full of suspicion, his great hand gripping the knife.

"This will for you if that be true," he said gruffly, "but I have no faith in the lad's words. He is here as La Salle's spy, and so I told Cassion, though the only honor he did me was to laugh at my warning. 'Let him spy,' he said, 'and I will play at the same game; 'tis little enough he will learn, and we shall need his guidance. Ay! and he may be right, but I want nothing to do with the fellow.' Cassion may give him place in his boots, if he will, but never again shall he set foot on my land, nor have speech with you. You mark my words, mademoiselle?"

"I felt the color flame into my cheeks, and knew my eyes darkened with anger, yet made effort to control my speech."

"Yes, monsieur; I am your ward and have always been obedient, yet this Sieur d'Artigny seems a pleasant spoken young man, and surely 'tis no crime that he serves the Sieur de La Salle."

"Is it not?" he burst forth, striking the table with his fist. "Know you not I would be rich but for that far stealer. By right those should be my furs he sends here in trade. There will be another tale to tell soon, now that La Barre hath the reins of power; and this d'Artigny—bah! What care I for that young cockerel—but I hate the brood. Listen, girl, I pay my debts; to meet you there also, or perchance later at the boat landing?"

"At the ball, monsieur. 'Tis three years since I have danced to measure, but it will be a joy to look on, and keep company with Monsieur Chevet. Nor shall I fail you at the boats; until then, monsieur," and he bowed half in hand, "and to you, mademoiselle, adieu."

We watched him go down the grape arbor to the canoe, and no one spoke but Cassion.

"Pouf! he thinks well of himself, that young cockerel, and 'twill likely be my part to clip his spurs. Still 'tis good policy to have him with us, for 'tis a long journey. What say you, Chevet?"

"That he is one to watch," answered my uncle gruffly. "I trust none of La Salle's brood."

"No, nor I, for the matter of that, but I am willing to pit my brains person) advance you from the second to the first class of the Order of the Golden Goat." With these words he pinned upon the minister's swelling chest the new decoration. Of course it was necessary to remove the old decoration first. This, with its collection of real stones, he dropped carelessly into one of the royal pockets.

Miners to Have Warm Meals. A large coal mining company has arranged to provide warm, substantial meals to the men working from 200 to 400 feet underground. An electric range has been installed in one of the lowest chambers of the mine. In this are prepared hot lunches which are served in an underground restaurant at prices barely covering the cost of the food. It has been found that this not only adds to the comfort of the men who had hitherto been compelled to eat cold food, but it also adds to their productive capacity. A marked increase in the amount of coal taken out was noted the first month after the electric range was installed.

To Cleanse After Oil. To clean glass bottles that have held oil, place ashes in each and immerse in cold water; then heat the water gradually until it boils. After boiling for an hour let the bottles remain in the water until cold, afterward washing in soapsuds and rinsing in clear water.

Becomes a Bore. The trouble with a man who has a gift of language is that he's always too liberal in dividing it around among his friends.

Poker Player Evidently. "The landlord has raised the rent again."

"Well?"

"Shall we drop out or stay?"

LONG LOST DAUGHTER FOUND

Indiana Woman, After Search of Thirty Years, Locates Kin at Hannibal, Mo.

Bedford, Ind.—Mrs. John Whitman, after a search of more than twenty-four years, has found her daughter, who she alleges, was taken from her. Mrs. Laura Brooks, the daughter, lives at Hannibal, Mo. Thirty years ago Mrs. Whitman was Mrs. William H. Turned. She and her husband lived at Mitchell. She obtained a divorce from her husband when the daughter was four years old. One day the father, so Mrs. Whitman says, asked permission to take the child downtown, and the mother only lately discovered what had become of her, although she had not failed to search.

ROSETTES FOR THE GIRDLE

Designs of the Cartwheel Variety Used as Fastenings—Shoulder Straps and Sleeves of Maltines.

The hall piece that is now banished by fashion is the hat rack—the poor old thing! Think of being banished after years of such faithful service! And by some sort of reactionary principle the piece that is reclaimed from infrequent use is the wardrobe.

Not only movable hat racks but the built-in type of thing, the looking glass with books at each side and arms extended in embracing curves to support willy wet umbrellas—old familiar, that seemed devoted essential to all well regulated halls a year or so ago—are irrevocably doomed. The sad fact must be faced: "They have gone out of style!"

In conformity with the general trend toward better taste in home furnishing, nothing is allowable that has an untidy air, and certainly nothing was ever more untidy in appearance than the hat rack burdened with a miscellaneous lot of hats and wraps hanging in dejected folds, and not only exposed to view but, what was even more lamentable, exposed to dust. Unsanitary and unhygienic was the verdict at the post-mortem.

If furnishings are elaborate throughout, the hall pieces are, of course, correspondingly so. Simple taste often calls for the most expensive materials. A hall may boast nothing more than a good piece of tapestry, a fine gothic chest, and a pair of torchieres, a paneled wall and mosaic floor, with a fine pool thrown down on it—all this is simple enough—only one piece of furniture really—yet its cost would completely furnish the average home.

We can always strike a happy medium. Instead of a genuine tapestry we can use an attractive little mirror, one that will conform to the style in which our furnishing is done. Below this may be a table, with a chair at either side, or, if space forbids, a chair on one side only. It is a great convenience to have a small clock, preferably an inexpensive little eight-day clock, on the hall table. Here may also rest the maid's little silver card receiver, and it is quite necessary that the table should have a drawer and that pen and ink, pencil and pad should be kept in this drawer, so that signing of receipts at the door for parcels and notes, etc., can be attended to without the confusion of having to run around and look for writing materials while a messenger waits.

DAINTY HOME-MADE BLOUSE

Of Filipino Embroidery and Lace, It May Easily Be Fashioned in Half a Day.

Everybody admires a dainty blouse and nearly every woman is able to make one for herself if she can get just the right sort of material. But for the busy woman, at any rate, there must be some indication to warrant the time and work that go to the making of even the simplest waist.

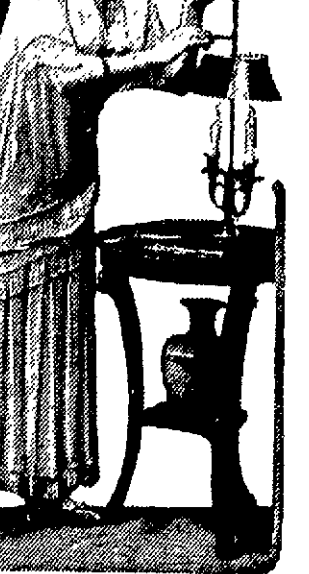

Filipino hand embroidered blouse patterns can now be got for $3.50, or with elaborately embroidered collars, for $5.50. With the addition of 1 1/2 yards of mercerized batiste at 75 cents a yard, 4 yards of insertion at 18 cents, and 1 1/2 yards of lace edging at 25 cents a yard, materials for a lovely blouse can be got together.

A little blouse of this sort, made by a girl who is in an office all day, was edged up and down the front and around the square turnover collar with inch and a half calais val lace. The back was made in batiste panels alternating with lace insertion. The narrow embroidered strip which came with the pattern intended for a collar was used as the central panel of the back and the cuff pieces were let into the sleeves lengthwise and bordered by insertion to make deep cuffs. This blouse was finished by hemstitching around the tops of the sleeves, to outline the collar and cuffs and down the front. This added a dollar to the cost, but was just the necessary touch needed to make it complete. The girl spent about five hours of her evening time at cutting out, whipping on the lace and sewing up, and the entire cost was $6.75.

There will be a good six months' more of wear in a blouse like this than a ready-made waist will give and its very daintiness demands hand washing, a trifling exertion which only adds to the economy.

CREPE DE CHINE NEGLIGEE

Negligee of pale pink crepe de chine with plaited skirt. The entire negligee is trimmed with silver beading fringe.

MADE DRESS FROM OLD COAT

Economical Woman Tells How She Constructed Pretty Garment for Her Small Daughter.

How I made a dress for my little girl from a suit coat of my own: I first ripped, washed and pressed the goods carefully. Using the least worn parts of an old flannel night gown, I cut a fitted lining. The coat from which the dress was made was one made with a seam from the center of the shoulder seam at front and back; thus the back was made of three sections and each front of two. Placing the center back on the center back of lining and each back side gore at each side so as to cover lining at arm's eye, and placing fronts on each front lining in like manner, it left a small portion of lining exposed between the gores.

Over these I fitted a box plait of material, allowing to lap enough to slit a half-inch from edge all around and ending just below the top of the belt three inches wide, cut from one of the front facings.

The coat was long enough to make the whole dress, and was gathered into the belt at the hips, one end of belt lapping over the other at the front, where the dress opened. The belt was placed over material, not cutting it away. The sleeves furnished sleeves again.

The neck was finished with a sailor collar which, with the box plait, were cut from small pieces which I had remaining when the suit was made. The dress buttoned down the front to the belt, which was made loose enough to slip over the head.

I finished with new smoked pearl buttons, these being all the expense of a stylish-looking little dress.—Mrs. A. M. in Baltimore American.

Smart Gray Frock.

Rather dark gray taffeta in the new shade called slate is used for a charming spring tulle, which shows the close fitting waist and full flaring skirt silhouette of the moment. In addition, to a facing of resilient lining in the hem, the skirt is tuniced by a cord. The foot of the tunic is also faced with stiffening, and tunic and cuffs are embroidered with silver and gold threads. The coat has a feathered lining, so that it makes the waistline trim, and the draped collar is particularly chic.

FASHION HINTS

Most of the new fashions suggest those of bygone days.

There will be a great wave of pompadour silks this season.

We may still have pockets in our skirts and be fashionable.

Big black insects are the sole trimming of many of the new hats.

Lingerie, with a touch of Chinese embroidery, is new and very rich.

Quillings and ruffles are the quaint trimmings adopted for taffeta frocks.

The latest stockings are those of black silk with gold-sized polka dots in white embroidery on them.

If you have not the time to make a handkerchief linen embroidered blouse, buy the plain linen blouse and embroider it.

D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema Soap
For 15 years the standard skin remedy—liquid used externally—infant relief from itching—the mildest of cleansers—keeps the skin always clean and healthy. Come in and ask us about this.
J. E. DALY, DRUGGIST.

JUST ARRIVED
A WHOLE CARLOAD OF
NEW PIANOS
COME AND LOOK THEM OVER

We Have Just Received another carload of pianos from the factory of the famous Cable Company. There is nothing in the piano line that cannot be found among the products of this company, and you will do well to look their stock over.

Mrs. F. P. Daly
Grand Rapids, Wis.

For the Man who has $20 To Spend for a Suit Here's a Message You Can't Attach Too Much Importance To

"Intensely Individual"
---these two words describe the splendid Suits in this Sale. These garments were made to intensify your individuality. These Suits add a touch of refinement which will brand you as a well-dressed man.

They contain that snap and go---if you please---which we all distinguish at a glance in others---but which is so hard to describe and impossible to imitate in clothes---which are not right in material---right in style---and exactly right in the tailoring.

Abel-Mullen Clothes

Yes sir; we'll just give you our best word that when you buy one of these Suits at $20 you'll get your money's worth---your full money's worth.

And Our $15 Suits

are first cousins to the higher priced garments---don't claim that they are as good, understand, but they are not ashamed of their relationship. See them.

Abel-Mullen Co.
Look for the Red Sign, A. M. CO.

LOCAL ITEMS

Miss Clara Hamm is visiting in Milwaukee.

Mrs. Nan Schlatterer spent Sunday at Mosinee with her daughter.

Mrs. R. L. Nash is visiting with her parents at Portage this week.

Dr. C. A. Boorman is having his home remodeled and repainted.

Mrs. Chas. Kluge is visiting with relatives in Milwaukee this week.

Atty. J. J. Jeffrey transacted legal business in Sheboygan Saturday.

Dr. Russell Lyon of Wausau was a business visitor in the city on Monday.

Miss Lela Steen expects to leave in two weeks for Valparaiso, Indiana, for a visit.

Henry Smith caught a 3 pound trout in the Seven Mile Creek on Sunday.

Misses Maude and Georgia Griffin visited with relatives in Seymour on Sunday.

B. G. Eggert was in the city on Saturday looking after some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bernard of Waukesha are in the city for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Vaughan visited with relatives in Waukegan Ill., the past week.

Misses Gertrude Reiland and Bessie Buckley are visiting in Appleton for a few days.

City C. E. Briere spent Saturday in Wausau on business. The trip was made by auto.

The Atwood farm, consisting of 40 acres, east of the city, was purchased by August Giebek.

Jos. P. Lamers of the town of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tewes of Merrill visited over Sunday at the John Rickman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas and family of Sherry were business visitors in the city on Monday.

Carl Kronholm, of the town of Sigel, was among the business callers at this office on Saturday.

Clement Mellicke caught a good sized sturgeon one day last week while fishing in the river.

Mr. and Mrs. James Corcoran of Webster arrived in the city Saturday for a visit with relatives.

Jos. Krause of Atlanta has been a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dr. Edw. Houghen the past week.

W. I. Collins went to Stevens Point Thursday to attend the Bankers Convention. He returned home on Friday.

Mrs. August Waldo of Edgerton is in the city for a two months visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Maier.

Misses Chas. and Jas. Natwick autoed to Plainfield Sunday, where they visited with their sister, Mrs. Ed. Rozell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hirz and family of Stevens Point spent Thursday in the city, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hirz.

C. O. Baker of Greenwood spent several days in the city last week, having come over to attend Memorial Day exercises.

Joe Kirschling, accompanied by his son Felix, went to Green Bay Friday where he submitted to an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Henry Knoll and children departed on Monday for Eureka where she will spend a week visiting at the home of her brother.

Chas. Schroeder, who has been away several months taking treatment for his health, has returned very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bissig autoed up from Berlin on Wednesday and spent several days in this city and City Point on business.

Will Metzger, president of the graduation class, has been seriously ill since graduation with a threatened attack of typhoid fever.

Charles Henka of the town of Grant was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Saturday.

Mr. Henka reports that they have been having plenty of rain out his way even for a sandy country.

Matt Stitzer, one of the hustling young farmers of the town of Carson was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city on business.

Sheriff Cliff Bluel returned Saturday from Minnesota where he had been on business. He brought back a Mansfield man wanted for abandonment.

Miss Hattie Leibel, who has been teaching the past winter at Black River Falls, is home to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reichel.

Prof. E. L. Hayward has purchased Atty. Hugh Goggins' Pullman touring car. Mr. Goggins has since purchased a Harley-Davidson two sealed motorcycle.

Miss Rebecca Johnson, who has been teaching at Emporia, Kansas, during the past winter, has come to spend the summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. N. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Metzger of Spencer, who have been visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Metzger, returned to their home on Saturday.

Rev. Adolph Wittman, the newly ordained priest from Denver, Colo., will arrive Friday, P. M. Bauer and family at Sunny Side farm.

Mrs. August Sutor of Marshfield spent Sunday in the city with relatives. She was accompanied home by Miss Ethel Sutor who will visit at Marshfield for several days.

Mrs. George Smith of Seattle, Washington, arrived in the city Monday evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briere. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Caroline Briere.

James Lynch moved into his new barber shop last week, and is now nicely settled in the place. The building, while not large, makes a pretty good place for a small barber shop.

The Cliff House at Needah which is well known to Grand Rapids tourists, has been sold to Frank Melchior of that city, who will remodel the structure and make a first class hotel out of it.

At the council meeting last night the matter of granting a license to the Barnes circus was taken up and discussed and it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the mayor and city attorney for settlement.

H. B. Welland is having plans completed for a modern bungalow which he will commence building in a short time on his lot west of his home.

Mr. Welland intends to build of tile with a stucco finish.

Robert Reid, one of the progressive farmers of Arpin, favored this week called at this office on Wednesday to advance his subscription for another year. Mr. Reid reports everything growing fine down his way.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Conway entertained their friends at a buffet supper, followed by bridge on Wednesday evening. The favors were awarded to I. P. Witter, Geo. K. Gibbons, Mrs. L. E. Nash, and Roy Rogers.

Bert Smith, one of the progressive farmers of Arpin, favored this week with a pleasant call on Monday while in the city on business. Mr. Smith informs us that crops are doing well his way and everybody is prosperous.

Bob Fredericks, the Nekosia wrestler, is home from the coast for a few days to visit his parents. Monday night Bob was initiated into the Elks lodge. Bob is matched to meet Stecher in a finish match at Omaha July 4th.

County Supt. Geo. A. Varney was in the city on Saturday looking after business in his line. Mr. Varney has almost entirely recovered from the attack of rheumatism from which he has been suffering the past couple of months.

Mrs. O. R. Moore was called to Baraboo on Tuesday, having received the sad intelligence the day before of the death of her father, which occurred at Indianapolis on Monday. The remains were taken to the old home of the deceased at Baraboo for burial.

Misses Anna and Meta Natwick returned on Saturday from an extended visit in Baltimore, Maryland, and Virginia. They departed on Sunday afternoon for a visit at the home of their sister, Mrs. E. Rozell at Plainfield.

The second annual ball given by the Loyal Order of Moose at the Pavilion on Friday evening was a big success. There was a large crowd out and all enjoyed a good time. The Moose lodge is gaining quite a reputation for their dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Ernsner are expected to arrive home this week from Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Ernsner had been to consult specialists regarding his eyes. It is understood that Mr. Ernsner will not have to submit to an operation.

Miss Marie Lopez entertained a party of lady friends at her home on Saturday afternoon for Miss Lucille Church, the afternoon being spent in playing auction bridge. The favors were awarded to Miss Marion Jackson and Miss Church.

Leonard Reinhardt sold his home on Eighth Street the past week to Ed. Smith, the innkeeper, who will take possession of the same within the next thirty days. Mr. Reinhardt is considering building another home on his Eighth Street lot.

Anton Kayser of the town of Grand Rapids, was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mr. Kayser reports that everything is coming along nicely down his way, notwithstanding that the season has been a trifle backward up to date.

Mrs. John Hilderman, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been visiting at the home of her brother, Louis Podoratz, in the town of Sigel, the past week, has returned to her home. Her son Ted accompanied her on the journey and will visit there for some time.

The MacKinnon Mfg. Company will again commence to blow their whistle at the time any tire alarm is turned on. This is done at the request of some of the firemen who are unable to hear the other whistle, owing to the distance they live from the mill.

Mrs. W. F. Kellogg entertained a party of friends at a luncheon at her home on Monday afternoon in a most delightful manner. The afternoon was spent in playing cards, the favors being awarded to Mrs. W. J. Conway, Mrs. Cella Gibson and Mrs. J. S. Thompson.

Winifred Scott of Seymour was in the city on Saturday on her way home from Rudolph where he had been for several days on business. Mr. Scott reports that his wife has not been well the past winter and that they intend to have an X-Ray examination at Appleton next week.

John Jung and wife departed on Sunday for Minneapolis in their auto. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jung's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Langer of Rudolph. They expect to be gone about ten days and while away Mr. Jung will consult specialists regarding his ailment.

Oscar Croteau, the popular salesman in the clothing department at the Johnson & Hill Co. store completed the erection of a new modern hip roof barn with basement on his farm near Rudolph on Friday. The barn is 36x62 and was built by Leonard and Haunschild of Pittsville.

Mrs. Chas. Genger left on Tuesday for Duluth, where she will visit with her son Phil for a week or more.

Mrs. John Steib expects to leave next Monday for Portland, Oregon, where she will spend a couple of months visiting with her son. She will be accompanied on the trip by her little grand daughter from Nekosia.

The following class of fourteen young people were confirmed at the German Lutheran church, on the east side, Sunday evening: Roy Kluge, Leslie Plenke, Ervin Hannaman, Carl Ringland, Carl Martin, Morris Kleberg, Evelyn Hall, Emeline Wachs, Clara Knoll, Sylvia Huxford, Clara Krumrei, Loretta Kluge, Anna Giese, Lucille Plenke.

The Eagles held initiation at their hall on Monday evening, twenty-six more new members being taken in the order. There was a feed and smoker after the business meeting and a very pleasant time was had. Among the out of town guests at the meeting was State President R. J. Strauss of Marshfield and State Secretary C. A. Dittman of La Crosse.

Owing to the copious downpour that occurred last Thursday evening there was no hand concert, altho the boys were all ready to play. Should the weather be nice, there will be a band concert next Thursday evening.

Marshfield is to have a new depot where the Omaha and Northwestern stop, and which is generally known as the Omaha. The new structure will cost $50,000, and will be the nicest thing of the kind in that city. The old depot has stood for many years, and has ceased to be anomalous to the surrounding scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Burchell of Port Arthur, Ontario, spent several days in the city last week visiting with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Burchell were on their wedding tour, having been married on the 22nd of May. Mr. Burchell is still in the employ of the Pigeon River Lumber Company at Port Arthur.

John Schuetz of the town of Sigel was among the callers at the Tribune office on Thursday. Mr. Schuetz had seen the items recently published in the Tribune relative to the flock of wild pigeons that had been seen in the vicinity of Dexterville recently. Mr. Schuetz stated that three years ago this summer he saw a flock of wild pigeons that numbered fully 250 that flew over him one Sunday while on the road. He is sure that they were the passenger pigeon of days gone by for the reason that he has seen millions of the passenger pigeons and at the time when they were thick in Wisconsin he killed many of them. Mr. Schuetz was born in Wisconsin and has lived here all his life and says he knows what a wild pigeon looks like as well as he does a sparrow and is sure of his ground in the matter. Mr. Schuetz can remember a time many years ago when an immense number of the pigeons were drowned in Lake Michigan by being blown out over the lake during a gale, and he states that after the storm was over that the birds were strewn along the beach by the thousand. While he says this he doubts depleted their numbers very materially, that he does not think they were exterminated at that time, for several reasons.

FOR SALE—New home. East 1/2 lot 1 and all lot 6, sec. 5-Tn. 20, Range 6, containing 71 acres. Price $700.00, $100.00 cash, balance to suit at 5 per cent interest. Address owner, L. W. Murdoch, 1310 Webster St., Oakland, Cal. 81

FOR SALE—24 acres of land 1/2 mile south of city limits on R. 8. Will sell very reasonable; might take in good 1915 touring car as part payment. For particulars inquire of J. Gottfried, Box 38, R. 6. 31

FOR SALE—Typewriter. Oliver No. 3 good as new. Inquire at this office. 11

Doctor Coming
Dr. W. E. Jurden
The Successful Specialist
Of Eau Claire, Wis.

Will be in Grand Rapids at the Commercial Hotel, Wednesday, June 14. Office hours, 9 A. M. till 9 P. M. (Regular and also special State License.)

Dr. Jurden is one of the best known, longest established, absolutely reliable and successful specialists in the state; an expert in the treatment of all curable chronic diseases and will cure you whatever your ailment in a way that will astonish you.

SPECIALIST
For all Nervous and Chronic Diseases. Physician and surgeon. 30 years in special, hospital and private practice. Treating all forms of stubborn syphilitic diseases.

Consultation Free to the Sick
An honest opinion always given, diagnosis, prognosis, and in the incurable such advice as may prolong life.

Dr. Jurden has merited by skill and success the confidence he maintains.

Many wonderful cures in diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, heart, lungs, nerves, and rheumatism, gall stones, gravel, appendicitis, fistula, piles and other rectal diseases, constitutional diseases, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh of the throat, stomach, bladder, etc. Nervous debility, falling memory, over work, sore eyes, deafness, eye and ear diseases, blood and skin diseases, blood poisons, pimples, spots, tetter, ulcers, eczema, tumors, scrofula, cancer where the roots do not extend to vital parts, cancer, swellings of the neck, hydrocele, enlargements, tape worms, diabetes, urinary, kidney and bladder diseases, dropsy, fits, varicose veins, enlarged glands, tissue waste, catarrh discharges, drains, obstructions, weakness, and all constitutional and serious internal diseases that baffle the skill of many physicians.

Debilitated, Despondent Men and Women. Young and Old. Men Nervous Discouraged. Weak Women.

Get the Truth DR. JURDEN
CONSULT
Examination free—He gives you his years of SCIENCE AND EXPERIENCE.
Makes regular visits to a few cities. Owes his medical institute, building and dispensary to the city of Eau Claire.

WRITE—Treatment sent as directed. Address W. E. JURDEN, M. D. 1529 S. Farwell St., Eau Claire, Wis.

Positively Only BIG CIRCUS Coming This Season
Only Real Wild Animal Show On Earth
AL. G. BARNES
BIG 4 RING WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS
The Show That's Different

1000	PERFORMING ANIMALS	1000	65	BIG SENSATIONAL ANIMAL ACTS	65
------	--------------------	------	----	-----------------------------	----

Performing Jungle-Bred Lions, Tigers, Leopards, Jaguars, Grizzley, Cinnamon, Siberian and Polar Bears, Seals, Sea Lions, Elephants, Camels, Zebras, Zubas, Hyenas, Sacred Cattle, Kangaroos, Ourang-Outangs, Apes, Chimpanzes, Monkeys, Mountain Goats, Dogs, Ponies, Pigs, Etc.

S E E

The Worlds Only Performing Llamas.
Tom, Dick and Harry—Horse-Riding Seals.
Big Bill—Wrestling Grizzley.
Tot and Tiny—Smallest Educated Horses.
Performing Persian Leopards and Jaguars.
Tom, Jerry and Louie—Horse-Riding Lions.
The World's Only Educated Zebras.
The High Diving Dogs and Monkeys.
Danger, Dynamite, Cactus and Gun Powder—Just Mules.
The Only Performing Canels in the World including
Holy Moses, Sacred Arabian Black Camel
The High School and Tango Dancing Horses.
The Groupe of Performing South American Pumas.
A Sextette of Trained Laughing Hyenas.
The Riding, Driving, Racing Ostriches.
The Musical Carrier Pigeons.
The World's Only Groupe of Performing Bengal Tigers.
The Funny Clown Pigeons.

30 FULL GROWN AFRICAN LIONS 30
WORLD'S CHALLENGE GROUP. IN ONE ACT. VALUE $50,000

SAMPSON, AERIAL LION rides in Balloon, surrounded by shooting Skyrockets. The most amazing wild animal act extant.

550 HIGH-SCHOOL RIDING, DANCING AND MILITARY HORSES AND PONIES 550
World's Premium Stock. Every one an actor.

40 ANIMAL CLOWNS—550 PEOPLE—6 CONCERT BANDS
150 Animal Trainers—Two big special trunks—Three Calliopes

Glittering Mile-Long Street Parade at 10:30 A. M.
Performances Rain or Shine 2 and 8 p. m. Doors open at 1 and 7.

SEE THE BIG FREE-TO-EVERYBODY ACTS
on the show grounds at 1 o'clock. You'll have time after the parade to get dinner and the nbe on the show grounds in ample time for the big free features.

WILL EXHIBIT AT
GRAND RAPIDS, 19
Monday, June
REMEMBER THE DAY AND DATE—MARK IT ON YOUR CALENDAR.

It's the Value That Counts
Regardless of whether you buy a complete outfit or just a handkerchief, you must get VALUE---Our "Money Back" guarantee is your value insurance.

Men's Suits light and medium weight; unlined and skeleton-lined; stripes, checks, plaids, rich mixtures, plain weave and solid colors.
$13.50 to $27.50

Shirts . . . . . plain and pleated bosoms, soft and starched cuffs; in all the latest summer fabrics, in an extraordinary variety of new designs and colors.
$1.00 to $5.00

Underwear . . . . . drop-seat and closed crotch athletic and knit Union Suits and single garments, sleeveless, short and full length;
$1.00 to $2.50

Hosiery . . . . . full fashioned hose, with cotton soles, all-silk, silk thread and lisle, plain with clocking, black, white, tan, navy blue, gray and fancy
25c, 35c, 50c

Neckwear . . . . . open-end four-in-hands, bows, windsors; a rich assortment of the best, made from beautiful silks, both imported and domestic, bound to find "just my tie"
25c to $1.50

Shoes . . . . . summer oxfords and light-weight high shoes; an excellent selection of perfect fitting lasts in blacks and tans; you are sure to be properly fitted.
$3.00 to $5.00

And you will also find all the rest of the complete outfit at this headquarters of the UTMOST IN VALUES.

Abel & Podawiltz Co., Inc.
MYER FRIDSTEIN, Pres.
GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN
"YOUR MONEY'S WORTH OR YOUR MONEY BACK"

D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema Soap

J. E. DALY, DRUGGIST.

JUST ARRIVED A WHOLE CARLOAD OF NEW PIANOS

COME AND LOOK THEM OVER

We Have Just Received another carload of pianos from the factory of the famous Cable Company. There is nothing in the piano line that cannot be found among the products of this company, and you will do well to look their stock over.

Mrs. F. P. Daly

Grand Rapids, Wis.

For the Man who has $20

To Spend for a Suit
Here's a Message You Can't

Attach Too Much Importance To

"Intensely individual"

---these two words describe the splendid Suits in this Sale. These garments were made to intensify your individuality. These Suits add a touch of refinement which will brand you as a well-dressed man.

They contain that snap and go---if you please---which we all distinguish at a glance in others---but which is so hard to describe and impossible to imitate in clothes---which are not right in material---right in style---and exactly right in the tailoring.

Abel-Mullen Clothes

Yes sir; we'll just give you our best word that when you buy one of these Suits at $20 you'll get your money's worth---your full money's worth.

And Our $15 Suits

are first cousins to the higher priced garments---don't claim that they are as good, understand, but they are not ashamed of their relationship. See them.

Abel-Mullen Co.

Look for the Red Sign, A. M. CO.

LOCAL ITEMS

Miss Clara Hamm is visiting in Milwaukee.

Mrs. N. Schlatterer spent Sunday at Mosinee with her daughter.

Mrs. R. L. Nash is visiting with her parents at Portage this week.

Dr. C. A. Boorman is having his home remodeled and repainted.

Mrs. Chas. Kluge is visiting with relatives in Milwaukee this week.

Atty. J. J. Jeffrey transacted legal business in Sheboygan on Saturday.

Dr. Russell Lyon of Wausau was a business visitor in the city on Monday.

Miss Lela Steen expects to leave in two weeks for Valparaiso, Indiana, for a visit.

Henry Smith caught a 3 pound trout in the Seven Mile Creek on Sunday.

Misses Maude and Georgia Griffith visited with relatives in Seymour on Sunday.

B. G. Eggert was in the city on Saturday looking after some business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Berard of Waukesha are in the city for a visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Vaughan visited with relatives in Waukesha on Sunday.

Misses Gertrude Reiland and Bessie Buckley are visiting in Appleton for a few days.

Misses C. E. Briere spent Saturday in Wausau on business. The trip was made by auto.

The Atwood farm, consisting of 40 acres, east of the city, was purchased by August Giecke.

Jos. P. Lammers of the town of Rudolph was a pleasant caller at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Towes of Merrill visited over Sunday at the John Hickman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas and family of Sherry were business visitors in the city on Monday.

Carl Krontohl, of the town of Sigel, was among the business callers at this office on Saturday.

Elephant Mellicke caught a good sized sturgeon one day last week while fishing in the river.

Mr. and Mrs. James Corcoran of Webster arrived in the city Saturday for a visit with relatives.

Jos. Krause of Atlanta has been a guest at the home of his sister, Mrs. Dr. Edw. Hungen the past week.

W. I. Collins went to Stevens Point Thursday to attend the Bankers Convention. He returned home on Friday.

Mrs. August Waldo of Edgerton is in the city for a two months visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Maunke.

Messrs. Chas. and Jas. Natwick called to Plainfield Sunday where they visited with their sister, Mrs. Ed. Rozell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Hirzy and family of Stevens Point spent Thursday in the city, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hirzy.

C. O. Baker of Greenwood spent several days in the city last week, having come over to attend Memorial Day services.

Joe Kirsching, accompanied by his son Felix, went to Green Bay Friday where he submitted to an operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. Henry Knoll and children departed on Monday for Eureka where she will spend a week visiting at the home of her brother.

Chas. Schroeder, who has been away several months taking treatment for his health, has returned very much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Bissel autoed up from Berlin on Wednesday and spent several days in this city and City Point, on business.

Will Metzger, president of the graduation class, has been seriously ill since graduation with a threatened attack of typhoid fever.

Charles Henke, of the town of Grant was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Saturday.

Mr. Henke reports that they have been having plenty of rain out his way even for a sandy country.

Matt Stitzer, one of the hustling young farmers of the town of Carson was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday while in the city on business.

Sherriff Cliff Bluet returned Saturday from Minnesota where he had been on business. He brought back a Marshfield man wanted for abandonment.

Miss Hattie Reichel, who has been teaching the past winter at Black River Falls, is home to spend the summer vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reichel.

Prof. E. L. Hayward has purchased Atty. Hugh Goggin's Pullman touring car. Mr. Goggin has since purchased a Harley-Davidson two seated motorcycle.

Miss Bernice Johnson, who has been teaching at Emporia, Kansas, during the past winter, is home to spend the summer vacation with her mother, Mrs. M. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Metzger of Spencer, who have been visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Metzger, returned to their home on Saturday.

Rev. Adolph Wittman, the newly ordained priest from Denver, Colo., will arrive Friday to spend a few days with his uncle, F. S. Bauer and family at Sunny Side farm.

Mrs. August Sutor of Marshfield spent Sunday in the city with relatives. She was accompanied home by Miss Ethel Sutor who will visit at Marshfield for several days.

Mrs. George Smith of Seattle, Washington, called on Monday evening to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Briere. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Caroline Briere.

James Lynch moved into his new barber shop last week, and is now nicely settled in the place. The building, while not large, makes a pretty good place for a small barber shop.

The Cliff House at Necedah which is well known to Grand Rapids tourists, has been sold to Frank Melichior of that city, who will remodel the structure and make a first class hotel out of it.

At the council meeting last night the matter of granting a license to the marnes circus was taken up and discussed and it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the mayor and city attorney for settlement.

H. B. Weitland is having plans completed for a modern bungalow which he will commence building in a short time on his lot west of his home. Mr. Weitland intends to build of tile with a stucco finish.

Robert Reid, one of the progressive farmers of the town of Leola, called at this office on Wednesday to advance his subscription for another year. Mr. Reid reports everything growing fine down his way.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Conway entertained their friends at a buffet supper, followed by bridge on Wednesday evening. The large favor was awarded to F. P. Wulfer, Geo. K. Gilson, Mrs. L. E. Nash, and Roy Rogers.

Bert Smith, one of the progressive farmers of Arpin, favored this office with a pleasant call on Monday while in the city on business. Mr. Smith informs us that crops are doing well out his way and everybody is prosperous.

Bob Fredericks, the Nekoosa wrestler, is home from the coast for a few days to visit his parents. Monday night Bob was defeated into the Edgar. Bob is matched to meet Stecher in a finish match at Omaha July 4th.

County Supt. Geo. A. Varney was in the city on Saturday looking after business in his line. Mr. Varney has been entirely recovered from the attack of rheumatism from which he has been suffering the past couple of months.

Mrs. O. R. Moore was called to Baraboo on Tuesday, having received the sad intelligence the day before of the death of her father, which occurred at Indianapolis on Monday. The remains were taken to the old home of the deceased at Baraboo for burial.

Misses Anna and Meta Natwick returned on Saturday from an extended visit in Baltimore, Maryland, and Virginia. They departed on Sunday afternoon for a visit at the home of their sister, Mrs. E. Rozell at Plainfield.

The second annual ball given by the Loyal Order of Moose at the Pavilion on Friday evening was a big success. There was a large crowd and all enjoyed a good time. The Moose lodge is gaining quite a reputation for their dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Erner are expected to arrive home this week from Rochester, Minn., where Mr. Erner had been to consult specialists regarding his health. It is understood that Mr. Erner will not have to submit to an operation.

Miss Marie Looze entertained a party of lady friends at her home on Saturday afternoon for Miss Lucille Church, the afternoon being spent in playing auction bridge. The favors were awarded to Miss Marion Jackson and Miss Church.

Leonard Reinhardt sold his home on Eighth street the past week to Ed. Smith, the owner, who will take possession of the same within the next thirty days. Mr. Reinhardt is considering building another home on his place.

Arthur Kayser of the town of Grand Rapids, was among the pleasant callers at the Tribune office on Monday. Mr. Kayser reports that everything is coming along nicely down his way, notwithstanding the fact that the season has been a little backward up to date.

Mrs. John Hilderman, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been visiting at the home of her brother, Louis Padratz, in the town of Sigel, the past week, has returned to her home. Her son Ted accompanied her on the journey and will visit there for some time.

The MacKinnon Mfg. Company will again commence to blow their whistle at the time any fire alarm is turned in. This is done at the request of some of the firemen who are unable to hear the other whistle, owing to the distance they live from the mill.

Mrs. V. F. Kollogg entertained a party of friends at a luncheon at her home on Monday afternoon in a most delightful manner. The afternoon was spent in playing cards, the favors being awarded to Mrs. W. J. Conway, Mrs. Ella Gibson and Mrs. J. S. Thompson.

Winfield Scott of Seymour was in the city on Saturday on his way home from Rudolph where he had been for several days on business. Mr. Scott reports that his wife has not been well the past winter and that they intend to have an X-ray examination at Appleton next week.

John Jung and wife departed on Sunday for Minneapolis in their auto. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jung's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Langer of Rudolph. They expect to be gone about ten days and while away Mr. Jung will consult specialists regarding his ailment.

Oscar Croteau, the popular salesman in the clothing department at the Johnson & Hill Co. store completed the erection of a new modern hip roof barn with basement on his farm near Rudolph on Friday. The barn is 36x62 and was built by Leonard Hauschild of Pittsville.

Mrs. Chas. Gouger left on Tuesday for Duluth, where she will visit with her son Phil for a week or more. Mrs. John Steib expects to leave next Monday for Portland, Oregon, where she will spend a couple of months visiting with her son. She will be accompanied on the trip by her little grand daughter from Nekoosa.

The following class of fourteen young people were confirmed at the German Lutheran church, on the east side, Sunday morning: Roy Kluge, Leslie Plenke, Ervin Hannanman, Carl Ringelman, Carl Martin, Morris Kleberg, Evelyn Hall, Emeline Wachs, Clara Knoll, Sylvia Hunsold, Clara Kraus, Lorretta Kluge, Anna Giese, Lucille Plenke.

The Eagles held initiation at their hall on Monday evening, twenty-six more new members being taken in to the order. There was a feed and smoker after the business meeting and a very pleasant time was had.

Among the out of town guests at the meeting was State President R. J. Strauss of Marshfield and State Secretary C. A. Dittling of La Crosse. Owing to the copious downpour that occurred last Thursday evening there was no band concert, although the boys were all ready to play. Should the weather be nice, there will be a band concert next Thursday evening.

Marshfield is to have a new depot where the Omaha and Northwestern stop, and which is generally known as the Omaha. The new structure will cost $50,000, and will be the nicest thing of the kind in that city.

The old depot has stood for many years, and has ceased to be an ornament to the surrounding scenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Burchell of Port Arthur, Ontario, spent several days in the city last week visiting with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Burchell were on their wedding tour, having been married on the 22nd of May. Mr. Burchell is still in the employ of the Pigeon River Lumber Company at Port Arthur.

John Schuetz of the town of Sigel was among the callers at the Tribune office on Thursday. Mr. Schuetz had seen the items recently published in the Tribune relative to the flock of wild pigeons that had been seen in the vicinity of Dexterville recently.

Mr. Schuetz stated that three years ago this summer he saw a flock of wild pigeons that numbered fully 250 that flew over him one Sunday while on the road. He is sure that they were the passenger pigeon of days gone by for the reason that he has seen millions of the passenger pigeons and at the time when they were thick in Wisconsin he killed many of them.

Mr. Schuetz was born in Wisconsin and has lived here all his life and says he knows what a wild pigeon looks like as well as he does a sparrow and is sure of his ground in the matter. Mr. Schuetz can remember a time many years ago when an immense number of the pigeons were drowned in Lake Michigan by being blown out over the lake during a gale, and he says that after the storm was over that the birds were strewn along the beach by the thousand. While he says this he does not doubt that he does not think they were exterminated at that time, for several reasons.

Mrs. John Benger of Belvidere, Ill., spent last week in this city visiting with friends. Mrs. Benger reports that the weather down in Illinois has been cool most of the spring the same as it is here. She reports Mr. Benger to be well and hearty and that he still thinks that Wisconsin has the right air and water to put vim in a man.

Mrs. Gerhard Kasten and two children and Mrs. Chas. Fox returned home Thursday morning from a two weeks visit at Osakis, Minn., they being the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. William McKinley.

Master Larry Fox returned home Thursday morning after visiting his aunt and uncle at Osakis, Minn., for the past three months.

Remember the services in the Moravian church at 2:20 p. m. Sunday. You will always get a cordial welcome there. Bring the whole family with you.

FOR SALE:—New Rome. East 1/2 lot 1 and all lot 6, sec. 5-Tn. 29, Range 6, containing 71 acres. Price $760.00, $100.00 cash, balance to suit at 5 per cent interest. Address owner, L. V. Murdoch, 1310 Webster St., Oakland, Cal. 81*

FOR SALE:—20 acres of land 1/2 mile south of city limits on R. 8. Will sell very reasonable; might take in good 1915 touring car as part payment. For particulars inquire of H. Gottfried, Box 28, R. 6. 31*

FOR SALE:—Typewriter. Oliver No. 3 good as new. Inquire at this office. 11.

Doctor Coming Dr. W. E. Jurden The Successful Specialist Of Eau Claire, Wis.

Will be in Grand Rapids at the Commercial Hotel, Wednesday, June 14. Office hours 9 A. M. till 9 P. M. (Regular and also special State License.)

Dr. Jurden is one of the best known, longest established, absolutely reliable and successful specialists in the state; an expert in the treatment of all curable chronic diseases and will cure you whatever your ailment in a way that will astonish you.

For All Nervous and Chronic Diseases. Physician and surgeon, 30 years in special, hospital and private practice, treating all forms of chronic systemic diseases.

Consultation Free to the Sick. An honest opinion always given, diagnosis, prognosis, and to the incurable such advice as may be of help.

Dr. Jurden has merited by skill and success the confidence he maintains.

Many wonderful cures in diseases of the stomach, liver, kidneys, heart, lungs, nerves, and rheumatism, gall stones, gravel, appendicitis, flatulency, piles and other rectal diseases, constitutional catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh of the throat, stomach, bladder, etc. Nervous debility, failing memory, over work, sore eyes, deafness, eye and ear diseases, blood and skin diseases, blood poison, pimples, spots, rashes, itching, eczema, tumors, scrofula, cancer where the roots do not extend to vital parts, goiter, swellings of the neck, hidden enlargements, tape worms, diabetes, urinary, kidney and bladder diseases, dropsy, fits, varicose veins, enlarged glands, tissue waste, catarrhal discharges, drains, obstructions, weakness, and all constitutional and serious internal diseases that baffle the skill of many physicians.

Debilitated, Despondent Men and Women. Young and Old Men Nervous Discouraged Weak Women.

Get the Truth DR. JURDEN CONSULTATION FREE—He gives you his years of SCIENCE AND EXPERIENCE.

Make regular visits to a few cities. Owns his medical institute building and dispensary in the city of Eau Claire. WRITE—Treatment sent as directed. Address W. E. JURDEN, M. D. 1529 S. Farwell St., Eau Claire, Wis.

Positively Only BIG CIRCUS Coming This Season
Only Real Wild Animal Show On Earth

AL. G. BARNES BIG 4 RING WILD ANIMAL CIRCUS

The Show That's Different

1000	PERFORMING ANIMALS	1000	65	BIG SENSATIONAL ANIMAL ACTS	65
------	--------------------	------	----	-----------------------------	----

Performing Jungle-Bred Lions, Tigers, Leopards, Jaguars, Grizzley, Cinnamon, Siberian and Polar Bears, Seals, Sea Lions, Elephants, Camels, Zebras, Zubas, Hyenas, Sacred Cattle, Kangaroos, Orang-Outangs, Apes, Chimpanzees, Monkeys, Mountain Goats, Dogs, Ponies, Pigs, Etc.

S E E
The Worlds Only Performing Llamas.
Tom, Dick and Harry Horse-Riding Seals.
Big Bill—Wrestling Grizzley.
Tot and Tiny—Smallest Educated Horses.
Performing Persian Leopards and Jaguars.
Tom, Jerry and Louie Horse-Riding Lions.
The World's Only Educated Zebras.
The High Diving Dogs and Monkeys.
Danger, Dynamite, Cactus and Gun Powder Just Mules.
The Only Performing Canels in the World including
Holy Moses, Sacred Arabian Black Camel
The High School and Tango Dancing Horses.
The Groupe of Performing South American Fumas.
A Sextette of Trained Laughing Hyenas.
The Riding, Driving, Racing Ostriches.
The Musical Carrier Pigeons.
The World's Only Groupe of Performing Bengal Tigers.
The Funny Clown Pigs.

30 FULL GROWN AFRICAN LIONS 30
WORLD'S CHALLENGE GROUP. IN ONE ACT. VALUE $50,000

SAMPSON, 550
AERIAL LION rides in Balloon, surrounded by shooting Skyrockets. The most amazing wild animal act extant.
HIGH-SCHOOL RIDING, DANCING AND MILITARY HORSES AND PONIES 550
World's Premium Stock. Every one an actor.
40 ANIMAL CLOWNS—550 PEOPLE—6 CONCERT BANDS
150 Animal Trainers—Two big special trains—Three Calliopes

Glittering Mile-Long Street Parade at 10:30 A. M.
Performances Rain or Shine 2 and 8 p. m. Doors open at 1 and 7.

SEE THE BIG FREE-TO-EVERYBODY ACTS
on the show grounds at 1 o'clock. You'll have time after the parade to get dinner and the nbe on the show grounds in ample time for the big free features.

WILL EXHIBIT AT
GRAND RAPIDS, 19
Monday, June
REMEMBER THE DAY AND DATE—MARK IT ON YOUR CALENDAR.

It's the Value That Counts

Regardless of whether you buy a complete outfit or just a handkerchief, you must get VALUE---Our "Money Back" guarantee is your value insurance.

Men's Suits light and medium weight; unlined and skeleton-lined; stripes, checks, plaids, rich mixtures, plain weave and solid colors. $13.50 to $27.50

Shirts . . . plain and pleated bosoms, soft and starched cuffs; in all the latest summer fabrics, in an extraordinary variety of new designs and colors. $1.00 to $5.00

Underwear . . . deep-seat and closed crotch athletic and knit Union Suits and single garments, sleeveless, short and full length; $1.00 to $2.50

Hosiery . . . full fashioned hose, with cotton soles, all-silk, silk thread and lisle, plain with clocking, black, white, tan, navy blue, gray and fancy 25c, 35c, 50c

Neckwear . . . open-end four-in-hands, bows, windsors; a rich assortment of the best, made from beautiful silks, both imported and domestic, bound to find "just my tie" 25c to $1.50

Shoes . . . summer oxfords and light-weight high shoes; an excellent selection of perfect fitting lasts in blacks and tans; you are sure to be properly fitted. $3.00 to $5.00

And you will also find all the rest of the complete outfit at this headquarters of the UTMOST IN VALUES.

Abel & Podawiltz Co., Inc.

MYER FRIDSTEIN, Pres.
GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN
"YOUR MONEY'S WORTH OR YOUR MONEY BACK"

Decoying a "Bad Man"

Stories of the Greatest Cases in the Career of Thomas Furlong, the Famous Railroad Detective, Told by Himself

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

Thomas Furlong

I have always believed the "Bad Man" to be largely a myth, so far as courage is concerned, and I think I demonstrated this theory of mine in the following instance, which happened while I was chief of the secret service of the Missouri Pacific railway, one of whose leased properties was the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

In the year 1882 the memory of the James brothers was still green in the regions of their exploits. Though Frank James was then living the life of a good citizen in Tennessee, and Jesse, his brother, was also in that state, the rumor of their presence in any of the parts where they had operated was enough to raise a scare. Especially was this the case in the eastern portion of the state of Oklahoma, then known as the Indian Territory, which had been the scene of many holdups and brutal murders.

In the year above-mentioned I received a telegraphic dispatch from Colonel Eddy, the general manager, instructing me to proceed to Vinita at once, to investigate a murder which had occurred there, and to prosecute all persons connected with the crime.

On the night of September 15, as a northbound passenger train was being shunted upon the main line from a siding about a mile north of Vinita, two men climbed upon the front platform of the smoker. "Chick" Warner, the conductor, saw them and opened the door. Without a word one of the men drew a revolver of small caliber and fired at Warner's head, the bullet passing through his cheek and inflicting a painful wound. The man who had fired was immediately shot and killed by his companion, his dead body falling across the platform of the car. The name of the murderer was John Barnes Sweeney, and he had formerly been a resident of Clay County, Missouri.

When I arrived at Vinita I learned from the express agent there that Sweeney, after shooting his companion, had returned to the station and informed him that the train had been held up by the James brothers and an outlaw named Ed Miller. The man who stated that the gang had been camped in the brush on Little Cabin creek, about four miles northeast of the spot where the train murder occurred, that he had known all the members of the gang before coming to the Indian Territory, having been born in Clay County, near the former home of the James boys, and that he was connected with them by blood. When the gang entered the brush on Little Cabin creek, Sweeney continued, he himself was staying with his sister on a neighboring farm. The James brothers had told Sweeney that they intended to hold up and rob a number of trains on that line, and had invited him to join them. Sweeney said that he was an expert rifle-shot, and that for this reason he would have been valuable to the gang. He had accepted the invitation for the purpose of causing their arrest, and the man whom he had shot dead was Ed Miller.

Inquiry showed that the man who had been killed by Sweeney had put in an appearance at Vinita only a few days before the shooting. He was looking for a job, and in the course of his search, had gone to the farm of Sweeney's brother-in-law, who owned the farm near Little Cabin creek, where the outlaws were alleged to have had their camping place. The brother-in-law needed help in his corn-field, and employed the stranger, who appeared to be a Scandinavian, and spoke English very poorly. Sweeney had made the man's acquaintance there, and it was believed, had induced him to assist in a holdup, and had supplied him with the revolver of small caliber, almost a toy, with which he had shot the conductor, and which had been picked up near the scene of the tragedy.

Sweeney was a man of sinister reputation. He was of middle height, about thirty years of age, with black, luxuriant hair, and the drooping mustache which the "bad man" affects. Like most "bad men" he was a coward and a braggart. He was lithe and agile, and never failed to talk of his wonderful marksmanship with revolver and rifle. In Clay County, Missouri, he had passed for a horse thief, a transgressor of a reputable farmer, who was shot dead one evening while sitting on the porch of his house with his infant in his arms. The shot was fired from a hedge across the road, and Sweeney had been seen going toward the farm or house a short time before the murder occurred, and returning afterward, carrying a rifle on both occasions. He was known to have threatened the man's life; but, since there was no direct evidence against him, he was acquitted. The episode had made Sweeney so unpopular, however, that he had been forced to leave Clay County and make his home with his sister and her husband near Little Cabin Creek, Indian Territory.

It was evident to me that, whatever greater degree of guilt might rest with Sweeney, he had been lying to the express agent. The dead man could not have been Ed Miller, as Sweeney declared, because Miller had been killed while attempting to rob a bank in a little town in Missouri. I knew, too, that the James boys were living reputable lives in Tennessee, and that Dick Little, another member of the old-time gang, was in another section of the country. Accordingly I resolved to arrest Sweeney, on the charge of having murdered the dead man, and also for having shot and seriously wounded Conductor Warner; there was some uncertainty as to whether the dead man had done the shooting or not, and Sweeney's arrest on both charges would at any rate suffice to hold him pending inquiries.

During the afternoon preceding the affair Sweeney had been at Vinita, and, while standing on the platform of the railway station there, he had seen a special train go by. The telegraph operator had informed the men on the platform that Colonel Eddy, the general manager, was aboard her. This furnished me with an idea which I put into operation when subsequently arresting Sweeney.

The chief of the United States Indian police at this time was Capt. Sam Sixkiller, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, living at Vinita. The Indian police was a federal organization, and consisted of Indians of good reputation, whose duty was to patrol the Indian Territory. They were armed and mounted, and were there to protect the law-abiding Indians and other residents and their property, especially from the whisky peddlers, of whom there were a number plying their nefarious trade, selling the Indians cheap whisky at exorbitant prices, which was prohibited by the federal laws governing the Indian Territory. Sixkiller had authority to arrest any person charged with a crime on sight, and accordingly I telegraphed him, requesting him to meet me at Vinita for the purpose of arresting Sweeney, without, however, mentioning the man's name.

The reply, which came from Sixkiller's physician, stated that Sixkiller was ill in bed with a fever. I thereupon called upon Luke Sixkiller, the chief's brother, who resided at Vinita, and was a member of the police force, requesting him to accompany me to Sweeney's house.

Luke Sixkiller was horrified at my proposal. "Why," he said, "this man Sweeney is a terror. He is a wonderful shot with either rifle or pistol, and will take at least a half dozen men, well armed, to capture him. He is a desperate man, and we will have to wait until the chief gets well enough to come and help take him."

I had been accompanied to Vinita by William H. Bonnell, one of my most trusted assistants, a little man, but noted for his fearlessness. Upon learning of the defection of Luke Sixkiller, Bonnell at once asked permission to join me in the arrest of Sweeney. After sleeping over the proposition, however, I decided to make the arrest single-handed. I had seen Sweeney a year before in Kansas City, when the man was pointed out to me by an officer, but I felt sure that Sweeney would not recognize me, and that I could take him by a stratagem, if I went single-handed, whereas, if I were accompanied by my assistant, Sweeney would become suspicious of our motives and would open fire. I knew that the "bad man" becomes a very good man indeed when he is confronted by a man over whom he has no treacherously acquired advantage. Bonnell demurred strongly, fearing for my life, but I refused to allow him to join me.

I hired a horse from a livery stable and started for the farm, reaching the house about 9:30 in the morning, after passing through three miles of undergrowth along the banks of Little Cabin creek. It was a dangerous ride, for if Sweeney had been in ambush he could have shot me at almost any place in that dense brush. When I emerged on the open field which formed the approach to the farmhouse, I saw the building about one hundred feet away, and Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an expert marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horses tethered. I entered the field, and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt.

"My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse catches away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, it's this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. & T. went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Eufaula, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days ago. If you are Mr. Sweeney, and will just about have time, by starting soon, to reach there before Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can take our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney motioned to me to lead the way, which I did. While the horses picked their path along the trail that led back through the dense brush, Sweeney rode close behind me, his revolver in his hand, and grew loquacious, telling me how he had practiced shooting with the James gang, and how he had proved to be the best marksman of the lot. He also pointed out a clump of bushes near the path, in which, he said, the gang had been encamped during the period that they had been in the neighborhood.

While I had perfect confidence in the success of my plan, it was not without a distinct sense of relief that I saw the open prairie in front of me and Vinita in the distance. Then I unfolded a proposition to Sweeney.

"I think the best thing for us to do will be to ride to the livery stable and leave our horses there," I said. "Then you had better go direct to my room. It is the corner room in the hotel, and my grip is still there. Meanwhile I will go to the telegraph office and find out from the operator where Colonel Eddy's special train is, and what time it will arrive at Vinita. I don't know how you feel, but I am getting hungry, and if I find that we have time to eat before the special train arrives I will order some food. As soon as I find out what time it will be here I will come straight back to my room and let you know."

Sweeney appeared satisfied as to my bona fides, and, after we had left our horses at the livery stable, he went straight to the corner room at the hotel which I had occupied, while I moved off in the direction of the telegraph office. On the way I had met my aid Bonnell, who had been greatly worried as to the fate of my mission and of myself. Bonnell was, of course, too good a detective to approach me on the street at that juncture. He had seen Sweeney part company with me at the livery stable, and now he followed at a little distance until he received the signal to wait.

I went to the telegraph office, but instead of entering it, walked round the back of the building until I had placed several houses between myself and the hotel. I crossed the street at a point west of the depot and went round to the rear of the hotel, where there was a flight of outside stairs ascending from the back yard to the second floor. On the way I met Bonnell again and signaled to him to follow. Then, with my assistant a little way behind, I ascended this flight and went quietly toward my room. The door stood partly open. Peering through the crevice I saw Sweeney lying upon the bed in his shirt sleeves with his hat, boots and spurs on. He was taking things easy. If he had had any suspicions as to my intentions, these had been completely dispelled by my nonchalant way of letting him go after their arrival at Vinita.

I drew a small double-barreled Remington derringer from my pocket, and, hiding it behind me, entered the room whistling. As Sweeney looked up I suddenly thrust the derringer into Sweeney's mouth, loosening two of his upper teeth.

"Hands up!" I exclaimed, and the "bad man" complied immediately.

With my left hand I unbuttoned my captive's belt and removed it. It contained the holster with the Colt. At that moment Bonnell entered. I instructed him to put handcuffs on the prisoner and take him to the calaboose.

When the next train stopped at Vinita there descended from it, not Colonel Eddy, but Captain Sam Sixkiller, who had arisen from his sick bed and gone to Vinita to assist me in making the arrest.

"I wouldn't take him through Muskegon if I were you," said the Indian.

"Why not?" I asked.

"The railroad men there don't like Sweeney," answered the captain.

also stating that he would kill me on sight in any event. This letter being handed to me, I obtained a warrant for Sweeney's arrest and went to his sister's farm near Missouri City, Clay County, accompanied by a deputy sheriff. It was night and Sweeney was in bed. My companion and I rapped at the door, which was opened by Sweeney's father.

"We are officers and have a warrant for the arrest of your son 'Barney,'" I said.

At the head of the stairs stood "Barney" shotgun in hand.

"I am here," he shouted, "and I will kill any man who attempts to come up those stairs."

In an instant the deputy sheriff had bounded up, I following him. "Barney" was thrown to the floor and captured without a shot being fired. He was taken to St. Louis and sentenced to three or four years in the penitentiary.

After his release Sweeney held up and tried to rob a Wabash passenger train, in which attempt he was shot through the ankle by a telegraph operator. He served a sentence of fourteen years for this offense. Subsequently he appeared again, as a witness against the New York Life Insurance company in the celebrated Kimmel case. He claimed to have visited a wild part of Oregon with Kimmel, a man named Johnson, and a third person, in search of treasure. Part of the treasure was found, and during a quarrel over its distribution Johnson shot Kimmel dead and Sweeney shot Johnson dead in return.

On reading Sweeney's story in the newspapers, which was almost a repetition of the story of the fake hold-up down in the territory, as related to the express officials and myself, I really sympathized with the attorney who had gone to the trouble and expense of getting Sweeney there, knowing, as I did, that he was absolutely untruthful and unreliable.

Braggart, coward and liar, Sweeney was a typical "bad man."

Pays to Feed the Birds.

"It pays, in dollars and cents, to feed the birds," writes Rev. Manley B. Townsend in the Guide to Nature. Every orchard should at regular intervals have suit fastened to the trees, as well as bird boxes for nesting purposes. There is pleasure in watching the feeding birds—their beautiful colors, their graceful movements, their engaging ways, to say nothing of gaining their confidence and perhaps persuading them to light upon us and take food from our hand. There is a joy in such companionship, a deep satisfaction in ministering to a dependent life. On Thanksgiving day, as I sat down to dinner, I glanced out of the window into the apple tree. There was a little downy woodpecker at the head of the tree, and my heart was the lighter and my Thanksgiving brighter because I had a tiny feathered guest to enjoy my bounty. Try it for yourself and see if this is not so."

Unity in Living Room.

A large piece of furniture is often required to create unity in a room. A number of small pieces do not give the same effect. A big davenport would transform a room. It would pull it together and take away the patchy effect it quite likely otherwise had. Among the cheaper davenports there has been a style which is usually upholstered in heavy, but another material could be chosen at a slight additional expense.

A floor lamp would transform the living room or hall. As soon as it was lighted it would immediately become a friend of the family!

Statistics show that only one man in 208 grows to more than six feet in height.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

his head again, he handed it back over his shoulder, saying in a disgusted tone of voice:

"I thought it was a foot long!"

Sweeney was in due course lodged in jail at Fort Smith. He was undisciplined and finally tried, but was acquitted since I was never able to discover the identity of the slain farm hand or the motive for the murder.

Sweeney came into collision with me on an occasion subsequent to this episode. After his release from jail he returned at once to Clay County, Missouri, whence he wrote a letter to Mr. A. A. Talmage, then general manager of the Missouri Pacific railroad, demanding ten thousand dollars immediately, and threatening that if this sum was not received he would blow up the bridge on the Wabash railroad.

"The last leaf!" he voiced solemnly, and set it up against the slanting rafter. Then he rubbed his eyes and stood viewing the board and its environment solemnly.

"All gone now," he murmured. "It had to come, I suppose; but Joel-I thought he'd stick it out. There is Nellie, of course, but she is like an own daughter and always counted on making her home with us. And now—she's just as heartbroken as we are."

The last leaf of the dining room linoleum had three companions. One of four had been in use—but that was in the long ago. Midge had married and she and her husband and his sister and, later, the two little ones, with Joel, the only son, had made the old house ring with joy and laughter. Always was there a merry, happy table full. Then the sister-in-law had married, and one leaf came out. Then Midge and her husband and their two children had gone to Canada, and two more followed.

Only six months since there had come the final break. Joel had gone also stating that he would kill me on sight in any event. This letter being handed to me, I obtained a warrant for Sweeney's arrest and went to his sister's farm near Missouri City, Clay County, accompanied by a deputy sheriff. It was night and Sweeney was in bed. My companion and I rapped at the door, which was opened by Sweeney's father.

"We are officers and have a warrant for the arrest of your son 'Barney,'" I said.

At the head of the stairs stood "Barney" shotgun in hand.

"I am here," he shouted, "and I will kill any man who attempts to come up those stairs."

In an instant the deputy sheriff had bounded up, I following him. "Barney" was thrown to the floor and captured without a shot being fired. He was taken to St. Louis and sentenced to three or four years in the penitentiary.

After his release Sweeney held up and tried to rob a Wabash passenger train, in which attempt he was shot through the ankle by a telegraph operator. He served a sentence of fourteen years for this offense. Subsequently he appeared again, as a witness against the New York Life Insurance company in the celebrated Kimmel case. He claimed to have visited a wild part of Oregon with Kimmel, a man named Johnson, and a third person, in search of treasure. Part of the treasure was found, and during a quarrel over its distribution Johnson shot Kimmel dead and Sweeney shot Johnson dead in return.

On reading Sweeney's story in the newspapers, which was almost a repetition of the story of the fake hold-up down in the territory, as related to the express officials and myself, I really sympathized with the attorney who had gone to the trouble and expense of getting Sweeney there, knowing, as I did, that he was absolutely untruthful and unreliable.

Braggart, coward and liar, Sweeney was a typical "bad man."

Pays to Feed the Birds.

"It pays, in dollars and cents, to feed the birds," writes Rev. Manley B. Townsend in the Guide to Nature. Every orchard should at regular intervals have suit fastened to the trees, as well as bird boxes for nesting purposes. There is pleasure in watching the feeding birds—their beautiful colors, their graceful movements, their engaging ways, to say nothing of gaining their confidence and perhaps persuading them to light upon us and take food from our hand. There is a joy in such companionship, a deep satisfaction in ministering to a dependent life. On Thanksgiving day, as I sat down to dinner, I glanced out of the window into the apple tree. There was a little downy woodpecker at the head of the tree, and my heart was the lighter and my Thanksgiving brighter because I had a tiny feathered guest to enjoy my bounty. Try it for yourself and see if this is not so."

Unity in Living Room.

A large piece of furniture is often required to create unity in a room. A number of small pieces do not give the same effect. A big davenport would transform a room. It would pull it together and take away the patchy effect it quite likely otherwise had. Among the cheaper davenports there has been a style which is usually upholstered in heavy, but another material could be chosen at a slight additional expense.

A floor lamp would transform the living room or hall. As soon as it was lighted it would immediately become a friend of the family!

Statistics show that only one man in 208 grows to more than six feet in height.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

When Baldness Starts.

It has been discovered that if a person is going to be bald in middle life, or even in old age, the symptoms will appear between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. Although the hair may gradually become thinner as one grows older, it will never entirely disappear unless signs of this thinning become manifest before the age of thirty-five years.

Onions' Many Virtues.

Onions are a specific for the common cold.

nothing to Mr. and Mrs. Wells. She was in a rare flutter when she went over to the house one morning and, for some unaccountable reason, remained there chatting, an unusual occurrence, for Nellie was an energetic worker.

Then, at the sound of carriage wheels, she ran out to the front door. "Oh, folks! hurry! hurry!" her voice rang out. "Some one has arrived."

The "some one" was Midge, and with her Mr. Waldron and the children. It seemed to the worn, weary father and mother as though paradise had been restored to them. Of course it was a visit. Oh, yes, Midge needed a change, and Mr. Waldron's business had allowed of his leaving it, and the children were so happy, and Joy reigned supreme.

"One—two—three—for Nellie must stay to dinner, sure!" piped Mr. Wells, hopping about like a patriarch rejuvenated. "Five, and the two little ones. That means seven. Three leaves will give us plenty of room, eh, wife?"

"Hold on, I'll help you," suggested his son-in-law, as Mr. Wells started for the attic.

The old man chattered like a magpie; he ambled up the stairs, down the stairs, chucking, laughing, infused with new life.

"There, that'll do!" he cried, cheerily, as he carried the third of the table leaves into the dining room.

"There's another, isn't there?" interrogated Mr. Waldron with affected indifference, as the leaves were fitted into place.

"Yes, but we don't need it."

"But, we may," submitted Mr. Waldron. "Look here, father, I want to tell you a story."

"Fire away, son!"

"There's a fellow came up to Canada and told us how lonely and deserted you dear folks were. Well, Midge cried and I felt homesick. We sold out home and business. We're here to stay."

"Glory!" shouted Mr. Wells. "And who was the fellow?"

"Joel, your son."

"Joel?"

"Exactly. He'd made a strike with a mining partner. He's got enough to pay a certain eight hundred dollars he was worrying about. He's not enough left after that to go into business with me, right here in town, and marry Nellie, and settle down, right here at home."

The old man was astare, trembling all over.

"Son," he gasped, "it's too good to be true!"

"It isn't," asserted Robert Waldron. "In fact, Joel sent me ahead from town to prepare you for a steady boarder. He's made good and has 'come back.' He'll be here within an hour."

"Mother!" cried the old man in a delicious joy. "Tell her, son!"

And Mr. Waldron repeated his story.

"To think of it!" almost sobbed Mrs. Wells. "All hands back in the old home nest. Oh, I'm so overcome I—I don't know what to do!"

"Father," suggested his wife, smiling through her tears, "suppose you go upstairs and bring back the last leaf!"

"All Gone Now," He Murmured.

away—suddenly, capriciously, his father thought. Joel had simply stated that there "had been a fuss," that "he could not at all get along with a cross-grained tyrant," his employer, and that he was going to seek his fortune in a new field.

In truth Joel had made a bad mistake in purchasing some stock for the business at a ruinously high figure without obtaining the sanction of his employer, whom he should have wired. The next day the stock went down to a low point. The house lost eight hundred dollars on the deal. Mr. Waldron found fault with Joel. The latter had a high spirit and could not brook complaint.

"I discharge myself," he announced angrily. "I'll never enter your doors again until I am able to repay the money you loan me,

Decoying a "Bad Man"

Stories of the Greatest Cases in the Career of Thomas Furlong, the Famous Railroad Detective, Told by Himself

Copyright by W. G. Chapman

Thomas Furlong

I have always believed the "Bad Man" to be largely a myth, so far as courage is concerned, and I think I demonstrated this theory of mine in the following instance, which happened while I was chief of the secret service of the Missouri Pacific railway, one whose head-quarters was the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

In the year 1882 the memory of the James brothers was still fresh in the regions of their exploits. Though Frank James was then living the life of a good citizen in Tennessee, and Jesse, his brother, was also in that state, the rumor of their presence in any of the parts where they had operated was enough to raise a scare.

Especially was this the case in the eastern portion of the state of Oklahoma, then known as the Indian Territory, which had been the scene of many holdups and brutal murders.

In the year above-mentioned I received a telegraphic dispatch from Colonel Eddy, the general manager, instructing me to proceed to Vinita at once, to investigate the case in the eastern portion of the state of Oklahoma, then known as the Indian Territory, which had been the scene of many holdups and brutal murders.

On the night of September 12, as a northbound passenger train was being shunted upon the main line from a siding about a mile north of Vinita, two men climbed upon the front platform of the smoker. "Chick" Warner, the conductor, saw them and opened the door. Without a word one of the men drew a revolver of small caliber and fired at Warner's head, the bullet passing through his cheek and inflicting a painful wound. The man who had fired was immediately shot and killed by his companion, his dead body falling across the platform of the train. The name of the murderer was John. Barcus Sweeney, and he had formerly been a resident of Clay County, Missouri.

When I arrived at Vinita I learned from the express agent there that Sweeney, after shooting his companion, had returned to the station and informed him that the train had been held up by the James brothers and an outlaw named Ed Miller. Sweeney stated that the gang had been camping in the brush on Little Cabin creek, about four miles northeast of the spot where the train murder occurred, that he had known all the members of the gang before coming to the Indian Territory, having been born in lay county, near the James brothers and had helped him to join them. Sweeney said that he was an expert rifle-shot, and that for this reason he would have been valuable to the gang. He had accepted the invitation for the purpose of causing their arrest, and the man whom he had shot dead was Ed Miller.

Inquiry showed that the man who had been killed by Sweeney had put in an appearance at Vinita only a few days before the shooting. He was looking for a job, and in the course of his search, had gone to the farm of Sweeney's brother-in-law, who owned the farm near Little Cabin creek, where the outlaws were alleged to have been camping. The brother-in-law needed help in his corn field, and employed the stranger, who appeared to be a Scandinavian and spoke English very poorly. Sweeney had made the man's acquaintance there and, it was believed, had induced him to assist in a holdup, and had supplied him with the revolver of small caliber, aimed at the man who had shot the conductor, and which had been picked up near the scene of the tragedy.

Sweeney was a man of sinister reputation. He was of middle height, about thirty years of age, with black, luxuriant hair, and the drooping mustache which the "bad men" affect. Like most "bad men," he was a coward and a braggart. He was lithe and agile, and never failed to talk of his wonderful marksmanship with revolver and rifle. In Clay county, Missouri, he had passed for a horse thief, a treacherous coward, and a notorious liar. He had been arrested and tried for the murder of a reputable farmer, who was shot dead one evening while sitting on the porch of his house with his infant man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt. "My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt. "My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt. "My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt. "My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt. "My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as I came to a halt. "My name is Foster," I answered, "and I want to see Mr. John B. Sweeney."

"I am John B. Sweeney. What do you want with me?" demanded the man on the porch, still covering me with the rifle.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Sweeney," I replied, "but is that gun loaded?"

"What do you think I would be doing with this gun if it wasn't loaded?" shouted Sweeney, adding an oath.

"Well, if it is loaded, I wish you would turn it in some other direction," I said patiently. "That horse that I have down there is one that I borrowed from the livery man at Vinita to ride over here on, and if that gun were to go off accidentally it might scare him and cause him to break loose, or maybe hurt me. If the horse got away I would have a lot of trouble catching him, and if I didn't catch him the liveryman would make trouble for me. Besides, I didn't come over here to get shot, anyway. If I had expected that there was going to be any shooting I wouldn't have come."

"Then what did you come for?" demanded Sweeney.

"Why, this way," I answered. "Colonel Eddy, the general manager of the M. K. & T., went south last night, passing through Vinita on his special train, and he wired me in cipher from Ruffalo, asking me to come out here and see John B. Sweeney and request him to come over to Vinita and meet him on his return north to Parsons. He said in the message that he expected to arrive at Vinita about 11:30 to-day, and that he wanted to have a private talk with you to arrange with him for your services in assisting in the capture of the parties implicated in the holdup that occurred at Vinita a few days before. If you are Mr. Sweeney, will you accompany me back to Vinita, we will just about have time, before the train comes, to request Colonel Eddy's train arrives. The colonel does not want the people at Vinita to know that you have met him," I added, "because he has been led to understand that the people of that town do not like you, so his plan is to run his train onto the siding about a quarter of a mile from Vinita, and we can leave our horses at the livery stable and walk to the side track, each of us taking a different direction, and thus the people will know nothing about your having met the colonel."

"I know them fellows at Vinita are all afraid of me," answered Sweeney, "and if Colonel Eddy will give me a job and pay me enough I can get those train robbers for him. I'll go with you."

During this colloquy Sweeney's brother-in-law, the owner of the farm, had come out of the house and stood, an interested spectator, upon the porch. Sweeney turned to him.

"Go and put the saddle on Baldy, will you?" he asked.

He lowered his rifle, which had been aimed at me during the whole of my speech.

"Come up and take a seat here on the porch," he said. "I'll go up and get ready."

He took his rifle and went upstairs, while I waited. Now that the strain of this stratagem was over, I was conscious of a burning thirst. I called Sweeney's sister and asked her to give me a drink of water. Hardly had I swallowed this when Sweeney reappeared in the doorway. He had left the Winchester in the house, but in its place he had brought his nine-inch .45 Colt six-shooter.

"Well," he said, suspiciously, "now that you have found the way here you can get on your horse and lead the way back again."

While he was speaking his brother brought Baldy around, and Sweeney mounted it, while I went ahead and, after having let down the bars, mounted my own horse. Sweeney seated upon the porch in plain sight, with a Winchester rifle leaning against the wall at his side. At that distance I would have been an easy mark even for an inexperienced marksman.

There was a gate to the field, and it was necessary to let down one of the bars and crawl through, leaving the horse tethered. I entered the field and hardly had I passed the gate when Sweeney shouted to me to throw up my hands, at the same time rising and covering me with the rifle.

"Who are you and what do you want?" he yelled, as

ALL RACES CROWD ZANZIBAR

East African City Is Easily One of the Most Cosmopolitan Places on the Earth.

"When Zanzibar plays the flute half Africa dances," says an old Arab proverb. Zanzibar is not as important today as it was when that saying was coined, but the island city is still dominant over the trade of a vast stretch of territory. It lies just a few miles off the shores of what was, in July, 1914, German East Africa. The future name of the country and the future prosperity of Zanzibar both depend on the upshot of the little argument now being waged in Europe between Germany and the allies. Zanzibar is now a British protectorate.

It is not a beautiful town, though from over the water it has a certain exotic charm of its own. The sea is very clear and rich in tints of green and blue. The dense tropical vegetation through which the white houses of the city peep out, the vivid flares of color where some roof is covered with flowers, are more like an impressionist canvas than a city of wood and stone.

Zanzibar does not improve on closer acquaintance, though. You land on a wide quay and fight your way through a small but energetic gathering of curio peddlers, who sell carved ivory, beaten silver, trinkets of ivory, wares from Japan and native sapphires. Then you plunge into closely packed Arab and native houses, with narrow, winding streets and a comprehensive assortment of smells.

Zanzibar has a large assortment of everything. You see a dozen varieties of fruit that you never heard of before. Natives and Europeans suffer from a long and diversified list of novel diseases. The commerce and industry of the town includes a little of everything. The people are the most varied of all.

There are consuls from half a dozen countries, as the flapping flags attest. The English are here in force, with the mixture of conventionality and efficiency that distinguishes them from Jamaica to Nairobi. There is a big Indian bazaar, very crowded and very dirty. Black natives from the mainland abound, dressed in the cheap cotton print called "merican." Many of the local traders are Chinese and men of Goa. Everywhere stalks the scowling Arab, surveying the populace with a sort of melancholy contempt, as though he still lived in those great days when Zanzibar was the strong-hold of an Arabian empire.

Old-Fashioned American Women. Not all American women are impossible idealists, weak sentimentalists, or members of "strict neutrality" leagues. These vociferous ladies have made such a noise that we are apt to overlook that great majority of quiet ones, the descendants of those noble women who were ever ready to suffer and offer sacrifices in the cause of right and justice, as they saw it, in the Revolution, in the War of 1812 and in the Civil war.

Some of this brand of women have decided it is time that they organize and take some action for the honor and safety of their country, and so a society has been formed in New York "to arouse the women of America to a full realization of the necessity for immediate preparation for war." "If the war is ever to come," they say "the mere instinct of self-preservation directs that women, too, should be prepared to defend American ideals of liberty, peace and honor."

That sort of sensible and patriotic talk is very refreshing amid all the flood of mushy and foolish clamor that we have been hearing from women.—Baltimore Sun.

American Money in Spain. Dr. Charles W. A. Veditz, the United States commercial attaché at Paris, has returned from Spain, where he made an extended investigation into the industrial and commercial situation, particularly with regard to opportunities for the investment of American capital and the attitude of the Spanish government and business world toward American enterprises in Spain.

One of these is a proposed fast, direct, electrically operated railroad from the French frontier to Madrid to supersede the present one, which follows a roundabout route and differs in gauge from that of the other European roads.

It is announced that as a result of a conference one of the largest banks in New York is considering the possibility of establishing branch banks in Spain and also in Portugal.

Dress Wounds With Powdered Sugar. Powdered sugar dressing for suppurating and contaminated wounds is receiving a thorough test in the German army and has proved highly satisfactory, according to Dr. F. Hercher, who reports to the Muenchener Medizinische Wochenschrift the experiences of himself and 50 other army surgeons in the use of it. He has used it in more than 1,000 cases.

Doctor Hercher says that powdered sugar makes it unnecessary to rinse out or irrigate a wound, as it causes such a profuse oozing of fluid that the wound is copiously washed from within. Its efficiency is due mainly to its stimulation of secretion, and this dilutes and washes away the pus.

The Changeful Sex. The Captain—Dashed curious thing, Peters—women living longer than men. The Chemist—Speaking from experience, sir, I should say that women are dying much younger than they did.—London Opinion.

Cause of Gastric Ulcer. As a result of experiments on dogs, Drs. W. E. and E. L. Burge of Urbana, Ill., announce in the Journal of the American Medical Association that the ulcers of the stomach are caused by the decreased resistance of a circumference of the stomach to the digestive action of the gastric juice, and this spot is partially digested by the pepsin.

Optimistic Thought. It is good to labor, also to rest from labor.

Fiction and Fact. The fictional father dislikes the suitors for his daughter's heart and hand and kicks them down the front steps. The real-life daddy wonders which of them is adequately prepared to relieve him of the expense of Mabel.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Growing. People say that growing "relieves their nerves." On the contrary, it doubles the strain by fixing the grower's attention on annoyances, and increasing their power to do mischief.

Kill All Flies! They Spread Disease. Placed anywhere, Daisley Fly Killer attracts and kills all flies, mosquitos, house flies, etc. It is a sure and certain remedy for all fly troubles. It is a sure and certain remedy for all fly troubles. It is a sure and certain remedy for all fly troubles.

Get Doin' at Any Store, 50c a Box. FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

Kill All Flies! They Spread Disease. Placed anywhere, Daisley Fly Killer attracts and kills all flies, mosquitos, house flies, etc. It is a sure and certain remedy for all fly troubles. It is a sure and certain remedy for all fly troubles. It is a sure and certain remedy for all fly troubles.

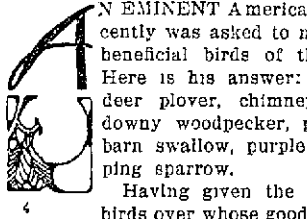

Get Doin' at Any Store, 50c a Box. FOSTER-MILBURN CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

THE FARMER'S TEN BEST BIRD FRIENDS

They are the night hawk, killdeer plover, chimney swift, bluebird, downy woodpecker, phoebe, chickadee, barn swallow, purple martin and chipping sparrow

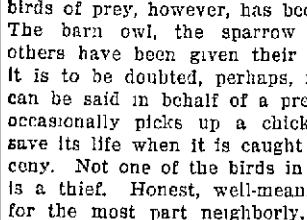

KILLDEER

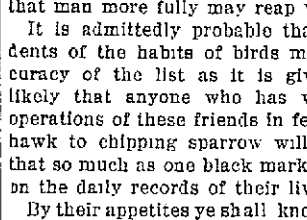

DOWNY WOODPECKER

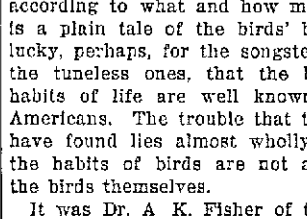

BLUEBIRD

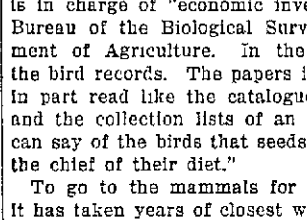

CHIMNEY SWIFT

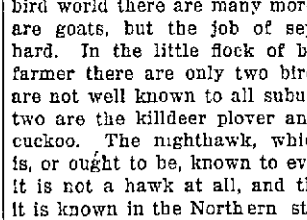

PHOEBE

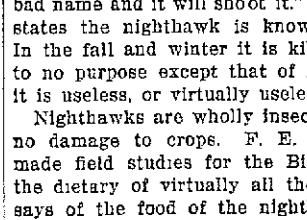

CHICKADEE

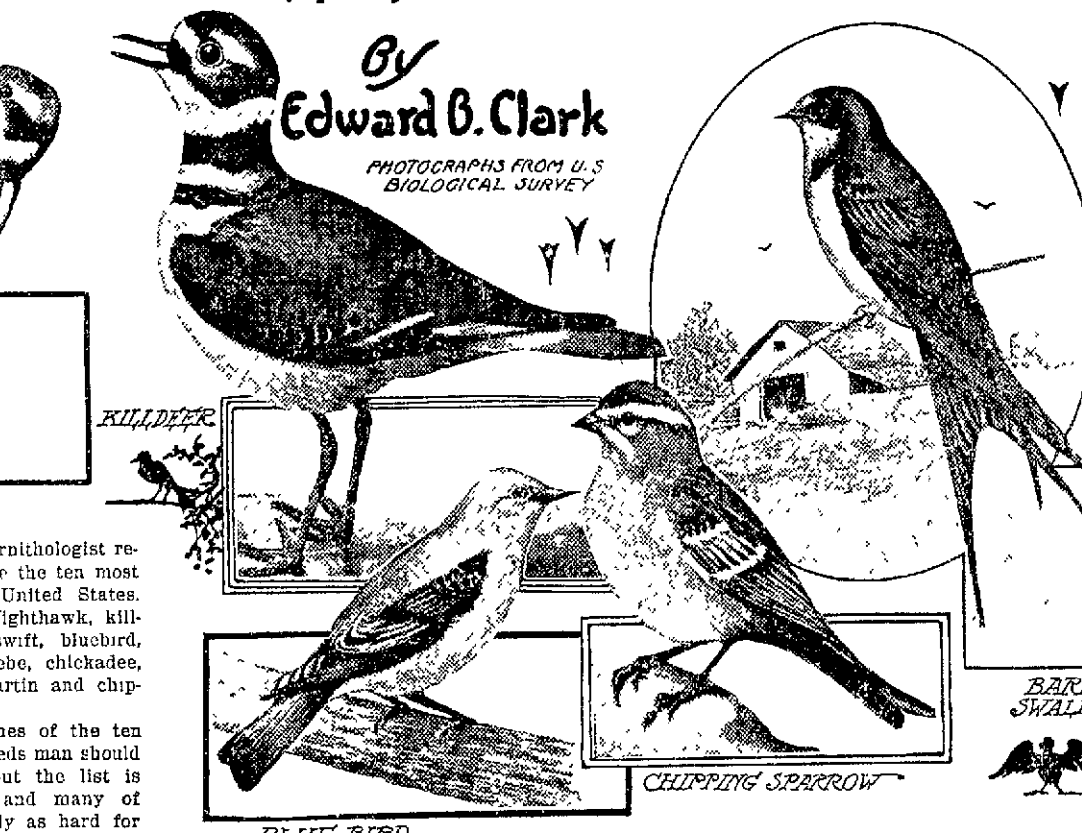

BARN SWALLOW

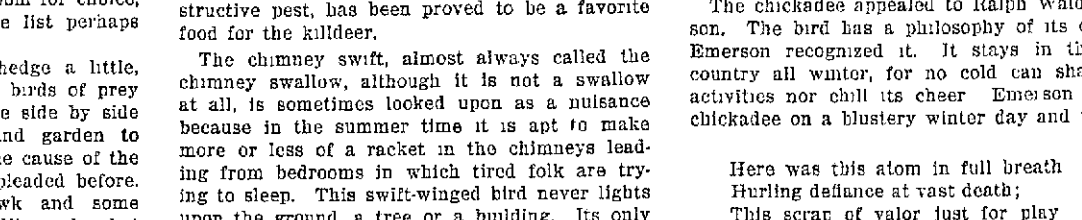

PURPLE MARTIN

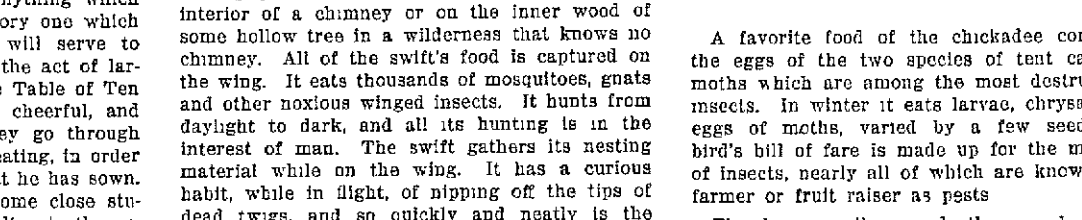

CHIPPING SPARROW

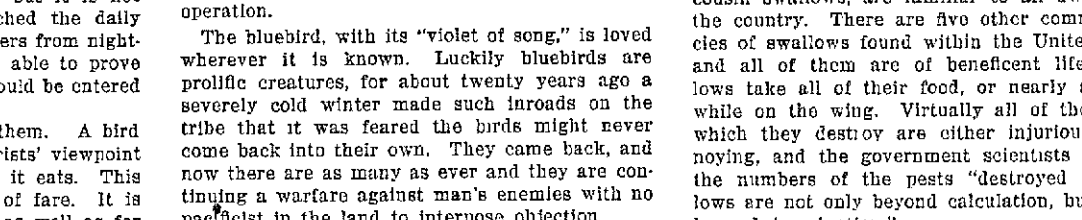

NIGHT HAWK

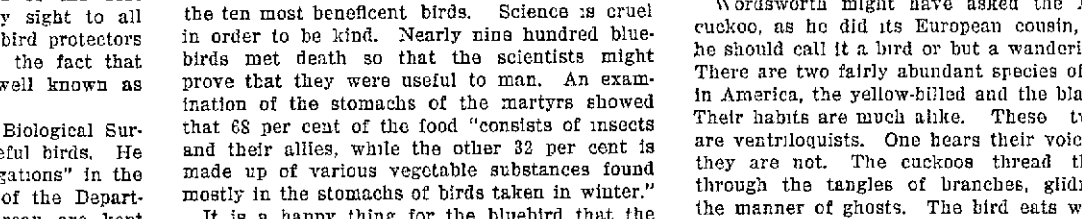

KILLDEER PLOVER

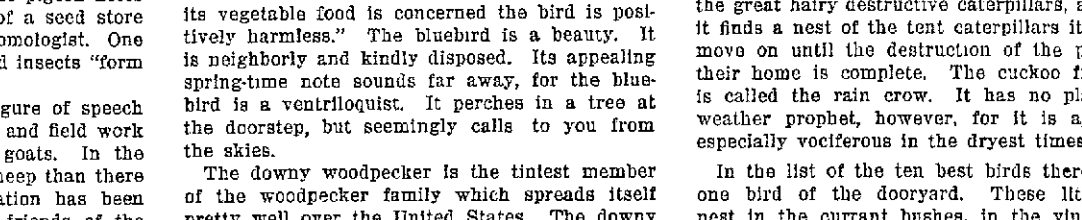

CHIMNEY SWIFT

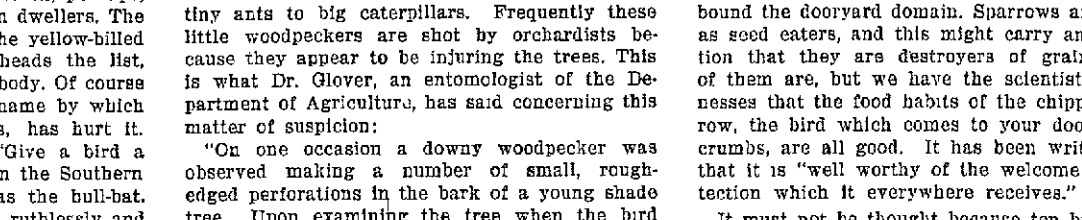

BLUEBIRD

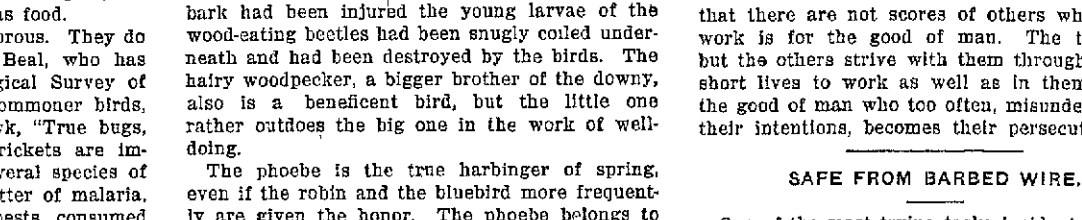

DOWNY WOODPECKER

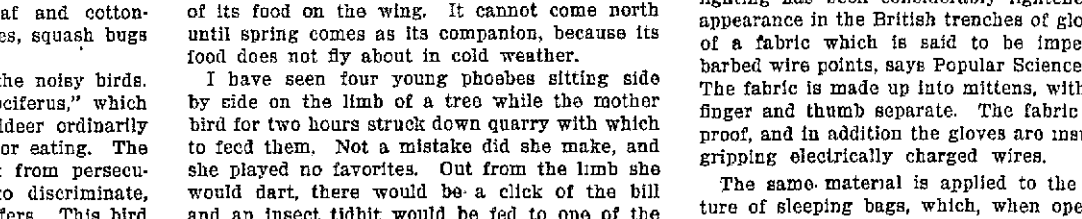

PHOEBE

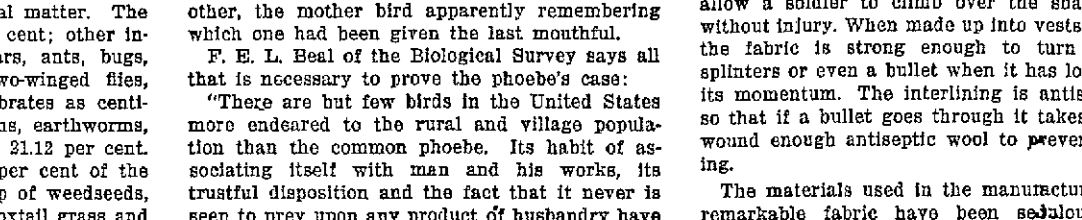

CHICKADEE

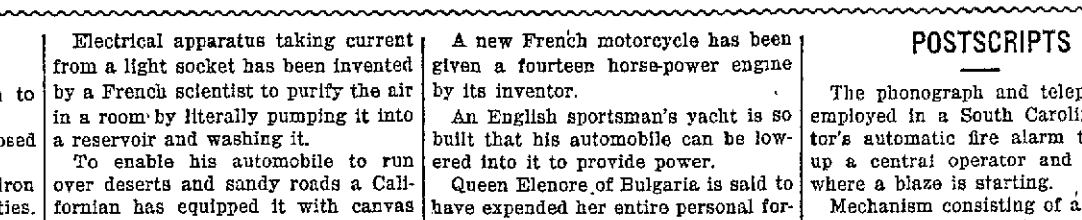

BARN SWALLOW

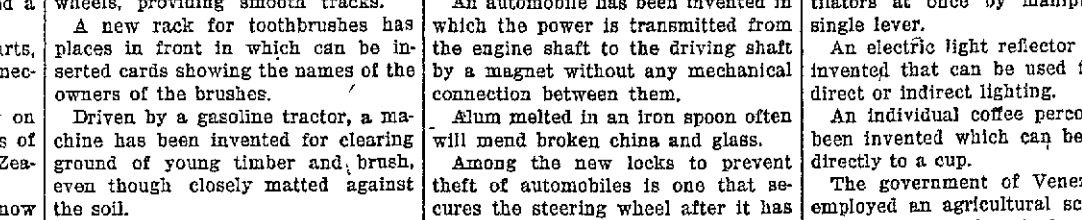

PURPLE MARTIN

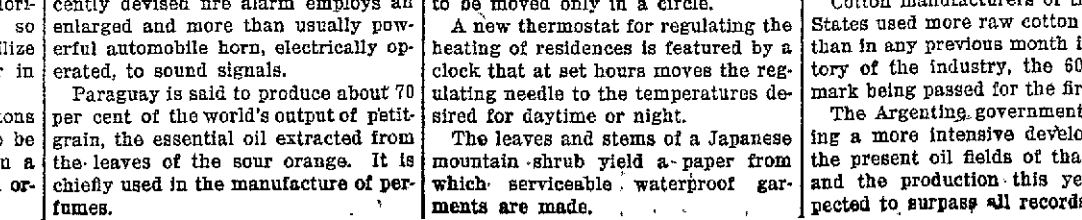

CHIPPING SPARROW

NIGHT HAWK

KILLDEER PLOVER

CHIMNEY SWIFT

By Edward B. Clark

PHOTOGRAPHS FROM U.S. BIOLOGICAL SURVEY

structive pest, has been proved to be a favorite food for the killdeer.

The chimney swift, almost always called the chimney swallow, although it is not a swallow at all, is sometimes looked upon as a nuisance because in the summer time it is apt to make more or less of a racket in the chimneys leading from bedrooms in which tired folk are trying to sleep. This swift-winged bird never lights upon the ground, a tree or a building. Its only resting place is on sooty bricks in the dark interior of a chimney or on the inner wood of some hollow tree in a wilderness that knows no chimney. All of the swift's food is captured on the wing. It eats thousands of mosquitoes, gnats and other noxious winged insects. It hunts from daylight to dark, and all its hunting is in the interest of man. The swift gathers its nesting material while on the wing. It has a curious habit, while in flight, of dipping off the tips of dead twigs, and so quickly and neatly is the thing done that the eye barely can follow the operation.

The bluebird, with its "violet of song," is loved wherever it is known. Luckily bluebirds are prolific creatures, for about twenty years ago a severely cold winter made such inroads on the tribe that it was feared the birds might never come back into their own. They came back, and now there are as many as ever and they are continuing a warfare against man's enemies with no pacifist in the land to interpose objection.

The bluebird is given third place in the list of the ten most beneficial birds. Science is cruel in order to be kind. Nearly nine hundred bluebirds met death so that the scientists might prove that they were useful to man. An examination of the stomachs of the martyrs showed that 68 per cent of the food "consists of insects and their allies, while the other 32 per cent is made up of various vegetable substances found mostly in the stomachs of birds taken in winter."

It is a happy thing that the bluebird that the scientists are able to set it down that "so far as its vegetable food is concerned the bird is positively harmless." The bluebird is a beauty. It is vigorous and kindly disposed. Its appealing springtime note sounds far away, for the bluebird is a ventriloquist. It perches in a tree at the doorstep, but seemingly calls to you from the skies.

The downy woodpecker is the tiniest member of the woodpecker family which spreads itself pretty well over the United States. The downy eats everything in the bug and insect line from tiny ants to big caterpillars. Frequently these little woodpeckers are shot by orchardists because they appear to be injuring the trees. This is what Dr. Glover, an entomologist of the Department of Agriculture, has said concerning this matter of suspicion:

"On one occasion a downy woodpecker was observed making a number of small, rough-edged perforations in the bark of a young shade tree. Upon examining the tree when the bird had flown away, it was found that wherever the bark had been injured the young larvae of the wood-eating beetles had been snugly coiled underneath and had been destroyed by the birds. The hairy woodpecker, a bigger brother of the downy, also is a beneficial bird, but the little one is rather outdone the big one in the work of well-doing."

The phoebe is the true harbinger of spring, even if the robin and the bluebird more frequently are given the honor. The phoebe belongs to the tribe of flycatchers and it takes virtually all of its food on the wing. It cannot come north until spring comes as its companion, because its food does not fly about in cold weather.

I have seen four young phoebes sitting side by side on the limb of a tree while the mother bird for two hours struck down quarry with which to feed them. Not a mistake did she make, and she played no favorites. Out from the limb she would dart, there would be a click of the bill and an insect tidbit would be fed to one of the fledglings. The young were fed one after another, the mother bird apparently remembering which one had been given the last mouthful.

F. E. L. Beal of the Biological Survey says all that is necessary to prove the phoebe's case:

"There are but few birds in the United States more endeared to the rural and village population than the common phoebe. Its habit of associating itself with man and his works, its trustful disposition and the fact that it never is seen to prey upon any product of husbandry have rendered it almost sacred."

A new French motorcycle has been given a fourteen horse-power engine by its inventor.

An English sportsman's yacht is so built that his automobile can be lowered into it to provide power.

Queen Elena of Bulgaria is said to have expended her entire personal fortune for the relief of her subjects.

An automobile has been invented in which the power is transmitted from the engine shaft to the driving shaft by a magnet without any mechanical connection between them.

Alum melted in an iron spoon often will melt broken china and glass.

Among the new looks to prevent theft of automobiles is one that secures the steering wheel after it has been turned slightly, enabling a car to be moved only in a circle.

A new thermostat for regulating the heating of residences is featured by a clock that at set hours moves the regulating needle to the temperatures desired for daytime or night.

The leaves and stems of a Japanese mountain shrub yield a paper from which serviceable waterproof garments are made.

The chickadee appealed to Ralph Waldo Emerson. The bird has a philosophy of its own and Emerson recognized it. It stays in the north country all winter, for no cold can shackle its activities nor chill its cheer. Emerson met the chickadee on a blustery winter day and wrote:

Here was this atom in full breath
Hurting defiance at vast death;
This scrap of valor just for play
Fronts the north wind in waistcoat gray.

A favorite food of the chickadee consists of the eggs of the two species of tent caterpillar moths which are among the most destructive of insects. In winter it eats larvae, chrysalids and eggs of moths, varied by a few seeds. The bird's bill of fare is made up for the main part of insects, nearly all of which are known to the farmer or fruit raiser as pests.

The barn swallow and the purple grackle, cousin swallows, are familiar to all dwellers in the country. There are five other common species of swallows found within the United States and all of them are of beneficial life. Swallows take all of their food, or nearly all of it, while on the wing. Virtually all of the insects which they destroy are either injurious or annoying, and the government scientists say that the numbers of the pests "destroyed by swallows are not only beyond calculation, but almost beyond imagination."

Wordsworth might have asked the American cuckoo, as he did its European cousin, whether he should call it a bird or a wandering woe. There are two fairly abundant species of cuckoos in America, the yellow-billed and the black-billed. Their habits are much alike. These two birds are ventriloquists. One hears their voices where they are not. The cuckoos thread their way through the tangles of branches, gliding after the manner of ghosts. The bird eats what most other birds disdain. It has a special fondness for the great hairy destructive caterpillars, and when it finds a nest of the tent caterpillars it will not move on until the destruction of the pests and their home is complete. The cuckoo frequently is called the rain crow. It has no place as a weather prophet, however, for it is apt to be especially vociferous in the driest times.

In the list of the ten best birds there is only one bird of the dooryard. These little birds nest in the current bushes, in the vines which clamber over the porch or in the hedges which bound the dooryard domain. Sparrows are known as seed eaters, and this might carry an implication that they are destroyers of grain. Some of them are, but we have the scientists as witnesses that the food habits of the chipping sparrow, the bird which comes to your doorstep for crumbs, are all good. It has been written of it that it is "well worthy of the welcome and protection which it everywhere receives."

It must not be thought because ten birds have been named as the best friends of the farmer that there are not scores of others whose daily work is for the good of man. The ten excel, but the others strive with them throughout their short lives to work as well as in them lies for the good of man who too often, misunderstanding their intentions, becomes their persecutor.

Rough on the Slacker. Edward Marshall, the author and war correspondent, said in London:

"After my experience on the tormented Sussex I can sympathize with the English hatred of the slacker."

"The slacker got it good and hard in England nowadays. One of these slacking chaps boarded a train the other evening that was crowded with muddy, unshaven soldiers just back on a five-day furlough from the trenches."

The slacker was in evening dress—slip socks, pumps, brilliant hair and dainty white gloves. There were no seats, so he took hold of a strap. As he stood there strap-hanging the "Tommyes" studied him thoughtfully. Finally one of them got up, touched him on the elbow politely, and said: "Have my seat, miss."

Beauty is said to be only skin deep, but many a woman's beauty depends upon the size of her balance in the bank.

From a mother's point of view it is always the sins of the father that are visited on the children.

Greater New York has 831,885 school pupils

The materials used in the manufacture of this remarkable fabric have been sedulously kept secret this far.

POSTSCRIPTS

The phonograph and telephone are employed in a South Carolina inventor's automatic fire alarm that calls up a central operator and tells her where a blaze is starting.

Mechanism consisting of a series of jointed strips or lowering several ventilators at once by manipulating a single lever.

An electric light reflector has been invented that can be used for either direct or indirect lighting.

An individual coffee percolator has been invented which can be clamped directly to a cup.

The government of Venezuela has employed an agricultural scientist to give free instructions to farmers.

Cotton manufacturers of the United States used more raw cotton in March than in any previous month in the history of the industry, the 600,000-hale mark being passed for the first time.

The Argentine government is favoring a more intensive development of the present oil fields of that country and the production this year is expected to surpass all records.

DAIRYING IN WESTERN CANADA

Accompanying Industries Also Prove Highly Profitable.

The cheese industry throughout western Canada today is in a highly flourishing condition and is bound in a very short time to become much more important. The war has created a great demand for that article, and its use abroad has given it a lot of useful advertising. The article known as Canadian cheese is low sought not only by the soldier in the trenches, but by the ordinary civilian consumer, who, having used it, is quick to appreciate its value. This means that after the war there will be a demand created for it that would not otherwise have been. Up to the present the war needs have limited the local supply, but with the increased effort that is now being put forth it is hoped that this will be met. As a matter of course the prices are high, and the farmers who contribute to the cheese factories are making money.

The cheese season is now fully open and there is every prospect of an excellent year because the high price which obtained last year will undoubtedly be maintained this season. Western Canada has all the natural resources for the making of cheese, the feed and the cool nights, two things essential, and in time it is bound to become one of the finest cheese countries of the continent.

The lower foothills of Alberta, used only at the present time as ranges or for no purpose, will in time produce cheese in great quantities, and doubtless will soon equal the famous uplands of Denmark.

The cool nights mean the better keeping of milk and cream and cheese, and that is a great thing for the industry, especially when combined with possibilities of cattle feed such as exist on the long slopes from the Rockies eastward.

The hog market, which may be classed as an adjunct of farming, is an exceedingly good one, and the low cost at which the feed can be produced, coupled with the high prices realized, make this industry very profitable.

One of the first thoughts that occur to the mind of the average prospective settler is the likelihood of suitable markets. In this connection the following table will be illuminating. It is supplied by the P. Burns company, packers and exporters, of Calgary, and shows the average market price paid for hogs for the season 1910 to 1915.

One of the first thoughts that occur to the mind of the average prospective settler is the likelihood of suitable markets. In this connection the following table will be illuminating. It is supplied by the P. Burns company, packers and exporters, of Calgary, and shows the average market price paid for hogs for the season 1910 to 1915.

One of the first thoughts that occur to the mind of the average prospective settler is the likelihood of suitable markets. In this connection the following table will be illuminating. It is supplied by the P. Burns company, packers and exporters, of Calgary, and shows the average market price paid for hogs for the season 1910 to 1915.

A farmer of Monarch, Alberta, claims the distinction of being the first in the province to sell a carton of hogs at the high price of eleven cents a pound, live weight. The sale was made a short time ago at Calgary, and at that time was a record, although prices have since gone as high as $11.12 1/2 per hundredweight. With such prices available for hogs the farmer has a market for everything his farm produces, as there is practically no farm product which cannot be converted into good hog flesh. The uncertainty of results which attends grain farming even under most favorable conditions is removed when the settler goes in for raising hogs, beef and dairy products. With Western Canada's clean lands, heavy crops and abundant food from diseases of stock, the stock farmer is as sure of success as anyone can be.—Advertisement.

Rough on the Slacker. Edward Marshall, the author and war correspondent, said in London:

"After my experience on the tormented Sussex I can sympathize with the English hatred of the slacker."

"The slacker got it good and hard in England nowadays. One of these slacking chaps boarded a train the other evening that was crowded with muddy, unshaven soldiers just back on a five-day furlough from the trenches."

The slacker was in evening dress—slip socks, pumps, brilliant hair and dainty white gloves. There were no seats, so he took hold of a strap. As he stood there strap-hanging the "Tommyes" studied him thoughtfully. Finally one of them got up, touched him on the elbow politely, and said: "Have my seat, miss."

Beauty is said to be only skin deep, but many a woman's beauty depends upon the size of her balance in the bank.

From a mother's point of view it is always the sins of the father that are visited on the children.

Greater New York has 831,885 school pupils

The materials used in the manufacture of this remarkable fabric have been sedulously kept secret this far.

POSTSCRIPTS

The phonograph and telephone are employed in a South Carolina inventor's automatic fire alarm that calls up a central operator and tells her where a blaze is starting.

Mechanism consisting of a series of jointed strips or lowering several ventilators at once by manipulating a single lever.

An electric light reflector has been invented that can be used for either direct or indirect lighting.

An individual coffee percolator has been invented which can be clamped directly to a cup.

The government of Venezuela has employed an agricultural scientist to give free instructions to farmers.

Cotton manufacturers of the United States used more raw cotton in March than in any previous month in the history of the industry, the 600,000-hale mark being passed for the first time.

The Argentine government is favoring a more intensive development of the present oil fields of that country and the production this year is expected to surpass all records.

CRITICISM OF MODERN FICTION

Pleases Many Because of Its Unreality and Sentimentality, Is Opinion Expressed by One Writer.

Sentimentality is a kind of artificial coloring matter. Just as a playful of pink (grade B skimmed milk, chemically flavored) passes for strawberry, as a maraschino of pink (same formula) passes for romance. Without this adventitious glamour many of the sugary concoctions now served up to the public would seem as flat as stale toiletpaste.

Some people find this thing very convenient. To them it makes the most drab things seem tolerable. "We'd rather not know what this really is," they say, "for if we did, there are enough unpleasant things in this world, without our needing to add to them by analyzing something we enjoy."

And so, thinking the thoughts they like to think, they batten on coal tar and cocaine.

But some of us would like to know what goes into our physical and mental stomachs. We wish that the pure food experts, who censor the advertisements in many of the popular magazines might be given a chance at the fiction.—Judge.

Love and the Limer. A sentimental young lady from town was on the steamship quay, where she saw a young girl sitting on a trunk in an attitude of utter dejection and despair.

"Poor thing," thought the romantic young lady, "she is probably alone and a stranger! Her pale cheeks and great, sad eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning for sympathy."

She went over to the traveler to win her confidence.

"Crossed in love?" she asked sympathetically.

"No," replied the girl, with a sigh; "crossed in the Pacific, and an awfully rough passage, too!"

The Magic Washing Stick

"The Magic Washing Stick is just fine. It did just what you said it would do, and the clothes were so nice and white with all that hard rubbing left off," writes Mrs. Sarah Goodrich, Preston, Texas. The Magic Washing stick is not a soap and a washing powder. Fifteen washings 25c. Sold by all grocers everywhere. Roundy, Peckham & Co., Milwaukee, Wis., Distributors.—Adv.

Eavesdropping.

Reile—She wouldn't stoop to listening to conversation through the key-hole.

Beulah—I know it. A party telephone wire is good enough for her.

The man who hands out free advice to others always goes elsewhere for his own.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana.—"My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time." I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy."—Mrs. Wm. GREECE, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Purely vegetable—act surely and gently on the liver. Cure Bilelessness, Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion. They do their duty. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE.

Genuine must bear Signature

HOYT'S HEADACHE AND NEURALGIA COLOGNE

A harmless and refreshing remedy that quickly relieves headache, neuralgia, toothache, rheumatism, indigestion, etc., used only by inhaling and outward application. For sale by all druggists.

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 23-1916.

WE PAY CASH FOR MEDICINAL ROOTS, HERBS, LEAVES, BARKS, ETC.

We buy over two hundred different kinds of Medicinal Roots, Herbs, Leaves, Barks, Seeds, Flowers, Etc., for which we pay net cash on arrival.

A healing wonder for nasal catarrh, sore throat and sore eyes. Economical.
Has extraordinary cleansing and germicidal power.
Sample Free. 50c. all druggists, or postpaid by mail. The Parfume Toilet Company, Boston, Mass.

PLEASANT HILL
A surprise party was tendered Miss Leota Peters last Saturday, the occasion being her birthday. A large crowd was present and refreshments were served. Among those present were Mrs. A. Zellman and Mrs. Theo. Platts whose birthdays were on the same day.

Mrs. Anna Bullert arrived home last Tuesday from Madison after spending a few days with her husband at Madison.

Alfred Alms was a business caller at Grand Rapids Saturday.

Clarence Paulson, a young man from Grand Rapids, is helping Mrs. Krebs with his work. Mr. and Mrs. Krebs went to Vesper after his Friday and report that the water was over the road most of the way.

Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Peters last week.

W. Buchanan made a business trip to Grand Rapids Saturday.

While at work in the wash room Mrs. Likes was struck across the back by a long 2x6 which was accidentally knocked down by her son and the result was that she was laid up a few days.

A surprise party was given Martin Whitcomb Saturday evening. A good time was had by those present.

W. Zucke has had his new home ready for the shingles. He will have a fine home when completed.

Herman Herzburg has his barn about completed.

P. H. Likes painted his barn last week. Heisner and Worten of Vesper did the work.

Prof. Clark showed his pictures at the Pleasant Hill school house last Tuesday evening to a large crowd.

The Pleasant Hill School closed Tuesday with a picnic at Strope's grove.

One of the heaviest rains of the season struck here Thursday night accompanied by a big gale that did considerable damage. The south part of P. H. Likes' old barn was blown down and some damage was done to the Fred Fox farm. The farmers are wondering if it will ever stop raining so they can get in the crops.

August Herzburg had a yearling calf killed by the lightning.

Misses Elizabeth Alms and Alpha Likes were successful in passing the county examination and will graduate at Grand Rapids June 14th.

Gus Krebs has been pulling stumps with his new jump puller the past week.

E. Davies and J. Schneider are building new barns.

VANDERBEEK
Mr. H. Evans and Mr. F. Bauer are doing some braking for Mr. Guy Munbrue on his farm.

Jim Brown has moved his household goods and family up near Grand Rapids where they have rented a farm for the summer.

Israel Jero and son Seymour and Archie Phelps were Grand Rapids shoppers Saturday.

Charley Bauer, who works for Mr. Peterson at Oak Ridge, spent Sunday at home.

Eibe Corbitt and family were callers at C. E. Duck's Sunday.

Frank Bauer has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with rheumatism. He is not wholly recovered nor able to do any work as yet.

Charley and Elmer Brown were Grand Rapids shoppers Thursday and Friday. Their nephew, Robbie Brown came home with them for a few days visit.

J. B. White and E. Bass were callers at Israel Jero's Sunday evening. Mr. Bass favored those present with some very nice guitar music.

SIGEL
Eric Newman left on Monday for Iowa where on Tuesday he was married to Miss Mabel Paulson, a most estimable young lady of that place. Mr. Newman is a popular young man having held the position of principal of the Pleasant View School for the last four years. Mr. and Mrs. Newman will make Grand Rapids their home. The best wishes of all their friends are extended to them for a long and happy wedded life.

Miss Ellen Anderson is employed at the Mrs. home in Vesper.

Miss Dossie LaVigne and Eric Newman closed successful schools here on Wednesday by giving the children a picnic.

Frank Larson is reported to be quite sick.

Mrs. M. Grunstedt and Eric Newman of Grand Rapids spent Tuesday here with relatives.

Wm. Kiste has just completed a new barn without basement.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Kubisak of your city spent Tuesday here.

Mrs. Ulves is visiting her daughter at the Rapids.

Miss Signe Heden returned to your city after spending a week here.

Miss Ida Jacobson is visiting at the Chas. Johnson home in Grand Rapids.

Misses Edith Worland and Marie Hanlin are home from Grand Rapids where they have been attending high school.

Miss Anna Anderson left Monday for Minneapolis where she will be employed.

Gust Anderson has traded his horse to a party in Stevens Point.

Miss Dagmar Worland is home from Grand Rapids where she is attending school.

Miss Nettie Sedall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sedall, returned from Chicago where she has been employed the past several months. Miss Sedall has also made a long and splendid visit with her relatives.

ALTDORF
Wm. Peters has purchased a new Ford automobile.

Laura Whipl closed a successful term of school in district No. 3, Hansen on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Marx visited in Rudolph Sunday.

Sophia Schiller has gone to Milwaukee on a visit and to attend the wedding of her cousin.

There was a birthday party at O. J. Leu's Tuesday evening in honor of the birthdays of Earl Leu and Wm. Stauffer. About a dozen of their friends were in attendance.

The town board will meet next Monday, June 13th, to lay out and let the contract for clearing and grading a road running south between sections 9 and 10-22-4 in to the farm of Robert Weeck.

The joint picnic of the Holstein and Guernsey breeders will be held Tuesday June 13th, at the home of Chas. Tomfohrde, two miles northwest of Vesper. F. B. Frees of Richland Center and H. D. Griswold of West Salem will be the principal speakers. There will also be other entertainments. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. A picnic dinner will be had.

The state aid road crew are at present working on the Walker-Grand Rapids road.

George Viertel is suffering from a case of poison ivy.

BIRON
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Akey and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richert autoed up to Rudolph Sunday and spent the day at the Oliver and Peter Akey homes. They report the roads fine.

Albert Zager was at Port Edwards and Seneca last Sunday with his family.

Joe Kappa and two little boys were in your city one day the past week.

Prof. Shearler is working here on the dam with his brother Charles.

Geo. Bates and wife and two little boys of your city spent a few hours one day in our burg with relatives.

C. A. Sip, Percy Kempter, Frank Simonski, Bert Gaffney, Peter Bauer, Jeff Akey, Oscar and Frank Carlson, John and Henry Voigt, John Walker, Dan Hobbs, and Warren Beadle were among the business visitors in your city the past week.

Mrs. Francis Biron was in your city Saturday shopping.

Paul Kohner and wife, and Mike and John Biron were visitors at the Ray Cooper home Sunday.

Ellen Biron was in your city one day the past week.

Mrs. Thos. McGrath and Mrs. Chas. Olson were shopping in your city one day last week.

C. C. Cummings and wife were shoppers in your one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Winkler and children visited at the Archie Shearler home for a few days the past week. Mr. Shearler owns a fine farm near Packwaukee, Wis.

Jeff Akey and sister Pearl, Miss Hazel Biron and Mr. Carrol Lamberton autoed to Rudolph one night last week.

Oscar Carlson is nursing a sore finger he hurt one day last week.

Steve and John Koznowski attended the dance at Matt Herman's one night last week and report a fine time.

Chas. Hamme, Chas. Schmidt, Fred Reiser, Frank Ginnuz and Wm. Plick were among those who attended the dance at Rudolph.

Mrs. Frank Gokey has been visiting the Weaver family in our burg a few days the past week.

Mrs. Louis Gross of the Plover Road died at her home after a long illness.

Walter Jerzak, August and John Binger, and George and Henry Smith took in the dance at Matt Herman's.

Douglas Grosskopf, Fred Trudell, Elmer Olson and Basil Rocheleau were in your city the past week.

O. Akey and wife and Mrs. Arthur Clark of Rudolph were in our burg one day, calling on friends.

John Johnson and wife were at Port Edwards and Nekeosa one day last week calling on friends.

Mrs. A. L. Akey was at Nekeosa a few days the past week visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Cotteau, and Mrs. W. J. Fohart and family.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beadle, a baby girl, June 2nd.

Miss Pearl Akey went to Nekeosa Friday night with Master Gordon Cotteau who came here with Grandma Akey. Miss Pearl will visit there for a week or so.

Andrew Schill and Louis Panter of our city were fishing here Sunday.

Olelien Rocheleau, W. C. Barton, Harry and Basil Barton, Thos. and Emmett McGrath, Leland Rocheleau, Harry Peterson, Peter Urbanowski, Christ Boorman, Geo. and Alfred Jensen, Arneir Shearler, Albert Zager, Albert Plick and wife were in your city one day the past week.

Mrs. Dave Taylor was in your city one day shopping.

Frank Jansky is now working at the Dick Johnson Buffet.

Walter Gilschlater Sundayed at Port Edwards with his folks.

Geo. Richert and wife were in your city one day shopping.

Mrs. Chet. Alwood and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Lamberton were in your city one day shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Weaver and son and Mrs. Frank Gokey of Nekeosa were at Junction City on Sunday visiting the Abner Akey home.

Geo. Richards Sundayed at the home of his parents in your city.

Joe Fohart, Chas. Williamson, Steve Pivicki, James Gokey and Martin Gheike were in your city one day the past week.

Mike Jansky and wife were in your city one day shopping.

PLEYER ROAD
A number from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Louis Gross near the Rapids Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Anna Ferguson who has been attending school in Grand Rapids is spending her summer vacation at home.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran church will meet with Mrs. Frank Keeney Wednesday, June 14th at 2:30 p. m. Everybody invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voigt and family spent Sunday at the Willie Voigt home.

The Peter Pergen family spent Sunday evening at the Herman Young home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keeney spent Sunday afternoon at the H. Hanson home.

The Christian Endeavor meeting was held at the Herman Young home Friday evening. A large crowd was present and all report the meeting a good one.

SARATOGA
Severt Hansen came home from Chicago and spent a few days with his mother and brothers last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Galliger of Grand Rapids visited relatives here one day last week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Spohn Jr. Monday, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and Mrs. M. E. Johnson spent Sunday at the Walter Tesser home at Nekeosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Lundberg attended the high school graduation exercises at Grand Rapids Thursday. Miss Dorothy being one of the graduates.

Chas. Spohn, Sr., had a telephone put in his home.

Rev. E. B. Johnson and wife and mother spent Tuesday evening at the M. P. Johnson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Durneister spent Sunday at the Timm Smith home in Pleasant Hill.

Mrs. Nelse Jensen has returned from a visit with relatives and friends in Chicago.

Mrs. W. Johnson and daughters Leonore and Edith of Grand Rapids attended services in the Union church Sunday.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet Thursday June 15th with Mrs. Pauline Hansen.

Miss Ella Schror who has been employed as nurse at Waupaca is at home for a vacation.

ADVERTISED MAIL.
Gentlemen: Fitzpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. H. L., Teeple, Mr. J. W. Robert Nash, Postmaster.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office

Walter Beck and Edwin Haas spent Sunday at the home of M. Mroz. Miss Adams of La Crosse is visiting a few days at C. D. Johnston's. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Yager visited Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Budde.

C. D. Johnston has a new car.

John Mroz and wife and Leon and Ike Mroz of Grand Rapids spent Sunday with their parents.

Chas. Koopman has started the foundation for his new barn.

Tony Wacholtz is busy building a house on his farm.

FLAT FOR RENT:—Joe Rick, phone 373.

Auto Owners Attention!
—The law requires that lights on automobiles be lit one hour after sunset. Many auto owners in the city are neglecting to comply with the law. It is very necessary that the tail lights be lit. Some automobile owners seem to think it is not necessary to light the tail lights. Commencing June 10th, the police will arrest all automobile drivers on whose cars the lights are not lit, especially tail lights, during the prescribed time.

James Gibson, Chief of Police.

BIG SUMMER SPECIAL
Beginning on June 18th and extending until September 3rd, the Congregational Sunday School will conduct a "Big Summer Special" school at the usual hour (10 o'clock) every Sunday morning.

The Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Adult Departments will join the "Special" which will be conducted on entirely different lines than the regular school.

A program has been arranged covering the entire summer and every Sunday will be a "Surprise Sunday." Prizes will be given the winners of the special "stunts" and there will be something doing every minute of the one hour sessions.

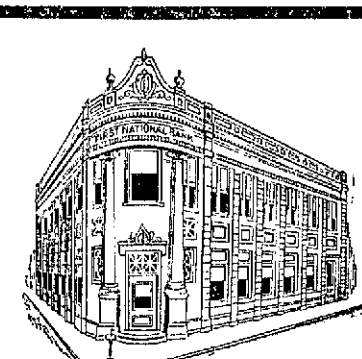

SUDDEN DEATH OF MRS. JOSEPH
The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skarvin died very suddenly Thursday morning. In fact the death of the little one was not known until she was found dead in bed. The child was two months of age, and while she had not enjoyed very good health since her birth, she was apparently in as good health as usual.

The funeral was held on Saturday from the home, services being conducted by Rev. H. C. Logan of the Methodist church.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office

WE PAY TWO KINDS OF INTEREST
There are two kinds of interest—personal and 3 per cent—we pay both. Our officers take a personal interest in the financial affairs of our customers and are always glad to give you the benefit of their broad banking experience.

OPEN A SAVINGS ACCOUNT TODAY
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

June ECONOMY Sale

Commencing Thursday, June 8th, ending Wednesday, June 14th.

During this sale every department in our store will be represented with special bargains for the economical buyer. Read every item carefully.

Ladie's Dep.

Women's Coats and Suits Half Price

Your choice of any woman's or misses spring coat or suit at exactly one-half the original price. We only have a few garments left, but every one is correct in style.

Women's Silk Dresses reduced 25 per cent

Beautiful new models in women's silk dresses now to be sold at a discount of 25 per cent.

Children's Coats Reduced 25 per cent

Any child's spring coat in our entire stock at a discount of 25 per cent. Make your selection now and save money.

Dry Goods Department

One ass't. Val. laces, 5c values, Economy Sale price per yard ..... 2c

50c Embroidered Convent Flouncing, 18 inches wide, Economy Sale Price per yard ..... 35c

One Lot Allover Embroideries, values 35c up to $2.00 per yard, Economy Sale price ONE HALF PRICE.

$1.25 Ladies Parasols, assorted colors, Economy Sale price each ..... 98c

One assortment Insertions, pretty designs, 2 to 5 inches wide, prices 25c to 75c per yard, Economy Sale price, ONE THIRD OFF REGULAR PRICE.

Ladies 10c Initial Handkerchiefs, good quality, Economy Sale price, each ..... 7c

24 inch white Crepes and dotted Mulls, values up to 24c. Your choice of this lot, per yard ..... 17c

10c Bleached Toweling, Economy Sale price, per yard ..... 8c

Silk Messalines, good quality, plain colors, lengths from 2 yards to 8 yards, regular $1.25 and $1.50 values Economy Sale Price, per yard ..... 95c

$1.75 Taffeta Silks and Crepe de Chenes, $1.19. This lot consists of all good plain colors in 2 yard to 8 yard lengths and are $1.50 and $1.75 values, Economy Sale per yd. $1.19

Ladies $1.00 Unit Suits, low neck, no sleeves, loose knee, all sizes, regular price $1.00, Economy sale price per suit ..... 78c

Ladies 15c Gauze Vests, low neck, no sleeves, Economy Sale price, each ..... 10c

Ladies 45c Hose 29c. This lot includes some black and some tan ladies hose, some of which formerly sold at prices up to 45c, Economy Sale price, per pair ..... 29c

Infants Tan Fibre Hose, sizes 4 to 6 1/2, 25c values, Economy Sale price, per pair ..... 18c

25c French Gingham 20c. A nice assortment of patterns to select from, regular 25c gingham, Economy Sale, per yd. 20c

One nice assortment of wash goods consisting of printed lawns and foulards, former prices 10c and 12 1/2c Economy Sale price, per yard ..... 8c

CALICO 6c YARD.—During this sale we will sell any of our standard calicoes either light or dark patterns at per yd. 6c

Carpet Department

6x8 feet bamboo porch shades, regular price $1.50, special at only ..... 98c

8x8 feet bamboo porch shades regular price $2.50, special at only ..... 1.48

Bargain Basement

Children's Gingham and Percale Dresses 48c—Children's Dresses made of good quality gingham and percale, pretty styles, ages 6 to 14 years, each ..... 48c

$1.00 House Dresses 68c—Women's House Dresses in a good range of colors, all sizes, regular $1.00 values in our Bargain Basement, each ..... 68c

Women's and Misses' Coats and Suits $4.95—One lot of Women's and Misses' Coats and Suits, sizes 34 to 42. Some of these garments were made to sell at prices up to $20.00. These garments are made of good materials but are not this seasons' styles. Your choice of this lot at ..... $4.95

Women's Coats and Suits at $2.95—One lot of Women's Coats and Suits in a good assortment of colors and patterns. Sizes 14, 16, 18, 36 and 38. Your choice of this lot at ..... $2.95

Silk Petticoats 98c—One lot of Women's Silk Petticoats in a good assortment of colors, now on sale in our Bargain Basement at each ..... 98c

Hardware Department

One lot of shears, this assortment includes cutters, trimmers, embroidery shears and manicure shears marked especially at ONE THIRD THE PRICE OFF.

One lot of Globe Safety Razors, regular $1.00 value, special at each ..... 64c

One lot of Chisel Handles, regular 10c values, while the lot lasts each ..... 6c

Crockery Department

25c Glass Sugar and Creamer, fancy cut. Special this week, per set ..... 19c

10c Japanese Baskets with decorated plate. Special this week at ..... 5c

Cut Glass Guest room sets with bottle and tumbler to match. Special at per set ..... 25c

Shoe Department

$3.00 MEN'S OXFORDS AT $2.25

One lot of Men's Gun metal blutcher oxfords with full round toes, medium heels and all solid. All sizes, an exceptional $3.00 value for this sale only ..... $2.25

One lot Men's Brown Calf Blutcher Oxfords with flexible "Bear Paw" leather soles and rubber heels, unlined. An ideal summer and outing oxford, a good $3.50 value for this sale only ..... $2.25

$3.00 WOMEN'S PUMPS AND COLONIALS $2.35

Any pair of our $3.00 grade in Women's Pumps and Colonial Strap effects in our new, this seasons' styles, including Patents, dolls, and bright kid leathers, all sizes and widths for this sale only ..... $2.35

$3.00 WORTH FOR ONLY 95c

One large lot of Women's low cut styles, mostly small sizes in black and tan, odd pairs of discontinued lines which we wish to dispose of quickly. Most of these goods sold for $3.00 and some as high as $3.50 a pair. If you have a small foot and can wear a pair of these you are lucky. For this sale only ..... 95c

One lot Women's high grade Oxfords, Pumps and Strap effects in black and tan, odd pairs, and mostly small sizes but exceptionally good styles and quality. To close out quickly for this sale only ..... $1.75

Clothing Dept.

Men's $10.00 Suits $5.85—30 Men's and Young Men's Suits, sizes 33 to 37, assorted patterns, value up to $10.00, June Economy Sale price $5.85

Men's 10c Work Sox, June Economy sale price 7c

Men's and Young Men's 50c Cuff Buttons, June Economy Sale price 39c

Men's and Young Men's 50c Belts, black, grey and tan, Economy Sale price 39c

Free! A good Hat FREE with each man's or young man's suit sold during this sale.

Paint Department

60c Paint Brush free with one gallon of floor paint at per gallon ..... $1.65

Only one brush to a customer.

45c Package Alabastine special this week ..... 38c

15c paint brushes special this week each ..... 9c

In our Grocery Dept.

The store that is always busy. Why?—Quality, Service and Prices.

PURE CANE SUGAR 6c THE POUND in this assortment.

10 lbs. Cane Sugar ..... 60c

1 lb. Santos coffee, ground or whole ..... 22c

1 lb. Arm & Hammer salaratus ..... 5c

1 lb. Big Store Baking Powder ..... 18c

6 lb. Bag fine table salt ..... 10c

1/4 lb. Pure Ground Pepper in carton ..... 10c

5 lb. package Probono Rolled Oats ..... 25c

1 only, four rows, rice root scrub brush ..... 10c

One pkg. only hard wood tooth picks ..... 5c

This assortment ..... $1.65

HERE ARE A FEW SNAPS

Horseshoe Tea, a fancy uncolored Japan Tea, put up in one pound air tight packages only the pound ..... 35c

This tea is worth 50c.

Calumet Baking Powder, 2 1/2 pound cans ..... 43c

Dried Peaches, large, meaty fruit, per lb. ..... 6 1/2c

Fels Naptha or P. G. Naptha Soap, 6 bars ..... 25c

Peas and Corn canned, very good quality, per can ..... 7c

Sauer Kraut large 3 lb. can, extra good the can ..... 8 1/2c

(If your stomach is not working right eat sauerkraut.)

GRAPE JUICE—If you want to build up your system drink plenty of Grape Juice it is the blood of the grape and will enrich your blood, quart bottle ..... 38c

PICNIC GOODS

20c Cans Van Kamps Pork and Beans ..... 16c

15c Cans Van Kamps Pork and Beans ..... 12c

10c Cans Van Kamps Pork and Beans ..... 8c

20c cans of Salmon ..... 17c

15c can of Salmon ..... 12c

12 1/2c cans of Salmon ..... 10c

10c Salmon ..... 8 1/2c

MR. FARMER:— We have all kinds of seed. Come to us for your flour, feed and salt. We pay the highest market price for eggs. We want them.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Save your cash sales slips, they are worth money to you.

We redeem and pay 2 per cent for cash slips when your slips aggregate $50.00 or more.

PLEASANT HILL. A surprise party was tendered Miss Leota Peters last Saturday. A large crowd was present and after spending a pleasant evening refreshments were served. Among the guests were Mrs. A. Zeman and Mrs. Thos. Thats whose birthdays were on the same day.

Mrs. Anna Bullett arrived home last Tuesday from Madison after spending a few days with her husband at Madison.

Alfred Alras was a business caller at Grand Rapids Saturday.

Clarence Paulson, a young man from Grand Rapids, is helping Jim Kreh with his work. Mr. and Mrs. Kreh went to Vesper after him Friday and report that the water was over the road most of the way.

Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Peters last week.

W. Buchanan made a business trip to Grand Rapids Saturday.

While at work in the wash room Mrs. L. Lee was struck across the back by a long 2x4 which was recently knocked down by her son and the result was that she was laid up a few days.

A surprise party was given Martin Whitbeck Saturday evening. A good time was had by those present.

W. Zudko has had his new home ready for the students. He will have a fine home when completed.

Herman Herzburg has his barn about complete.

P. H. Likos painted his barn last week. Blodner and Werten of Vesper did the work.

Prof. Clark showed his pictures at the Pleasant Hill school house last Tuesday evening to a large crowd.

The Pleasant Hill school closed Tuesday with a picnic at Strope's grove.

One of the heaviest rains of the season struck here Thursday night accompanied by a big gale that did considerable damage. The south part of P. H. Likos' old barn was blown down and some damage was also done at the Fred Fox farm. The farmers are wondering if it will ever stop raining so they can get in the crops. August Herzburg had a yearling calf killed by the lightning.

Misses Elizabeth Ale and Alpha Likos were successful in passing the county examination and will graduate at Grand Rapids June 14th.

Gus Kreh has been pulling straps with his new strap puller the past week.

R. Dawes and J. Schneider are building new barn.

VANDRESEN. Mr. H. Evans and Mr. P. Deuer are doing some bracking for Mr. Gray Manberg on his farm here.

Jim Brown has moved his household goods and family up near Grand Rapids where they have rented a farm for the summer.

Edward Jero and son Seymour and Archie Phelps were Grand Rapids shoppers Saturday.

Charley Bauer, who works for Mr. Peterson at Oak Ridge, spent Sunday at home.

Elbe Gerdts and family were callers at C. E. Durck's Sunday.

Frank Bauer has been confined to his home for the past two weeks with rheumatism. He is not wholly recovered nor able to do any work as yet.

Charley and Elmer Brown were Grand Rapids shoppers Thursday and Friday. Their nephew, Robbie Brown came home with them for a few days visit.

J. B. White and E. Bass were callers at Israel Jero's Sunday evening. Mr. Bass favored those present with some very nice guitar music.

STGER. Eric Newman left on Monday for Iowa where on Tuesday he was married to Miss Mabel Paulson, a most estimable young lady of that place. Mr. Newman is a popular young man having held the position of principal of the Pleasant View School for the last four years. Mr. and Mrs. Newman will make Grand Rapids their home. The best wishes of all their friends are extended to them for a long and happy wedded life.

Miss Elsa Anderson is employed at the Mrs. home in Vesper.

Miss Beatie LaVigne and Eric Newman are about to be married here on Wednesday by giving the children a picnic.

Frank Larson is reported to be quite sick.

Mrs. M. Crumstedt and Eric Crumstedt of Grand Rapids spent Tuesday with relatives.

Wm. Kasie has just completed a new barn without basement.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Kubisak of your city spent Tuesday here.

Mrs. Hres is visiting her daughter at Grand Rapids.

Miss Sione Heden returned to your city after spending a week here.

Miss Ida Jacobson is visiting at the Chas. Johnson home in Grand Rapids.

Misses Edith Worland and Marie Hanlin are home from Grand Rapids where they have been attending high school.

Miss Anna Anderson left Monday for Minneapolis where she will be employed.

Gust Anderson has traded his horse to a party in Stevens Point.

Miss Dagmar Worland is home from Grand Rapids where she is attending school.

Miss Nettie Sedall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sedall, returned from Chicago where she has been employed the past several months. Miss Sedall had a most pleasant and splendid visit with her relatives.

ALFORD. Wm. Peters has purchased a new Ford automobile.

Laura Witpi closed a successful term of school in district No. 3, Hanson on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Marx visited in Grand Rapids Saturday.

Sophia Schiller has gone to Milwaukee on a visit and to attend the wedding of her cousin.

There was a birthday party at O. J. Leary's Tuesday evening in honor of the birthday of Ed. Leary and Wm. Leary. About a dozen of their friends were in attendance.

The town board will meet next Monday, June 12th, to lay out and let the electric line clearing and grading a road running south between sections 9 and 10-22-24 in to the farm of Robert Weeck.

The joint picnic of the Holstein and Guernsey breeders will be held Tuesday, June 13th, at the home of Chas. Tomfohrle, two miles northwest of Vesper. P. B. Pries of Richmond Center and H. D. Griswold of West Siden will be the principal speakers. There will also be other entertainments. Everybody is cordially invited to attend. A picnic dinner will be had.

The state aid road crew are at present working on the Walker-Grand Rapids road.

George Viertel is suffering from a case of polio ivy.

ARPIN. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Geronemeyer were surprised last Tuesday evening when a number of their friends walked in to help them celebrate their 40th Wedding Anniversary. Supper was served at 12 o'clock when the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Geronemeyer many more anniversaries.

Mrs. Walter Winebrenner spent Sunday with her mother-in-law.

Miss Lura Haerel closed her school in Hanson, District No. 2 Friday with a picnic. A large crowd was present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kurz and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Geronemeyer visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schroeder.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Tomfohrle visited Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Martin.

The neighbors surprise Grandpa Deering Saturday, it being his 72nd birthday.

Miss Hazel Martin spent Sunday with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Moffett and Mr. and Mrs. Louise Strack called at the Wm. Martin home Sunday.

Joe Peterson is around with a new horse and buggy.

Lena (fortified) left here to attend the Normal at your city for the rest of the term.

Miss Lydia Smallbrook spent Sunday with home folks.

Lena Reiber has come home from east of your city where she taught the Two Mile School and has closed her term.

MEPHAN. J. Clark of Linwood was a caller around here last Saturday.

The Wisconsin river is very high at this point again owing to the recent rains. The low ground is pretty wet for farming.

A good many are planting cucumbers again at this place as they will ship from here this year. Henry Lutz will take care of the business.

D. H. Parks is building a foundation for a new barn. Simpson Berry of Plover is doing the mason work.

A nine pound baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Beadle of Biron June 2nd. Mrs. Beadle was formerly Miss Addie Parks of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slack drove over near Coddington Sunday and called on friends.

MOCCASIN CREEK. Alvin Klasinger is building a fine large barn, the structure is 36x80. Clyde Winch and wife and Alvin Klasinger and Wilbur Perkins and wife and Emil Koch spent Sunday at the home of Wm. Winch.

Wedding bells are ringing in this vicinity.

Walter Beck and Edwin Haas spent Sunday at the home of M. Mroz. Miss Adams of La Crosse is visiting a few days at C. D. Johnston's.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Yager visited Sunday with the latter's mother, Mrs. Budde.

C. D. Johnston has a new car.

John Mroz and wife and Leon and the Mroz of Grand Rapids spent Sunday with their parents.

Chas. Koopman has started the foundation for his new barn.

Tony Wacholtz is busy building a house on his farm.

FLAT FOR RENT:—Joe Rick, phone 333.

AUTO OWNERS ATTENTION! The law requires that lights on automobiles be lit one hour after sunset. Many onto owners in the city are neglecting to comply with the law. It is very necessary that the tail lights be lit. Some automobile owners seem to think it is not necessary to light the tail lights commencing June 10th, the police will arrest all automobile drivers whose cars the lights are not lit, especially tail lights, during the prescribed time.

James Gibson, Chief of Police.

BIG SUMMER SPECIAL. Beginning on June 15th and extending until September 3rd, the Congregational Sunday School will conduct a "Big Summer Special" school at the usual hour (10 o'clock) every Sunday morning.

The Junior, Intermediate, Senior and Adult Departments will join the "Special" which will be conducted on entirely different lines than the regular school.

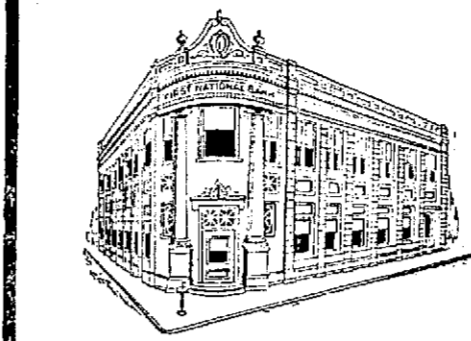

A program has been arranged covering the entire summer and every Sunday will be a "Surprise Sunday."

Prizes will be given the winners of the special "stunts" an dthiere will be something doing every minute of the one hour sessions.

SUDDEN DEATH OF BABY. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skarvin died very suddenly Thursday morning. In fact the death of the little one was not known until she was found dead in bed. The child was two months of age, and while she had not enjoyed very good health since her birth, she was apparently in as good health as usual.

The funeral was held on Saturday from the home, services being conducted by Rev. H. C. Lavan of the Methodist church.

Legal Blanks for sale at this office.

WE PAY TWO KINDS OF INTEREST

There are two kinds of interest—personal and 3 per cent - we pay both. Our officers take a personal interest in the financial affairs of our customers and are always glad to give you the benefit of their broad banking experience.

OPEN A SAVINGS ACCOUNT TODAY

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

June ECONOMY Sale

Commencing Thursday, June 8th, ending Wednesday, June 14th.

During this sale every department in our store will be represented with special bargains for the economical buyer. Read every item carefully.

Ladie's Dep.

Women's Coats and Suits Half Price

Your choice of any womans or misses spring coat or suit at exactly one-half the original price. We only have a few garments left, but every one is correct in style.

Women's Silk Dresses reduced 25 per cent

Beautiful new models in women's silk dresses now to be sold at a discount of 25 per cent.

Children's Coats Reduced 25 per cent

Any child's spring coat in our entire stock at a discount of 25 per cent. Make your selection now and save money.

Dry Goods Department

One ass't. Val. laces, 5c values, Economy Sale price per yard .....2c

50c Embroidered Convent Flouncing, 18 inches wide, Economy Sale Price per yard .....35c

One Lot Allover Embroideries, values 35c up to $2.00 per yard, Economy Sale price ONE HALF PRICE.

$1.25 Ladies Parasols, assorted colors, Economy Sale price each .....98c

One assortment Insertions, pretty designs, 2 to 3 inches wide, prices 25c to 75c per yard, Economy Sale price, ONE THIRD OFF REGULAR PRICE.

Ladies 10c Initial Handkerchiefs, good quality, Economy Sale price, each .....7c

24 inch white Crepes and dotted Mulls, values up to 24c. Your choice of this lot, per yard .....17c

10c Bleached Toweling, Economy Sale price, per yard .....8c

Silk Mescalines, good quality, plain colors, lengths from 2 yards to 8 yards, regular $1.25 and $1.50 values Economy Sale Price, per yard .....95c

$1.75 Taffeta Silks and Crepe de Chenes, $1.19. This lot consists of all good plain colors in 2 yard to 5 yard lengths and are $1.50 and $1.75 values, Economy Sale per yd. $1.19

Ladies $1.00 Union Suits, low neck, no sleeves, loose knee, all sizes, regular price $1.00, Economy sale price per suit .....78c

Ladies 15c Gauze Vests, low neck, no sleeves, Economy Sale price, each .....10c

Ladies 45c Hose 29c. This lot includes some black and some tan ladies hose, some of which formerly sold at prices up to 45c, Economy Sale price, per pair .....29c

Infants Tan Fibre Hose, sizes 4 to 6 1/2, 25c values, Economy Sale price, per pair .....18c

25c French Gingham 20c. A nice assortment of patterns to select from, regular 25c gingham, Economy Sale, per yd. 20c

One nice assortment of wash goods consisting of printed lawns and foulards, former prices 10c and 12 1/2c Economy Sale price, per yard .....8c

CALICO 6c YARD.—During this sale we will sell any of our standard calicoes either light or dark patterns at per yd. 6c

Carpent Department

6x8 feet bamboo porch shades, regular price $1.50, special at only .....98c

8x8 feet bamboo porch shades regular price $2.50, special at only .....$1.48

Bargain Basement

Children's Gingham and Percale Dresses 48c—Children's Dresses made of good quality gingham and percale, pretty styles, ages 6 to 14 years, each .....48c

$1.00 House Dresses 68c—Women's House Dresses in a good range of colors, all sizes, regular $1.00 values in our Bargain Basement, each .....68c

Women's and Misses' Coats and Suits $4.95.—One lot of Women's and Misses' Coats and Suits, sizes 34 to 42. Some of these garments were made to sell at prices up to $20.00. These garments are made of good materials but are not this seasons styles. Your choice of this lot at .....$4.95

Women's Coats and Suits at $2.95.—One lot of Women's Coats and Suits in a good assortment of colors and patterns. Sizes 14, 16, 18, 36 and 38. Your choice of this lot at .....$2.95

Silk Petticoats 98c—One lot of Women's Silk Petticoats in a good assortment of colors, now on sale in our Bargain Basement at each .....98c

Hardware Department

One lot of shears, this assortment includes cutters, trimmers, embroidery shears and manicure shears marked especially at ONE THIRD THE PRICE OFF.

One lot of Globe Safety Razors, regular $1.00 value, special at each .....64c

One lot of Chisel Handles, regular 10c values, while the lot lasts each .....6c

Crockery Department

25c Glass Sugar and Creamer, fancy cut. Special this week, per set .....13c

10c Japanese Baskets with decorated plate. Special this week at .....5c

Cut Glass Guest room sets with bottle and tumbler to match. Special at per set .....25c

Drug Department

Baby chick food—The perfect food for young chicks, geese, ducks, and turkeys. 6 1/2 pound package special this week .....43c

Keepex will keep eggs fresh for several months. Quart cans special this week .....39c

Camphor—Menthol Cream for sunburn and insect bites, regular 25c size special for this week .....19c

Shoe Department

$3.00 MEN'S OXFORDS AT $2.25

One lot of Men's Gun metal blutcher oxfords with full round toes, medium heels and all solid. All sizes, an exceptional $3.00 value for this sale only .....$2.25

One lot Men's Brown Calf Blutcher Oxfords with flexible "Bear Paw" leather soles and rubber heels, unlined. An ideal summer and outing oxford, a good $3.00 value for this sale only .....$2.25

$3.00 WOMEN'S PUMPS AND COLONIALS $2.35

Any pair of our $3.00 grade in Women's Pumps and Colonial Strap effects in our new, this seasons styles, including Patents, dolls, and bright kid leathers, all sizes and widths for this sale only .....$2.35

$3.00 WORTH FOR ONLY 50c

One large lot of Women's low cut styles, mostly small sizes in black and tan, odd pairs of discontinued lines which we wish to dispose of quickly. Most of these goods sold for $3.00 and some as high as $3.50 a pair. If you have a small foot and can wear a pair of these you are lucky. For this sale only .....50c

One lot Women's high grade Oxfords, Pumps and Strap effects in black and tan, odd pairs, and mostly small sizes but exceptionally good styles and quality. To close out quickly for this sale only .....$1.75

Clothing Dept.

Men's $10.00 Suits $5.85—30 Men's and Young Men's Suits, sizes 33 to 37, assorted patterns, value up to $10.00, June Economy Sale price $5.85

Men's 10c Work Sox, June Economy sale price 7c

Men's and Young Men's 50c Cuff Buttons, June Economy Sale price 39c

Men's and Young Men's 50c Belts, black, grey and tan, Economy Sale price 39c

Paint Department

60c Paint Brush free with one gallon of floor paint at per gallon .....$1.65

Only one brush to a customer.

45c Package Alabastine special this week .....38c

15c paint brushes special this week each .....9c

In our Grocery Dept.

The store that is always busy. Why?—Quality, Service and Prices.

PURE CANE SUGAR 6c THE POUND in this assortment.

10 lbs. Cane Sugar .....49c

1 lb. Santos coffee, ground or whole .....22c

7 lb. Arm & Hammer salaratus .....5c

1 lb. Big Store Baking Powder .....18c

6 lb. Bag fine table salt .....10c

1/4 lb. Pure Ground Pepper in carton .....10c

5 lb. package Probono Rolled Oats .....25c

1 only, four rows, rice root scrub brush .....10c

One pkg. only hard wood tooth picks .....5c

This assortment .....$1.85

HERE ARE A FEW SNAPS

Horseshoe Tea, a fancy uncolored Japan Tea, put up in one pound air tight packages only the pound .....35c

This tea is worth 50c.

Calumet Baking Powder, 2 1/2 pound cans .....43c

Dried Peaches, large, meaty fruit, per lb. .....6 1/2c

Fels Naphtha or P. G. Naphtha Soap, 6 bars .....25c

Peas and Corn canned, very good quality, per can .....7c

Sauer Kraut large 3 lb. can; extra good the can. ....8 1/2c

(If your stomach is not working right eat sauerkraut.)

GRAPE JUICE—If you want to build up your system drink plenty of Grape Juice it is the blood of the grape and will enrich your blood, quart bottle .....38c

PICNIC GOODS

20c Cans Van Kamps Pork and Beans .....16c

15c Cans Van Kamps Pork and Beans .....12c

10c Cans Van Kamps Pork and Beans .....8c

20c cans of Salmon .....17c

15c can of Salmon .....12c

12 1/2c cans of Salmon .....10c

10c Salmon .....8 1/2c

MR. FARMER:— We have all kinds of seed. Come to us for your flour, feed and salt. We pay the highest market price for eggs. We want them.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Save your cash sales slips, they are worth money to you.

We redeem and pay 2 per cent for cash slips when your slips aggregate $50.00 or more.